

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 14, Number 112.

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1914.

Price Two Cents

A GERMAN SUBMARINE SINKS A RUSSIAN CRUISER

ABANDON SIEGE OF PRZEMYSL

Russians Are Forced to Retire.

DRAWING UP NEW LINE

Lid Is Clamped Tight on All
News From Belgium.

London, Oct. 13.—The finger of the censor having twisted the tourniquet on all sources of news from Belgium, just now perhaps the most potentially important scene of the fighting in the great war, the British people were forced to content themselves with the official communication from Paris and even a close analysis showed no marked changes in the situation favoring either side.

From the East came tidings of a decided reversal in form, the dispatches, both from Vienna and Petrograd, indicating that the Austrian army at Przemyśl, so often reported surrounded, hopelessly outclassed and on the verge of surrender, have turned on the Russians, with the aid of reinforcements, and forced them to retreat.

The first news of this claim emanated from the Austrian capital. It was followed later by what purports to be a Petrograd admission that the Russians had abandoned the siege of Przemyśl for strategic reasons, with the object of drawing up a new line against the Austro-German army in other parts of Galicia.

Presages Important News.

Whatever may be the truth of the situation the Russians have been claiming an unbroken series of victories in their sweep through Galicia, and the coincidence of the dispatches, supplemented as they were by more circumstantial accounts from Vienna of a vigorous Austro-German offensive, seemed to presage important news.

The British and Belgian troops who retired from Antwerp before the German occupation, with the exception of those who now are interned on Dutch soil as a result of having crossed the border, have been swallowed up as completely as if they had been buried under the ruined forts.

For military reasons their positions and the area of hostilities in Belgium must remain obscure until the turn of events brings them sharply to the fore again, as was the case when, after the fall of Antwerp, the British public learned for the first time that British forces had assisted the garrison.

Optimistic as always the British press, besides contending that Antwerp is of no importance to Germany as a naval base, finds solace in the argument that the release of the allied troops there more than counterbalances the troops which Germany will send from that point into France.

Allies Lengthen Left Wing. The official communication from Paris indicated that the allies' left wing is stretching daily and nightly farther west and north and soon will reach the coast if the opposing sides continue throwing out cavalry in an endeavor to outflank or break through.

The allies make no claim to victory in the statement, which opens with the remark that these cavalry operations continue as far north and west as Hazebrouck, a point hardly more than a good day's walk from Calais.

When the allies reported that they had driven the Germans from Aire, London learned for the first time that the Germans had made substantial progress west from Arras, which they reached last week. Presumably the allies still hold the ground they say they have regained, but the Germans are throwing more men westward and are putting up a hard fight. The communication does not make plain which side holds the town nearest the coast.

Nowhere along the battle line do the allies say they have made any progress except in the center, on the right bank of the Aisne below Soissons. At two other points, notably between Oise and Arras and on the right in the Vosges, it is stated, the German attacks have been repulsed. Recruiting throughout Great Brit-

LORD CURZON.

Says Taking of Antwerp
Was Part of German Plan.

London, Oct. 13.—Lord Curzon of Kedleston, former viceroy of India, in a speech at a war meeting at Harrow school, said the taking of Antwerp was a deliberate part of the German plan.

"Germany has taken Antwerp to fortify it, to keep it, to make a great naval port of it, to use it as a great jumping off place for her future attempts upon this country," he said. "It is no temporary occupation unless we make it so."

ain, particularly in London, has been booming. It is stated, since the fall of Antwerp, the talk of the Germans advancing from there to Ostend having seemingly brought the war closer home in the minds of the people.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS IN EUROPE.

Occupation of Antwerp by the Germans has been followed, according to the latest reports, by the occupation of Ghent.

This would seem to confirm the German plan as it already has been outlined on a movement toward the coast, with Ostend as its objective.

It is pointed out by British military experts that it is Germany's intention to make a permanent stronghold of Antwerp to gain a position within easy reach of the English coast.

The fighting along the great line extending almost from the North sea to the German province of Lorraine continues with indefinite results.

German submarines again have come into prominence by the sinking of the Russian armored cruiser Pallada in the Baltic sea.

Russia is reported to have abandoned the siege of Przemyśl, the important European fortress in Galicia, and is lining up to meet a threatened attack by the Austro-German army.

MEETS A TERRIBLE DEATH

Refrigerator Mechanic Trapped in Burning Storehouse.

St. Paul, Oct. 13.—Trapped in a burning storehouse filled with cans of oil Samuel Goddard, machinist, was burned to death in the Northern Pacific roundhouse yards.

Fellow workmen, employed in the roundhouse only fifty feet away from the storehouse, made of two discarded box cars, saw the flash of flame and ran to battle the fire.

Only when the oilhouse boy, Charles Jones, cried out that Goddard was inside were they aware of his fate.

The roundhouse employees made futile efforts to subdue the blaze, but the building was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived.

NOT SERIOUSLY DAMAGED

Only One Section of Antwerp Hard Hit by German Guns.

London, Oct. 13.—"Antwerp was not seriously damaged by the German bombardment," says the Chronicle's Amsterdam correspondent. "Only the suburb of Berchem and the southeast quarter of the town suffered badly."

Long after they had been evacuated the Germans continued firing on and around the ruins of the blown up forts. They feared mines and hoped thus to destroy them. Near the southern suburbs the ground had been extensively mined by the Belgians, but the Germans were warned by traitors from within the city and took care to avoid the danger zone."

Special to Dispatch:

Petrograd, Oct. 13.—An official communication issued announces that on Oct. 11 the Russian armored cruiser Pallada, was torpedoed in the Baltic sea by a German submarine and sank with all her crew. The text of the communication, which was made public by the marine department follows:

"On Oct. 10 German submarines were sighted in the Baltic sea. The same day, early in the morning, the submarines attacked the cruiser Admiral Makarov, which had stopped to search a suspected bark flying the commercial flag of The Netherlands. "A submarine of the enemy launched several torpedos which luckily missed the mark, and caused no damage whatsoever to the cruiser.

"On Oct. 11, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the submarines of the enemy again attacked our cruisers Bayan and Pallada, which were patrolling the Baltic.

"Although the cruisers opened a very strong fire, one of the submarines succeeded in launching torpedos against the Pallada, whereupon an explosion resulted and the cruiser sank with all her crew."

The armored cruiser Pallada carried a complement of 563 men. She measured 443 feet and had a displacement of 7,775 tons. The Pallada carried two eight-inch guns, eight six-inch guns, eight six-inch guns, 22 12-pounders and four three-pounders in addition to torpedo tubes. She was laid down in 1905.

SERBIAN PRINCES WOUNDED IN THE WAR

Special to The Dispatch:—

London, Oct. 13, 11:30 A. M.—A report from Berlin says Crown Prince Alexander of Serbia, was slightly wounded and his brother Prince George mortally hurt in fighting against the Austrians.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT TO REMOVE TO FRANCE

Special to The Dispatch:—

Bordeaux, Oct. 13, 11:30 A. M.—It was decided to transfer the Belgian government to France in order that it may have full liberty of action. The foregoing was announced officially in Bordeaux today. Belgian officials are now on their way to Havre, where the French government has prepared temporary offices for them. King Albert remains at the head of the army.

CITY OF GHENT IS IN KAISER'S HANDS

London, Oct. 13, 2 A. M.—The Belgian city of Ghent is now occupied by the Germans, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Reuter agency. Uhlans have arrived at Selzaete, a short distance from Ghent, and the commander announced that 6,000 soldiers must be quartered in that village.

GERMAN FORCES THREATEN WARSAW

London, Oct. 13, 2:45 P. M.—Lille a town in northern France, which according to Paris advices was yesterday held by a territorial detachment, was attacked and occupied by German army corps, and is today the center of fighting on the western wing. On the Allied right wing, an artillery duel is in progress near Belgium, the French stronghold, according to advices from Zurich, Switzerland.

AID FOR SALVATION ARMY

Donor Offers $100,000 to Be Used in Work in European War.

New York, Oct. 13.—A conditional offer of $100,000 for relief work in the European war has been made to the Salvation Army, it was announced.

Neither the conditions nor the name of the donor was made public.

Commander Evangeline Booth also announced that steps have been taken to answer a call for aid from Holland, which is sheltering many refugees. The proposed plan has been taken up with the state department at Washington, it was stated.

LILLE ATTACKED, HELD BY GERMANS

Washington, Oct. 13, 2:45 P. M.—Warsaw, the capitol of Russian Poland, is threatened by German forces and may fall at any moment, according to an official dispatch to the American government today from one of its consuls who asked for instructions as to care for foreign interests during the expected period of occupancy.

LORD CHARLES FEARS SPIES

Beresford Convinced German System Still Exists in England.

London, Oct. 13.—Notwithstanding the reassuring statement issued by the home office last Thursday to the effect that the spy system established by Germany in this country has been completely broken up Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, retired, is convinced that it still exists and constitutes a grave menace to the safety of the country.

In a letter published Lord Charles calls on his countrymen to "take strong action with regard to the crowd of alien enemies in our midst." He urges that meetings be held in every town and that resolutions be adopted protesting against the present state of affairs and sent to the prime minister."

BRYAN HURRYING PEACE TREATIES

Secretary of State Confers With Several Senators.

CONVENTION WITH RUSSIA

Senate Will Probably Act on Pact With Czar's Government and Several Others of a Similar Nature. Treaty With Nicaragua Seems Destined to Meet With Some Opposition.

Washington, Oct. 13.—A peace commission treaty, the twenty-seventh to be negotiated by the United States government, has been signed by Secretary Bryan and Gonzales Cordova, minister from Ecuador. Nineteen of these have been ratified by the United States senate.

Urging further action by the senate on pending treaties before adjournment of congress Secretary Bryan conferred with members of the committee on foreign relations and succeeded in getting favorable action on the recently negotiated peace commission convention with Russia, which will be ratified soon.

Consideration of similar treaties with San Domingo, Panama and China will also be urged, having already been approved by the committee and held up in the senate.

Secretary Bryan's visit to the Capitol was chiefly in the interest of the long pending treaty with Nicaragua, whereby the United States would obtain title to the Nicaraguan canal route and naval station rights of the Bay of Fonseca for a consideration of $3,000,000.

The treaty has been recommended by a subcommittee with a stipulation that Nicaragua use the proposed proceeds for the payment of certain claims and debts.

There seemed little prospect that the treaty would be pressed at this time. Senators Smith of Michigan, Borah and other Republicans of the committee served notice that they would prevent adjustment by a prolonged fight on the treaty should it be reported by a majority.

SMALLER GOLD PRODUCTION

Output of $88,824,400 in 1913 Is $4,500,000 Less Than in 1912.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Gold production in the United States in 1913 amounted to 4,299,784 fine ounces, valued at $88,824,400, according to statistics compiled by the geological survey and the mint bureau. The silver production amounted to 66,801,500 fine ounces, valued at $40,348,100.

The gold production was $4,500,000 less than in 1912 and silver nearly 3,500,000 ounces less for the same period.

California was first in gold production with 979,174 ounces, Colorado second with 876,957 ounces, and Alaska third with 735,264 ounces. Nevada led in silver production with 15,657,400 ounces. Montana was second with 12,540,000 ounces, and Utah third with 11,282,300 ounces.

ARE INTERNED IN HOLLAND

Twenty-two Thousand Belgian and British Soldiers.

London, Oct. 13.—Altogether 22,000 British and Belgian soldiers are interned at different points in Holland. Nearly 1,500 of these men are British. This statement has been made by the Dutch war office.

Bodies of men belonging to the naval brigade which took part in the defense of Antwerp have arrived at the English channel port of Deal.

Immense crowds greeted them at the station and as they marched down the street headed by a brass band.

The marines, all wearing khaki uniforms, appeared weary, but otherwise seemed fit.

G TOWARD YPRES

German Columns Passing Through Baillieu.

London, Oct. 13.—A Times correspondent in the north of France under date of Monday reports strong German columns of all arms are passing through Baillieu (department of the Nord, near the Belgian frontier) in the direction of Ypres (in West Flanders, Belgium, thirty miles southwest of Bruges).

"Around the latter town the Germans have concentrated in very large numbers."

CATCHER GOWDY.

Makes a Home Run
for Boston Braves.

Photo by American Press Association.

BOSTON BRAVES WIN AGAIN

Secure Three Successive Victories Over Philadelphia Athletics.

Boston, Oct. 13.—In one of the most sensational games ever played in a world's series the Boston Braves defeated the Philadelphia Athletics at Fenway park by a score of 5 to 4. Twelve innings of thrilling baseball were necessary before the National league representatives could record their third successive victory of the present series.

For three hours and six minutes the two teams alternately led, tied or forged ahead in the score and the game that began in bright sunlight was won in deep twilight with electric signs flashing outside the park and the evening star glimmering overhead.

Catcher Gowdy made a home run for the Braves in the tenth inning.

AUSTRIAN GENERALS LOSE THEIR POSTS

Five Army Corps Commanders
Are Removed.

Venice, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Vienna announces the sudden removal of the commanders of five Austrian army corps and the appointment of General Svetozar Borisevic as the new commander of the third army.

The commanders dismissed are Generals Baron Giese von Gieslingen of the Eighth army corps; Kolosvary von Kolosvary of the Eleventh army corps and Meixner von Zweinstann of the Seventh army corps and the commanders of the Sixth and Seventeenth corps.

The newly appointed commanders are Generals Arz, Sixth corps; Grieler, Seventh corps; Scheuchstuel, Eighth corps; Lieubic, Eleventh corps, and Kritek, Seventeenth corps. It is officially stated that the commanders retired on their own request because of reasons of health. The newspapers of Vienna make no comment on the changes.

PROUD OF THEIR AVIATORS

Austrian Flyers Cover 12,000 Miles in Machines.

Rome, Oct. 13.—The Austrians are proud of their aviators, who since the beginning of the war have covered 12,000 miles in their machines without being caught by the Russians, according to dispatches received here. The airmen have done good scouting service.

PRESENTS HIS CREDENTIALS

New Italian Ambassador Is Introduced to President Wilson.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Machi Decelli, the new Italian ambassador, presented his credentials to President Wilson. He was introduced by Secretary Bryan. Short addresses dwelling on the good relations between Italy and the United States were exchanged by the president and the ambassador.

POLITICIANS TRY TO POSTPONE TAX

Would Not Pass Revenue Bill
Until After Elections.

WILSON RUSHES MEASURE.

Administration Now Willing to Allow Representatives to Leave Washington, but Senators Must Stay Until Emergency Bill Is in Shape—Philippine Legislation Displeases Some.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—There are shrewd politicians connected with the administration who would be perfectly willing to have the war revenue bill go over until after election, as they believe that it will prove more unpopular after being put into effect than if merely threatening. For that reason they do not care particularly whether the senate passes the bill now or lets it go over. It is not believed that President Wilson himself is giving encouragement to any such idea, although men close to him are doing so.

The administration is perfectly willing that the members of the house shall leave Washington any time now. So far as the house is concerned, the administration is satisfied with its work. But the president cannot consent to the adjournment of the senate until the revenue bill has been passed.

Would Welcome a Filibuster. These Democratic politicians feel that it would be far better for the Republicans to filibuster on the tariff bill or debate it at great length, because they do not believe what is said under such conditions will reach far, while the actual effects of the revenue increase, coming directly upon the people, who must pay, would be unpopular. There is nothing that these administration politicians would like better than to filibuster or debate on the revenue bill, which would postpone action until it until after the election.

Democrats Not Pleased.

There are quite a large number of Democrats in congress who were not pleased with the Philippine legislation. Some of them, like Shirley of Kentucky and Murray of Oklahoma, did not like it because it promised too much in the preamble. Others, intense party men, were displeased because the bill did not go further and provide for independence of the islands at once, or at least fix a definite time for granting them independence. These claimed that the party platform was not being carried out. Nearly all the Democrats supported the bill, however, because it was approved by the president in the form in which it was presented.

A Sympathetic Senator.

At one stage of the trust legislation Senator Weeks undertook to show Senator Martine that he had gone off wrong in making up his mind about what would help or hurt the small man in manufacturing.

"My sympathies are easily reached," said the New Jersey senator in reply. "Perhaps some of my fellow senators here have discovered it."

Well, of course, they had. For a long time there was a disposition to treat Martine rather offishly on account of the manner in which he broke into the debates and for what he said, but as senators came to know him better they have grown to like him very much.

Leasing Wasteful.

"The leasing system is the most wasteful of all, particularly in the matter of public properties," declared Senator Lane of Oregon in opposing the Alaska coal leasing bill. He went on to explain that the lessees would take out the best of the properties; they would not carefully timber the mines and would not keep up repairs or conserve the property.

"That is certainly a new idea to spring upon this system, which has been devised by the conservationists as the keystone of their scheme for husbanding the national resources. To have the system criticised by a practical man caused a great deal of surprise."

FRENCH BOMBARD CATTARO

Cannon of Long Range Are Placed on Mountain Top.

Rome, Oct. 13.—The French embassy here has issued a communication saying that the French cannon of long range landed at Antivari, Sept. 22, have all been transported to the top of Mount Lovchen, from which a bombardment of Cattaro, Dalmatia, has begun.

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

Volume 14, Number 112.

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1914.

Price Two Cents

A GERMAN SUBMARINE SINKS A RUSSIAN CRUISER

ABANDON SIEGE OF PRZEMYSL

Russians Are Forced to Retire.

DRAWING UP NEW LINE

Lid Is Clamped Tight on All
News From Belgium.

London, Oct. 13.—The finger of the censor having twisted the tourniquet on all sources of news from Belgium, just now perhaps the most potentially important scene of the fighting in the great war, the British people were forced to content themselves with the official communication from Paris and even a close analysis showed no marked changes in the situation favoring either side.

From the East came tidings of a decided reversal in form, the dispatches, both from Vienna and Petrograd, indicating that the Austrian army at Przemyśl, so often reported surrounded, hopelessly outclassed and on the verge of surrender, have turned on the Russians, with the aid of reinforcements, and forced them to retreat.

The first news of this claim emanated from the Austrian capital. It was followed later by what purports to be a Petrograd admission that the Russians had abandoned the siege of Przemyśl for strategic reasons, with the object of drawing up a new line against the Austro-German army in other points in Galicia.

Presages Important News.

Whatever may be the truth of the situation the Russians have been claiming an unbroken series of victories in their sweep through Galicia, and the coincidence of the dispatches, supplemented as they were by more circumstantial accounts from Vienna of a vigorous Austro-German offensive, seemed to presage important news.

The British and Belgian troops who retired from Antwerp before the German occupation, with the exception of those who now are interned on Dutch soil as a result of having crossed the border, have been swallowed up as completely as if they had been buried under the ruined fort.

For military reasons their positions and the area of hostilities in Belgium must remain obscure until the turn of events brings them sharply to the fore again, as was the case when, after the fall of Antwerp, the British public learned for the first time that British forces had assisted the garrison.

Optimistic as always the British press, besides contending that Antwerp is of no importance to Germany as a naval base, finds solace in the argument that the release of the allied troops there more than counterbalances the troops which Germany will send from that point into France.

Allies Lengthen Left Wing.

The official communication from Paris indicated that the allies' left wing is stretching daily and nightly farther west and north and soon will reach the coast if the opposing sides continue throwing out cavalry in an endeavor to outflank or break through. The allies make no claim to victory in the statement, which opens with the remark that these cavalry operations continue as far north and west as Hazebrouck, a point hardly more than a good day's walk from Calais.

When the allies reported that they had driven the Germans from Aire, London learned for the first time that the Germans had made substantial progress west from Armentieres, which they reached last week. Presumably the allies still hold the ground they say they have regained, but the Germans are throwing more men westward and are putting up a hard fight. The communication does not make plain which side holds the town nearest the coast.

Nowhere along the battle line do the allies say they have made any progress except in the center, on the right bank of the Aisne below Soissons. At two other points, notably between Oisse and Arras and on the right in the Vosges, it is stated, German attacks have been repulsed.

Recruiting throughout Great Brit-

LORD CURZON.

Says Taking of Antwerp
Was Part of German Plan.

London, Oct. 13.—Earl Curzon of Kedleston, former viceroy of India, in a speech at a war meeting at Harrow school, said the taking of Antwerp was a deliberate part of the German plan.

"Germany has taken Antwerp to fortify it, to keep it, to make a great naval port of it, to use it as a great jumping off place for her future attempts upon this country," he said. "It is no temporary occupation unless we make it so."

ain, particularly in London, has been booming. It is stated, since the fall of Antwerp, the talk of the Germans advancing from there to Ostend having seemingly brought the war closer home in the minds of the people.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS IN EUROPE.

Occupation of Antwerp by the Germans has been followed, according to the latest reports, by the occupation of Ghent.

This would seem to confirm the German plan as it already has been outlined on a movement toward the coast, with Ostend as its objective. It is pointed out by British military experts that it is Germany's intention to make a permanent stronghold of Antwerp to gain a position within easy reach of the English coast.

The fighting along the great line extending almost from the North sea to the German province of Lorraine continues with indefinite results.

German submarines again have come into prominence by the sinking of the Russian armored cruiser Pallada in the Baltic sea.

Russia is reported to have abandoned the siege of Przemyśl, the important European fortress in Galicia, and is lining up to meet a threatened attack by the Austro-German army.

MEETS A TERRIBLE DEATH

Russian Machinist Trapped in Burning Storehouse.

St. Paul, Oct. 13.—Trapped in a burning storehouse filled with cans of oil Samuel Goddard, machinist, was burned to death in the Northern Pacific roundhouse yards.

Fellow workmen, employed in the roundhouse only fifty feet away from the storehouse, made of two discarded box cars, saw the flash of flame and ran to battle the fire.

Only when the oilhouse boy, Charles Jones, cried out that Goddard was inside were they aware of his fate.

The roundhouse employees made futile efforts to subdue the blaze, but the building was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived.

NOT SERIOUSLY DAMAGED

Only One Section of Antwerp Hard Hit by German Guns.

London, Oct. 13.—"Antwerp was not seriously damaged by the German bombardment," says the Chronicle's Amsterdam correspondent. "Only the suburb of Berchem and the southeast quarter of the town suffered badly."

Long after they had been evacuated the Germans continued firing on and around the ruins of the blown up forts. They feared mines and hoped thus to destroy them. Near the southern suburbs the ground had been extensively mined by the Belgians, but the Germans were warned by traitors from within the city and took care to avoid the danger zone.

Special to Dispatch:

Petrograd, Oct. 13.—An official communication issued announces that on Oct. 11 the Russian armored cruiser Pallada, was torpedoed in the Baltic sea by a German submarine and sank with all her crew. The text of the communication, which was made public by the marine department follows:

"On Oct. 10 German submarines were sighted in the Baltic sea. The same day, early in the morning, the submarines attacked the cruiser Admiral Makarov, which had stopped to search a suspected bark flying the commercial flag of The Netherlands. A submarine of the enemy launched several torpedoes which luckily missed the mark, and caused no damage whatsoever to the cruiser.

"On Oct. 11, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the submarines of the enemy again attacked our cruisers Bayan and Pallada, which were patrolling the Baltic.

"Although the cruisers opened a very strong fire, one of the submarines succeeded in launching torpedoes against the Pallada, whereupon an explosion resulted and the cruiser sank with all her crew."

The armored cruiser Pallada carried a complement of 563 men. She measured 443 feet and had a displacement of 7,775 tons. The Pallada carried two eight-inch guns, eight six-inch guns, eight six-inch guns, 22 12-pounders and four three-pounders in addition to torpedo tubes. She was laid down in 1905.

SERBIAN PRINCES WOUNDED IN THE WAR

Special to The Dispatch:

London, Oct. 13, 11:30 A. M.—A report from Berlin says Crown Prince Alexander of Serbia, was slightly wounded and his brother Prince George mortally hurt in fighting against the Austrians.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT TO REMOVE TO FRANCE

Special to The Dispatch:

Bordeaux, Oct. 13, 11:30 A. M.—It was decided to transfer the Belgian government to France in order that it may have full liberty of action. The foregoing was announced officially in Bordeaux today. Belgian officials are now on their way to Havre, where the French government has prepared temporary offices for them. King Albert remains at the head of the army.

CITY OF GHENT IS IN KAISER'S HANDS

London, Oct. 13, 2 A. M.—The Belgian city of Ghent is now occupied by the Germans, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Reuter agency. Uhlans have arrived at Selzate, a short distance from Ghent, and the commander announced that 6,000 soldiers must be quartered in that village.

GERMAN FORCES THREATEN WARSAW

London, Oct. 13, 2:45 P. M.—Lille a town in northern France, which according to Paris advices was yesterday held by a territorial detachment, was attacked and occupied by German army corps, and is today the center of fighting on the western wing. On the Allied right wing, an artillery duel is in progress near Belfort, the French stronghold, according to advices from Zurich, Switzerland.

AID FOR SALVATION ARMY

Donor Offers $100,000 to Be Used in Work in European War.

New York, Oct. 13.—A conditional offer of $100,000 for relief work in the European war has been made to the Salvation Army. It was announced.

Neither the conditions nor the name of the donor was made public.

Commander Evangeline Booth also announced that steps have been taken to answer a call for aid from Holland, which is sheltering many refugees. The proposed plan has been taken up with the state department at Washington, it was stated.

LILLE ATTACKED, HELD BY GERMANS

Washington, Oct. 13, 2:45 P. M.—Warsaw, the capital of Russian Poland, is threatened by German forces and may fall at any moment, according to an official dispatch to the American government today from one of its consuls who asked for instructions as to care for foreign interests during the expected period of occupancy.

LORD CHARLES FEARS SPIES

Beresford Convinced German System Still Exists in England.

London, Oct. 13.—Notwithstanding the reassuring statement issued by the home office last Thursday to the effect that the spy system established by Germany in this country has been completely broken up Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, retired, is convinced that it still exists and constitutes a grave menace to the safety of the country.

In a letter published Lord Charles calls on his countrymen to "take strong action with regard to the crowd of alien enemies in our midst." He urges that meetings be held in every town and that resolutions be adopted protesting against the present state of affairs and sent to the prime minister.

BRYAN HURRYING PEACE TREATIES

Secretary of State Confers With Several Senators.

CONVENTION WITH RUSSIA

Senate Will Probably Act on Pact With Czar's Government and Several Others of a Similar Nature. Treaty With Nicaragua Seems Destined to Meet With Some Opposition.

Washington, Oct. 13.—A peace commission treaty, the twenty-seventh to be negotiated by the United States government, has been signed by Secretary Bryan and Gonzales Cordova, minister from Ecuador. Nineteen of these have been ratified by the United States senate.

Urging further action by the senate on pending treaties before adjournment of congress Secretary Bryan conferred with members of the committee on foreign relations and succeeded in getting favorable action on the recently negotiated peace commission convention with Russia, which will be ratified soon.

Consideration of similar treaties with San Domingo, Panama and China will also be urged, having already been approved by the committee and held up in the senate.

Secretary Bryan's visit to the Capitol was chiefly in the interest of the long pending treaty with Nicaragua, whereby the United States would obtain title to the Nicaraguan canal route and naval station rights of the Bay of Fonseca for a consideration of $3,000,000.

The treaty has been recommended by a subcommittee with a stipulation that Nicaragua use the proposed proceeds for the payment of certain claims and debts.

There seemed little prospect that the treaty would be pressed at this time. Senators Smith of Michigan, Borah and other Republicans of the committee served notice that they would prevent adjustment by a prolonged fight on the treaty should it be reported by a majority.

SMALLER GOLD PRODUCTION

Output of $88,884,400 in 1913 Is $4,500,000 Less Than in 1912.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Gold production in the United States in 1913 amounted to 4,299,784 fine ounces, valued at $88,884,400, according to statistics compiled by the geological survey and the mint bureau. The silver production amounted to 66,801,500 fine ounces, valued at $40,348,100.

The gold production was $4,500,000 less than in 1912 and silver nearly 3,500,000 ounces less for the same period.

California was first in gold production with 979,174 ounces, Colorado second with 876,057 ounces, and Alaska third with 735,364 ounces. Nevada led in silver production with 15,657,400 ounces. Montana was second with 12,540,000 ounces, and Utah third with 11,282,300 ounces.

ARE INTERNED IN HOLLAND

Twenty-two Thousand Belgian and British Soldiers.

London, Oct. 13.—Altogether 22,000 British and Belgian soldiers are interned at different points in Holland. Nearly 1,500 of these men are British. This statement has been made by the Dutch war office.

Bodies of men belonging to the naval brigade which took part in the defense of Antwerp have arrived at the English channel port of Deal.

Immense crowds greeted them at the station and as they marched down the street headed by a brass band. The marines, all wearing khaki uniforms, appeared weary, but otherwise seemed fit.

G TOWARD YPRES

German Columns Passing Through Baillieu.

London, Oct. 13.—A Times correspondent in the north of France under date of Monday reports strong German columns of all arms are passing through Baillieu (department of the Nord, near the Belgian frontier) in the direction of Ypres (in West Flanders, Belgium, thirty miles southwest of Bruges).

"Around the latter town the Germans have concentrated in very large numbers."

CATCHER GOWDY.

Makes a Home Run
for Boston Braves.

Photo by American Press Association.

BOSTON BRAVES WIN AGAIN

Secure Three Successive Victories Over Philadelphia Athletics.

Boston, Oct. 13.—In one of the most sensational games ever played in a world's series the Boston Braves defeated the Philadelphia Athletics at Fenway park by a score of 5 to 4. Twelve innings of thrilling baseball were necessary before the National league representatives could record their third successive victory of the present series.

For three hours and six minutes the two teams alternately led, tied or forged ahead in the score and the game that began in bright sunlight was won in deep twilight with electric signs flashing outside the park and the evening star glimmering overhead.

Catcher Gowdy made a home run for the Braves in the tenth inning.

AUSTRIAN GENERALS LOSE THEIR POSTS

Five Army Corps Commanders
Are Removed.

Venice, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Vienna announces the sudden removal of the commanders of five Austrian army corps and the appointment of General Svetozar Borisevic as the new commander of the third army.

The commanders dismissed are Generals Baron Giese von Glesingen of the eighth army corps; Kolosvary von Kolosvar of the eleventh army corps; and Meixner von Zweinstann of the seventh army corps and the commanders of the sixth and seventh corps.

The newly appointed commanders are Generals Arz, Sixth corps; Grieler, Seventh corps; Scheuchemstuel, Eighth corps; Lubicic, Eleventh corps, and Kritek, Seventeenth corps. It is officially stated that the commanders retired on their own request because of reasons of health. The newspapers of Vienna make no comment on the changes.

PROUD OF THEIR AVIATORS

Austrian Flyers Cover 12,000 Miles in Machines.

Rome, Oct. 13.—The Austrians are proud of their aviators, who since the beginning of the war have covered 12,000 miles in their machines without being caught by the Russians, according to dispatches received here. The airmen have done good scouting service.

PRESENTS HIS CREDENTIALS

New Italian Ambassador Is Introduced to President Wilson.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Machi Decelli, the new Italian ambassador, presented his credentials to President Wilson. He was introduced by Secretary Bryan. Short addresses dwelling on the good relations between Italy and the United States were exchanged by the president and the ambassador.

POLITICIANS TRY TO POSTPONE TAX

Would Not Pass Revenue Bill
Until After Elections.

WILSON RUSHES MEASURE.

Administration Now Willing to Allow Representatives to Leave Washington, but Senators Must Stay Until Emergency Bill Is in Shape—Philippine Legislation Displeases Some.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—There are shrewd politicians connected with the administration who would be perfectly willing to have the war revenue bill go over until after election, as they believe that it will prove more unpopular after being put into effect than if merely threatening. For that reason they do not care particularly whether the senate passes the bill now or lets it go over. It is not believed that President Wilson himself is giving encouragement to any such idea, although men close to him are doing so.

The administration is perfectly willing that the members of the house shall leave Washington any time now. So far as the house is concerned, the administration is satisfied with its work. But the president cannot consent to the adjournment of the senate until the revenue bill has been passed.

Would Welcome a Filibuster.

These Democratic politicians feel that it would be far better for the Republicans to filibuster on the tariff bill or debate it at great length, because they do not believe what is said under such conditions will reach far, while the actual effects of the revenue increase, coming directly upon the people, who must pay, would be unpopular. There is nothing that these administration politicians would like better than to filibuster or debate on the revenue bill, which would postpone action upon it until after the election.

Democrats Not Pleased.

There are quite a large number of Democrats in congress who were not pleased with the Philippine legislation. Some of them, like Sherley of Kentucky and Murray of Oklahoma, did not like it because it promised too much in the preamble. Others, intense party men, were displeased because the bill did not go further and provide for independence of the islands at once, or at least fix a definite time for granting them independence. These claimed that the party platform was not being carried out. Nearly all the Democrats supported the bill, however, because it was approved by the president in the form in which it was presented.

A Sympathetic Senator.

At one stage of the trust legislation Senator Weeks undertook to show Senator Martine that he had gone off wrong in making up his mind about what would help or hurt the small man in manufacturing.

"My sympathies are easily reached," said the New Jersey senator in reply. "Perhaps some of my fellow senators here have discovered it."

Well, of course, they had. For a long time there was a disposition to treat Martine rather offhensively on account of the manner in which he broke into the debates and for what he said, but as senators came to know him better they have grown to like him very much.

Leasing Wasteful.

"The leasing system is the most wasteful of all, particularly in the matter of public properties," declared Senator Lane of Oregon in opposing the Alaska coal leasing bill. He went on to explain that the lessees would take out the best of the properties; they would not carefully timber the mines and would not keep up repairs or conserve the property.

That is certainly a new idea to spring upon this system, which has been devised by the conservationists as the keystone of their scheme for husbanding the national resources. To have the system criticised by a practical man caused a great deal of surprise.

FRENCH BOMBARD CATTARO

Cannon of Long Range Are Placed on Mountain Top.

Rome, Oct. 13.—The French embassy here has issued a communication saying that the French cannon of long range landed at Antivari, Sept. 23, have all been transported to the top of Mount Lovcen, from which a bombardment of Cattaro, Dalmatia, has begun.

A. F. GROVES, M. D.

Practice Limited to Ear, Nose, and Throat
GLASSES FITTED CORRECTLY
See Iron Exchange Building

G. INGERSOLL, D. D. S.
DENTIST

204 Iron Exchange Bldg.
BRAINERD, MINN.

WILSON & BANE
GENERAL INSURANCE

Only best companies represented.
Your Business Solicited
Room 6 Bane Block

T. C. BLEWITT
LAWYER

Practice in all Courts
Established 1899
COLLECTIONS AND INSURANCE
DEPARTMENTS
217-218 Iron Exchange Bldg.
BRAINERD, MINNESOTA

DR. C. D. BLACKFORD
OSTEOPATH

Treatments - - - $1.00
Consultation Free
Sleeper Block

MAUDE GIRAULT SMALLEY

TEACHER OF SINGING
Thursday and Friday Mornings
223 N. 7th St. Phone 304-L

WHOLESALE
to Consumer

Where is High Cost of Living? Not Here! Week End Sale

Greening Apples, 3 1/2 lb. peck. 35c
Sugar, 14 lbs. for $1.00
100 lb. best flour $3.00
Concord Grapes, basket. 22c
6 lbs. sweet potatoes. 25c
25c Package Rolled Oats only 20c
4 Packages Corn Wafers, none better 25c
10 lb. can Cara Syrup 45c
Gallon pickling vinegar 25c
Bulk coffee, 20c lb. or 6 lbs. $1.00

L. J. CALE

Your Pictures Enlarged by our
New Process

Work Cannot be Excelled
Prices Very Reasonable
A. M. Opsahl
Photographer
Seventh St. Brainerd, Minn.

THE WEATHER

Temperature record taken at Gull dam by caretaker, Arthur L.
Amel.
Oct. 12, Maximum 50, minimum
38. Rainfall 4 hundredths inches.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

For Sale Mill wood. Phone 96-R.
Dr. R. J. Sewall, of Crosby, was in the city today.

T. F. Cole, of Deerwood, was in the city yesterday.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big
Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday
and Saturday. 11213

J. H. Quinlivan, of Deerwood, was in the city today.

Charles Ilse went to Wahpeton, N.
D., this afternoon.

Have you seen Wink the Wizard?
107tf

Sam Chern, of Little Falls, was in Brainerd yesterday.

For houses, lots, lands, see Nettleton d60-4f

A. N. Jacobs went on the range yesterday afternoon.

Phone 359L for DRY millwood.—
Advt. 1784f

Carl Zapffe went to St. Paul on the afternoon train.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big
Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday
and Saturday. Big special bargains
for each day. 11213

H. W. Linnemann went to the twin cities this afternoon.

P. E. Wideman, of Pine River, was a Brainerd visitor today.

For SPRING WATER Phone 264.
—Advt. 244tf

At the city hall the brick work has been started on the main floor level.

The water and light board will meet on the fourth Wednesday, Oct.
28.

Twenty-five Base Burner stoves for sale or rent at D. M. Clark & Co.
110tf

J. F. Elder, of Madison, Wis., has been in the city attending to business matters.

Pay off your city or farm mortgage with a new loan at 3 per cent.
Security National Loan company.
26tf

Edward R. Syverson, John H. Hill and M. B. Ehlingson, of Ironton, were Brainerd visitors today.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big
Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday
and Saturday. 11213

Isaac Sall, attending to business matter at the county seat, returned to Crosby Monday afternoon.

Mrs. W. A. Fleming has returned from St. Paul where she attended the convention of the Episcopal church.

Before buying see D. M. Clark &
Co's nickel plated bath room fixtures and mirrors.—Advt. 97tf

Mrs. Wm. Nelson today arrived in New York city from Norway, where she has been visiting the last five months.

S. F. Alderman went into the north country Monday afternoon campaigning. He carried his lunch basket with him.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big
Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday
and Saturday. 11213

Frank Cannon, of Woodrow, was in the city today and said he was the only man in his town who bet on Boston to win the series. He wore a large smile on his face.

Lost, white and black spotted cow, good heavy Holstein cow. J. W.
Koop, 323 North Broadway. 11043p

W. A. Rouchleau and Louis Rouch-leau of Minneapolis, interested on the extreme north range, were in Brainerd today. They have three drills at work near Emily.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big
Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday
and Saturday. Big special bargains
for each day. 11213

The repairing department of the E.
R. Smith Auto garage is now conducted by Albert Peterson, who solicits all kinds of auto repairing. First class work guaranteed. 11214

Wilber Bissonett has returned from St. Paul where he attended the funeral of his brother, Clifford Bissonett, who fell from a balloon while making an ascension at Red Wing.

Regular Meeting
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Wednesday Eve.
Oct. 14th, 8 p. m.

Judd Wright has made a great success with his 40 acre potato farm in West Brainerd. He raised Burbanks and Early Ohio and sold nine carloads. They were all of fine quality and were bought by S. B. Ferguson, agent of J. R. Begg & Co., of St. Paul.
Mr. Wright did his farming alone and without any expert assistance.

War on high prices! Go to Gustafson and get the best value for your money in groceries. 49 lb. sack patent flour $1.50. Cider vinegar, gallon, 25c. White vinegar, gallon,
20c. Six pounds rolled oats, 25c.
Three packages cornflakes, 25c. Gloss starch package 8c. Three cans corn, 25c. Delivered any part of city. K.
A. Gustafson, 1626 East Oak St.—
Advt. 1t

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big
Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday
and Saturday. Big special bargains
for each day. 11213

Strayed to my farm, three spring calves, one black and white, one is white and one white with red head.
Owner pay advertising and other costs. Matt Elsel, farm located midway between Fort Ripley and Brainerd, about 10 miles from Brainerd.
110 13 d-W 1t

MUSIC AND DRAMAAt the Columbia

Not often do we find the different parts of a rather complicated story of this kind co-ordinated with more skill than in "The Vampire's Trail," the fifth of the Alice Joyce series.
There is a demand for sensations but unfortunately some producers think that they can string thrills on reels of film without stint, and turn out a real picture. Those who are acquainted with audiences know that an interesting story is better than mere thrills. There are thrills in the "Vampire's Trail". It is a sensational story containing good acting, fine photography and interesting back grounds. It also starts with a good situation clearly started and in its development, the camera, like a finger of light points here and there picking out the incident that is logically next in order so there is no unpleasant "seesawing" of the attention, a fault frequently found with hastily produced plays. Another drama and a Lubin comedy completes the program. Mary Pickford this week will be seen in "The Mender of Nets" on Thursday and Friday.

At the Grand

Tonight is the last of Ford Sterling this week, also "Trey O' Hearts."
Don't miss tonight's bill as it is a drawing card from the start.

Wednesday and Thursday the Grand will again present the European War Slides, direct from the American Press association. These are the only authentic picture news which the world has received and we have these wonderful slides exclusive. Watch our war photo boards. Along with slides we have "Allah 3311", a wonderful three reel feature laid in the Orient. Don't forget our dollar bills given every night for 10c.

DISPATCH ADS PAY—TRY ONE

Exclusive agents for MUNSING WEAR for Women and Children

FINE QUALITY, NON-IRRITATING, UNION SUITS
WORLD FAMOUS FOR FIT, DURABILITY AND WASHABILITY

We consider ourselves fortunate in having the agency for Munsingwear, and in always being able to satisfy our most particular customer with Munsingwear.
Wear them—you will like them.

All Styles in All Sizes for All Ages

Murphy's
THE STORE OF QUALITY

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Around Brainerd, Crow Wing County and the State, Gleaned From Exchanges on Our Table

Carlton reports cattle thieves.

Park Rapids will spend $5495 for a sewer system.

The Benton county fair association cleared $1,100 at the annual meet.

The first store building erected at Remer has burned at a loss of $7000.

The Standard Oil company is to install a distributing plant at Glyndon.

C. W. Smith, of the Svea hotel, Virginia, paid $50 and costs for having venison in his possession.

The estate of the late G. S. Barnes, of Clay county, must pay an inheritance tax of nearly $2,700.

The general store at Clear Lake was robbed of $300 worth of merchandise on Saturday night.

Burglars entered the postoffice and a store at Garfield last Friday night and only secured $7 or $8 all told.

There were 12,167 pensioners in Minnesota at the last payment and they were paid $2,672,846 in the fiscal year.

The school board of East Grand Forks recently made their annual levy—$27,000—for the support of their schools.

Weekly visits to alleys and basements are to be made by the fire marshal at St. Cloud in the future. Fire protection day has had its effect.

Tony Janus tried to suicide with mercury pills at Virginia because his wife and her mother refused to let him see his baby daughter. He will live to regret it.

Five car loads of stock and machinery were moved onto his farm last week near Pine River by Conrad Botz. He is going into the stock business on a large scale.

Jos. Roedel of St. Cloud, has just returned from Germany and states that there is nothing to the stories of starvation in the German towns as reported on this side of the water.

The Pine River Sentinel says if the paper is better than usual it is because the editor has been running around the country in an automobile and the office force are responsible.
Probably agreeable to both.

An unknown man was found near the Fourth street crossing in Moorhead at 1 o'clock on Saturday morning, and the presumption is that he was dragged to death by a N. P. freight train. He was about 35 years of age.

The Minnesota & International railway is planning on extending their present line from Kelliher to Spooner, says the Pine River Sentinel.
This would open up a large timber and timber products territory in the northern part of the state, and the citizens there are doing their best to see that the plan is carried out.

Poultry is Valuable

Minnesota's poultry is worth more than $3,000,000 on a cash valuation, according to the returns made to the state tax commission. Under the new law, which provides for assessing poultry at one-third of the cash value, the total assessed valuation of poultry in the state is $1,048,133.
Last year under the old law, which required assessment at "full value in cash," the total poultry assessment was only $874,099. This is cited by the tax commission as another proof of the better working of the new law.

OLEY'S ORINO LAXATIVE
FOR STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION

WANTS

Notices under this head will be charged for at the rate of one cent a word for the first insertion and one half a cent a word for each subsequent insertion, strictly cash in advance, but no ad will be taken for less than fifteen cents.

HELP WANTED.

WANTED—Girl, Earl hotel, work in restaurant. 11213

WANTED—Young lady requires room and board in or near town.
Phone 422, 9 to 5 p. m. 107tf

WANTED—at once, good girl for general housework. 307 South
Seventh Street, telephone 135-R.
112tf

WANTED—Good girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. K. H.
Hoorn, 706 5th St. Phone 345-J.
83tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Round Oak, wood burner heater. 823 Fifth Ave. Northeast. 11215

FOR SALE OR RENT—Residence at 208 First Avenue Northeast. Apply at residence, James Nolan.
11113

FOR SALE—Eight room house, barn and six lots, corner Eighth and Willow streets south. Mrs. A. L.
Turner. 99tf

FOR SALE—40 spring chickens, some Rhode Islands, 100 feet fencing, coops, etc., $20 complete. 206
Kingwood. 11212p

FOR SALE—Wagon and buggy bodies, wagon and buggy wheels, wagon and buggy springs, wagon and buggy running gears, axles, sprockets and chains. L. W. Burrell, 423 South Seventh. 103-m

FOR SALE—About 20 H. P. upright boiler and Westinghouse automatic engine in first class condition.
Just the thing for sawing outfit, ensilage cutter, lighting plant, feed grinding, etc. Address J. W. Hilliard, Brainerd, Minn. 4twp

FOR RENT

FURNISHED rooms for rent, modern.
203 North Fourth. 11113p

OFFICE FOR RENT—Part of ground floor, 321 S. 6th. Nettleton.
100tf

FOR RENT—Office rooms, Columbia theatre building. J. M. Hayes, 1022 7th St. S., Phone 460. 90-1m

HOUSE for rent, 514 North Fourth, $10 month, also upstairs rooms modern house, 206 Kingwood. Apply 206 Kingwood. 11212p

MISCELLANEOUS

LOST—Watch fob, hand vise design, with charm. Return Brainerd Advertising Co., 508 Laurel. 11213p

WANTED to list houses, rooms, farms for rent—good demand, small supply. Nettleton, 321 S. 6th St.
100tf

SECOND HAND SAFE WANTED—
Wanted to purchase a second hand safe, 12x20x30 inches inside measurement. No other make than Diebold, Carey or Mosler wanted.
Address V, this office, with price and dimensions. 11216

AUTOMOBILE WANTED—Will exchange 120 acres of fine rich land heavily covered with hard wood timber and full mineral right, good log buildings, northwest of Emily, for good five passenger touring car, balance cash or trade. Address,
Dr. G. M. Sewall, Cuyuna, Minn.
11213

Columbia Theatre

THE BEST PICTURES AND MUSIC
EDWIN HARRIS BERGH, MGR.

Today and Wednesday

THE FEATURE OF FEATURES!

Kalem's brightest star

ALICE JOYCE

In a play depicting a woman's joys and sorrows.

"THE VAMPIRE'S TRAIL"

(Produced by Signor Vignola)

Superb two-part drama...Exquisite scenes and photography. An exceptional supporting company including Tom Moore. There never lived a more widely known or more universally beloved actress than Miss Joyce...Every new release seems to add to her many charms.

Two other very good photoplays of real merit.

Thursday and Friday

THREE FINE FEATURES

Mary Pickford in

"THE MENDER OF NETS"

Direct from the Lyric in Minneapolis. A story of the sea.

"Hearst-Selig News"

All the latest war news

The Two Reel Play a Comedy

"Too Much Uncle"

100tf

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

Inserted for B. C. McNamara by A. C. Larson

Your Vote For

B. C. McNAMARA

For

CORONER

Will be Appreciated

Election November 3, 1914.

YOU CANNOT GET AWAY

from the fact that it pays to treat your livestock well. Whether you work it or market it the better it is fed the better the returns. That's why you should give our feed a trial.
Commence today. We know that the results will be so fine that you'll see the advantage of using our feed right along.

JOHN LARSON

BANK WITH US

CONFIDENCE

It is an honor to our bank to be a member of the NATional FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM of banks.

Before we became one of the VAST ARMY of responsible banks which STAND TOGETHER, the U. S. Government knew the character of the MEN behind our bank and of its sound financial condition.

We can get money from our United States Regional bank on our securities when we want it. When your money is in our bank YOU can get it when YOU want it.

We pay 3% interest on time and savings deposits

Make OUR Bank YOUR Bank

First National Bank

Brainerd, - - Minn.

Established 1881

Capital and Surplus

One Hundred Thousand Dollars

A. F. GROVES, M. D.

Practice Limited to Ear, Nose, and Throat
GLASSES FITTED CORRECTLY
See Iron Exchange Building

G. INGERSOLL, D. D. S.
DENTIST

Room 204 Iron Exchange Bldg.
BRAINERD, MINN.

WILSON & BANE
GENERAL INSURANCE

Only best companies represented.
Your Business Solicited
Room 6 Bane Block

T. C. BLEWITT
LAWYER

Practice in all Courts
Established 1899
COLLECTIONS AND INSURANCE
DEPARTMENTS
217-218 Iron Exchange Bldg.
BRAINERD, MINNESOTA

DR. C. D. BLACKFORD
OSTEOPATH

Treatments - - $1.00
Consultation Free
Sleeper Block

MAUDE GIRAULT SMALLEY

TEACHER OF SINGING
Thursday and Friday Mornings
223 N. 7th St. Phone 304-I

WHOLESALE
to Consumer

Where is High Cost of Living? Not Here! Week End Sale

Greening Apples, 3 1/2 lb. peck. - 35c
Sugar, 14 lbs. for - $1.00
100 lb. best flour - $3.00
Concord Grapes, basket - 22c
6 lbs. sweet potatoes - 25c
25c Package Rolled Oats only - 20c
4 Packages Corn Wafers, none better - 25c
10 lb. can Cara Syrup - 45c
Gallon pickling vinegar - 25c
Bulk coffee, 20c lb. or 6 lbs. - $1.00

L. J. CALE

Your Pictures Enlarged by our

New Process

Work Cannot be Excelled
Prices Very Reasonable
A. M. Opsahl
Photographer
Seventh St. Brainerd, Minn.

THE WEATHER

Temperature record taken at Gull Lake by caretaker, Arthur L. Appel.
Oct. 12, Maximum 50, minimum 38. Rainfall 4 hundredths inches.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

For Sale Mill wood. Phone 96-R.
Dr. R. J. Sewall, of Crosby, was in the city today.

T. F. Cole, of Deerwood, was in the city yesterday.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. 112t3

J. H. Quinlivan, of Deerwood, was in the city today.

Charles Ilse went to Wahpeton, N. D., this afternoon.

Have you seen Wink the Wizard? 107tf

Sam Chern, of Little Falls, was in Brainerd yesterday.

For houses, lots, lands, see Nettleton 460-4f

A. N. Jacobs went on the range yesterday afternoon.

Phone 359-L for DRY millwood. - Advt. 178tf

Carl Zapffe went to St. Paul on the afternoon train.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Big special bargains for each day. 112t3

H. W. Linneemann went to the twin cities this afternoon.

E. E. Wideman, of Pine River, was a Brainerd visitor today.

For SPRING WATER Phone 264. - Advt. 244tf

At the city hall the brick work has been started on the main floor level.

The water and light board will meet on the fourth Wednesday, Oct. 28.

Twenty-five Base Burner stoves for sale or rent at D. M. Clark & Co. 110tf

J. F. Elder, of Madison, Wis., has been in the city attending to business matters.

Pay off your city or farm mortgage with a new loan at 3 per cent. Security National Loan company. 26tf

Edward R. Syverson, John H. Hill and M. B. Ellingson, of Ironton, were Brainerd visitors today.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. 112t3

Isaac Sall, attending to business matter at the county seat, returned to Crosby Monday afternoon.

Mrs. W. A. Fleming has returned from St. Paul where she attended the convention of the Episcopal church.

Before buying see D. M. Clark & Co's. nickel plated bath room fixtures and mirrors. - Advt. 97tf

Mrs. Wm. Nelson today arrived in New York city from Norway, where she has been visiting the last five months.

S. F. Alderman went into the north country Monday afternoon campaigning. He carried his lunch basket with him.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. 112t3

Frank Cannon, of Woodrow, was in the city today and said he was the only man in his town who bet on Boston to win the series. He wore a large smile on his face.

Lost, white and black spotted cow, good heavy Holstein cow. J. W. Koop, 323 North Broadway. 110t3p

W. A. Rouchleau and Louis Rouchleau of Minneapolis, interested on the extreme north range, were in Brainerd today. They have three drills at work near Emily.

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Big special bargains for each day. 112t3

The repairing department of the E. R. Smith Auto garage is now conducted by Albert Peterson, who solicits all kinds of auto repairing. First class work guaranteed. 112t4

Wilber Bissonett has returned from St. Paul where he attended the funeral of his brother, Clifford Bissonett, who fell from a balloon while making an ascension at Red Wing.

Regular Meeting
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Wednesday Eve.
Oct. 14th, 8 p. m.

Judd Wright has made a great success with his 40 acre potato farm in West Brainerd. He raised Burbanks and Early Ohio and sold nine carloads. They were all of fine quality and were bought by S. B. Ferguson, agent of J. R. Begg & Co., of St. Paul. Mr. Wright did his farming alone and without any expert assistance.

War on high prices! Go to Gustafson and get the best value for your money in groceries. 49 lb. sack patent flour $1.50. Cider vinegar, gallon, 25c. White vinegar, gallon, 20c. Six pounds rolled oats, 25c. Three packages corn flakes, 25c. Gloss starch package 8c. Three cans corn, 25c. Delivered any part of city. K. A. Gustafson, 1626 East Oak St. - Advt. 1t

Anniversary Sale at Luken's Big Store, Front street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Big special bargains for each day. 112t3

Strayed to my farm, three spring calves, one black and white, one is white and one white with red head. Owner pay advertising and other costs. Matt Eisel, farm located midway between Fort Ripley and Brainerd, about 10 miles from Brainerd. 110 t3 d-W 1t.

MUSIC AND DRAMAAt the Columbia

Not often do we find the different parts of a rather complicated story of this kind co-ordinated with more skill than in "The Vampire's Trail," the fifth of the Alice Joyce series. There is a demand for sensations but unfortunately some producers think that they can string thrills on reefs of film without stint, and turn out a real picture. Those who are acquainted with audiences know that an interesting story is better than mere thrills. There are thrills in the "Vampire's Trail". It is a sensational story containing good acting, fine photography and interesting background. It also starts with a good situation clearly started and in its development, the camera, like a finger of light points here and there picking out the incident that is logically next in order so there is no unpleasant "seesawing" of the attention, a fault frequently found with hastily produced plays. Another drama and a Lubin comedy completes the program. Mary Pickford this week will be seen in "The Mender of Nets" on Thursday and Friday.

At the Grand

Tonight is the last of Ford Sterling this week, also "Trey O' Hearts." Don't miss tonight's bill as it is a drawing card from the start.

Wednesday and Thursday the Grand will again present the European War Slides, direct from the American Press association. These are the only authentic picture news which the world has received and we have these wonderful slides exclusive. Watch our war photo boards. Along with slides we have "Allah 3311", a wonderful three reel feature laid in the Orient. Don't forget our dollar bills given every night for 10c.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Around Brainerd, Crow Wing County and the State, Gleaned From Exchanges on Our Table

Carlton reports cattle thieves.

Park Rapids will spend $5495 for a sewer system.

The Benton county fair association cleared $1,100 at the annual meet.

The first store building erected at Remer has burned at a loss of $7000.

The Standard Oil company is to install a distributing plant at Glyndon.

C. W. Smith, of the Svea hotel, Virginia, paid $50 and costs for having venison in his possession.

The estate of the late G. S. Barnes, of Clay county, must pay an inheritance tax of nearly $2,700.

The general store at Clear Lake was robbed of $300 worth of merchandise on Saturday night.

Burglars entered the postoffice and a store at Garfield last Friday night and only secured $7 or $8 all told.

There were 12,167 pensioners in Minnesota at the last payment and they were paid $2,672,846 in the fiscal year.

The school board of East Grand Forks recently made their annual levy—$27,000—for the support of their schools.

Weekly visits to alleys and basements are to be made by the fire marshal at St. Cloud in the future. Fire protection day has had its effect.

Tony Janus tried to suicide with mercury pills at Virginia because his wife and her mother refused to let him see his baby daughter. He will live to regret it.

Five car loads of stock and machinery were moved onto his farm last week near Pine River by Conrad Botz. He is going into the stock business on a large scale.

Jos. Roedel of St. Cloud, has just returned from Germany and states that there is nothing to the stories of starvation in the German towns as reported on this side of the water.

The Pine River Sentinel says if the paper is better than usual it is because the editor has been running around the country in an automobile and the office force are responsible. Probably agreeable to both.

An unknown man was found near the Fourth street crossing in Moorhead at 1 o'clock on Saturday morning, and the presumption is that he was dragged to death by a N. P. freight train. He was about 35 years of age.

The Minnesota & International railway is planning on extending their present line from Kelliher to Spooner, says the Pine River Sentinel. This would open up a large timber and timber products territory in the northern part of the state, and the citizens there are doing their best to see that the plan is carried out.

Poultry is Valuable

Minnesota's poultry is worth more than $3,000,000 on a cash valuation, according to the returns made to the state tax commission. Under the new law, which provides for assessing poultry at one-third of the cash value, the total assessed valuation of poultry in the state is $1,048,133. Last year under the old law, which required assessment at "full value in cash," the total poultry assessment was only $874,099. This is cited by the tax commission as another proof of the better working of the new law.

POLEY'S URINO LAXATIVE
FOR STOMACH, BOWELS, AND CONSTIPATION

Exclusive MUNSING for Women agents for WEAR and Children

FINE QUALITY, NON-IRRITATING, UNION SUITS
WORLD FAMOUS FOR FIT, DURABILITY AND WASHABILITY

We consider ourselves fortunate in having the agency for Munsingwear, and in always being able to satisfy our most particular customer with Munsingwear. Wear them—you will like them.

All Styles in All Sizes for All Ages

Murphy's
THE STORE OF QUALITY

WANTS

Notices under this head will be charged for at the rate of one cent a word for the first insertion and one half a cent a word for each subsequent insertion, strictly cash in advance, but no ad will be taken for less than fifteen cents.

HELP WANTED.

WANTED—Girl, Earl hotel, work in restaurant. 112t3

WANTED—Young lady requires room and board in or near town. Phone 422, 9 to 5 p. m. 107tf

WANTED—at once, good girl for general housework. 307 South Seventh Street, telephone 135-R. 112tf

WANTED—Good girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. K. H. Hoorn, 706 5th St. Phone 345-J. 83tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Round Oak, wood burner heater, 823 Fifth Ave. Northeast, 112t5

FOR SALE OR RENT—Residence at 208 First Avenue Northeast. Apply at residence, James Nolan. 111t3

FOR SALE—Eight room house, barn and six lots, corner Eighth and Willow streets south. Mrs. A. L. Turner. 99tf

FOR SALE—40 spring chickens, some Rhode Islands, 100 feet fencing, coops, etc., $20 complete. 206 Kingwood. 112t2p

FOR SALE—Wagon and buggy bodies, wagon and buggy wheels, wagon and buggy springs, axles, sprockets and chains. L. W. Burrell, 423 South Seventh. 103-m

FOR SALE—About 20 H. P. upright boiler and Westinghouse automatic engine in first class condition. Just the thing for sawing outfit, ensilage cutter, lighting plant, feed grinding, etc. Address J. W. Hill-Hard, Brainerd, Minn. 4twp

FOR RENT

FURNISHED rooms for rent, modern. 203 North Fourth. 111t3p

OFFICE FOR RENT—Part of ground floor, 321 S. 6th. Nettleton. 100tf

FOR RENT—Office rooms, Columbia theatre building. J. M. Hayes, 1022 7th St. S., Phone 460. 90-1m

HOUSE for rent, 514 North Fourth, $10 month, also upstairs rooms modern house, 206 Kingwood, Apply 206 Kingwood. 112t2p

MISCELLANEOUS

LOST—Watch fob, hand vise design, with charm. Return Brainerd Advertising Co., 508 Laurel. 112t3p

WANTED to list houses, rooms, farms for rent—good demand, small supply. Nettleton, 321 S. 6th St. 100tf

SECOND HAND SAFE WANTED—Wanted to purchase a second hand safe, 12x20x30 inches inside measurement. No other make than Digbold, Carey or Mosler wanted. Address V, this office, with price and dimensions. 112t6

AUTOMOBILE WANTED—Will exchange 120 acres of fine rich land heavily covered with hard wood timber and full mineral right, good log buildings, northwest of Emily, for good five passenger touring car, balance cash or trade. Address, Dr. G. M. Sewall, Cuyuna, Minn. 112t3

Columbia Theatre
THE BEST PICTURES AND MUSIC
EDWIN HARRIS BERGH, MGR.Today and Wednesday

THE FEATURE OF FEATURES!

Kalem's brightest star

ALICE JOYCE

In a play depicting a woman's joys and sorrows.

"THE VAMPIRE'S TRAIL"

(Produced by Signor Vignola)

Superb two-part drama...Exquisite scenes and photography. An exceptional supporting company including Tom Moore. There never lived a more widely known or more universally beloved actress than Miss Joyce...Every new release seems to add to her many charms.

Two other very good photoplays of real merit.

Thursday and Friday

THREE FINE FEATURES

Mary Pickford in

"THE MENDER OF NETS"

Direct from the Lyric in Minneapolis. A story of the sea.

"Hearst-Selig News"

All the latest war news

The Two Reel Play a Comedy

"To Much Uncle"

PAID ADVERTISEMENT
Inserted for B. C. McNamara by A. C. Larson

Your Vote For

B. C. McNAMARA

For

CORONER

Will be Appreciated

Election November 3, 1914.

YOU CANNOT GET AWAY

from the fact that it pays to treat your livestock well. Whether you work it or market it the better it is fed the better the returns. That's why you should give our feed a trial. Commence today. We know that the results will be so fine that you'll see the advantage of using our feed right along.

JOHN LARSON

It is an honor to our bank to be a member of the NATIONAL FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM of banks.

Before we became one of the VAST ARMY of responsible banks which STAND TOGETHER, the U. S. Government knew the character of the MEN behind our bank and of its sound financial condition.

We can get money from our United States Regional bank on our securities when we want it. When your money is in our bank YOU can get it when YOU want it.

We pay 3% interest on time and savings deposits

Make OUR Bank YOUR Bank

First National Bank

Brainerd, - - Minn.
Established 1881
Capital and Surplus

One Hundred Thousand Dollars

DISPATCH ADS PAY--TRY ONE

THE WOMAN'S REALM

SUCCESSFUL AS HOTEL CLERK

Miss Irene Heath, Pretty and Petite, Clerk at the Iron Exchange Hotel in City

FORMER NEWSPAPER WOMAN
Was Solicitor Many Years on Sioux City, Iowa, News, and Later Society Page

That a newspaper man or newspaper woman succeeds in varied positions is generally the rule and this is exemplified in the career of Miss Irene Heath, who for four years was connected with the Sioux City, Iowa, News and later had charge of the society page.

Miss Heath is now the hotel clerk at the Iron Exchange hotel and her charming and affable manner gains many friends. Miss Heath comes from one of the leading hotels of Kansas City, Mo.

At the Iron Exchange hotel guests suit cases are never mislaid or lost and thanks to her energy and business ability guests are made to feel at home. She has a faculty of remembering names and faces, which from the newspaper experiences gained, serves her well in the hotel business.

Surprise Party Given

A surprise party was given Miss Ethel Stanley at her home on Saturday evening. The evening was spent in games and music. A vocal solo was given by Miss Florence Zabel and piano solos rendered by the following: Earl Zabel, Paul Sartwell, Miss Nellie Swanson, Miss Mildred Lund, Miss Florence Zabel and Miss Una Stanley. All reported having spent a very pleasant evening. A dainty luncheon was served.

Catholic Forester Aid

The Catholic Foresters Aid society will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Marco.

First Congregational Aid

The Ladies Aid society of the First Congregational church will be entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. R. K. Whiteley and Miss May Whiteley.

Supper and Sale

The Norwegian-Danish Ladies Aid society will give a supper and sale on Thursday evening, Oct. 15 at Walker hall. A large number of tickets have been sold.

Peoples Congregational Aid

The Ladies Aid society of the Peoples Congregational church will meet with Mrs. Ray L. Long, 509 Fourth avenue, Northeast, on Wednesday afternoon. An invitation is extended to all.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—CASCARETS

Salts, Calomel and Pills act on Liver and Bowels like pepper acts in Nostrils—Danger!

Get a 10-cent box now.
Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.—Advt.

Hopeless Lung Trouble Cured

Many recoveries from lung troubles are due to Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It strengthens the lungs, checks the cough and gives relief at once.—Mr. W. S. Wilkins, Gates, N. C., writes: "I used Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and it effected a complete cure." Get a bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. If your cough is dry and hacking let it trickle down the throat, you will surely get relief. Only 25c at your druggist. H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Advt.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. O. E. Peterson is visiting friends in Deerwood.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. LaBar have returned from their trip to the coast.

Mrs. Della Lyons, of Motley, the guest of Mrs. L. O. Kelsven, returned this noon to her home.

Mrs. Anna Martin, of Brainerd, Minn., who has been spending the summer in Duluth with relatives, returned home yesterday.—Duluth Herald.

Miss Amelia Rothaus, of Worcester, Ohio, is the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rothaus.

Mrs. Earl Frazier and son, Sam, returned today to Verdale after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Parker.

Mrs. D. Cleland and daughter, Miss Edna Cleland and Miss Agnes Ross, guests of Mrs. C. M. Richardson, returned today to their home in St. Paul after a pleasant visit in Brainerd.

In the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune notes of the Johnson school of music, mention is made of Bertha Maude Pratt, a pupil of Maude Moore, who gave a program of readings for the Merriam Park Study club's opening meeting Wednesday afternoon. She will give a miscellaneous program in Brainerd on Thursday evening, Oct. 15.

In notes headed "At the Studio," the Sunday Minneapolis Tribune refers to two teachers well known in Brainerd. Frederick Southwick has returned from his second season of study with Isidore Braggotti in Florence, Italy, and has re-opened his studio in the Metropolitan Music building. H. Ray Palmer has returned from his season of piano study in Florence, Italy, and has also re-opened his studio in the same building.

Young Peoples Alliance

The Young Peoples Alliance of the Northeast Evangelical church will give a basket social on Friday evening in the basement of the church. Young and old are invited.

LOOKING AT A PHOTOGRAPH.

Better Effects Are Obtained When Only One Eye Is Used.

Photographs must be looked at with only one eye to appear best, says E. W. Marlow in an article on "How to Look at a Photograph" in the Photo Era.
"Most photographs, particularly small ones of landscapes, street scenes and interiors, fail to produce their full effect or to be estimated at their true value because they are not looked at in the most effective way," the author says. "Take as an example a print resulting from a camera with a five inch focus lens. Such a print is usually looked at with both eyes open and held at a distance of twelve inches or more. Now a camera is essentially a one eyed instrument, or, at any rate, it views the object to be reproduced from a single point, the optical center of the lens. The object must be looked at, therefore, with one eye only and from a point corresponding as nearly as possible to the optical center of the lens if its characteristics as it is to be reproduced in the camera are to be appreciated."

"Let it be remembered that when a print is looked at with both eyes open binocular vision emphasizes the flatness of the card, and this tends to offset the illusion of greater or less distance produced by the light and shade and perspective of the print. By using one eye the impression of flatness is greatly diminished. If at the same time the eye be placed at the right distance everything is seen under its natural angle or perspective, and the picture unfolds itself, the different objects receding to their proper relative distances, making details very obvious which may be unnoticed if looked at in the ordinary way."

"As a sort of corollary to the above use one eye alone to decide whether a landscape or other scene is worth taking. If with one eye the scene looks flat it will not make a satisfactory photograph."

Place Names in England.

England can boast that no other country possesses so many Scriptural place names as it does. The name of Jericho occurs six times on the ordinance maps, Paradise five times and Nineveh, Mount Zion, Mount Ararat and Mount Ephraim three times each. In Bedfordshire there is a Calvary wood and in Dorsetshire a Jordan hill.

Travels of the Blood.

All the blood in a man's body passes through his heart once in every two minutes.

Amateur Strategy

It Managed to Clear Away the Clouds.

By TEMPLE BAILEY.

Perceval's den in Berkeley hall was hung with the usual conglomerate collection of trifles on which college youths pride themselves. Strangely enough, however, though otherwise complete, it lacked one of the essentials—indeed, a vital essential—of a student's room decorations. There were no photographs.

The other fellows had pictures of girls in evening gowns, girls in street costume, girls in golf garb, girls on horseback, girls afoot—always girls. But not a girl's picture adorned Perceval's den except one lonely small miniature, and that stood far withdrawn, hidden on the back of his desk.

Randolph Chase hailed it out on one occasion before Perceval could reach him with a detaining hand.

"What a queer little girl!" Randolph said.

"Put it back," Perceval said shortly, his face aflame.

But the other fellows crowded behind Randolph and looked at the picture over his shoulder.

"Such a mop of hair and such a little face!" said one of them.

"Put it back!" Perceval's tone rasped with irritation. "Put it back, Randolph!"

Randolph, after one glance at the younger man's countenance, set the miniature back on the desk hastily.

But the next night when he was alone with Perceval he said: "I don't want to be inquisitive, but I was awfully interested in that girl's face. Who is she?"

"That," said Perceval without looking around—"that girl, as you call her, is Mrs. Perceval Moore."

"What!" Randolph's tone expressed extreme incredulity. "You surely don't mean—"

Perceval whirled around. "That I am married? Yes."

Randolph whistled. "Well, of all things!" he said. And after that there was silence.

Then Perceval came over and flung himself into a chair opposite Randolph. "I've simply got to tell somebody, Chase," he said. "I'm in an awful fix, and she's the dearest and truest and best little thing in the world. I've deceived her. She doesn't know that I am in college. She thinks I am earning a good salary in business."

"Well, son," said Randolph Chase. "It seems to me that sort of deception is a kind that a girl can forgive easily enough. I guess she won't be wildly indignant when she finds that next year—it is next year that you come of age, isn't it?—you'll have a big pile of money coming to you. Any girl would be tickled to death to find that."

Perceval shook his head. "Not Annabel," he declared. "Isn't her name dear and old fashioned, Chase?"

"Yes," Randolph agreed. "But why will she object to a million, Perceval?"

"Because she will say that I lied to her," Perceval said slowly, "and Annabel can forgive anything but a lie."

"Out with it!" Randolph probed. "Tell me the whole story. It must be a queer one, and if you don't mind my saying so, old man, she must be a queer girl."

"That's just what she is," said Perceval. "I met her last year at the beach. She was such a quaint, queer little thing that she attracted me. She always wore white, and I would find her sitting on the sand singing little songs to herself. There was an old sea captain to whom she talked a good deal, and I got him to introduce us."

"Well, she had read a lot of books on social equality, and she just simply didn't have any use for the gilded youth with money. What Annabel wanted was a man who worked, preferably with his hands, but, failing that, one who lived in the thick of the fight for existence. And she meant it too. And that is where I fell."

"I was head over heels in love with her," continued Perceval forlornly. "And I simply wouldn't let her go. So I let her believe that I was working my way up in business. The first lie was simple enough and looked like one of those things that could be squared easily enough afterward. But, oh, Chase! I had to back that lie up with details on details until I had lied to her at least ten lies to the hour. Well, we were married before I left in the fall. I wasn't of age, and she wasn't, and she wouldn't leave home until I could support her without hampering my business career."

"I knew I had to come back to college or get dad down on me, so I told her to stay," groaned Perceval. "But I made her marry me for fear something might come between us, and I couldn't stand that, Randolph. But think how I'll appear to her, for I've lied in every letter, telling her how business was, and all that."

The young fellow's voice broke. Randolph held out a sympathetic hand.

"She'll forgive you, all right," he said. "But you sit right down tonight and confess, old man. It's not only the right thing, but the best policy, to be perfectly frank with her, and if she's in love with you she'll forgive you."

But Perceval shook his head. "I don't dare," he said huskily. "I am so afraid I'll lose her, Randolph, and she is the dearest thing in the world."

"You have said that before," Randolph remarked patiently. "I think you are making an awful mistake, but it will have to work itself out if you won't take any advice."

Then he went to his own room and smoked another pipe on it, and after that he wrote a letter.

And in three days came a letter to Perceval:

Dear Boy—I must come to you at once. Things at home are in a dreadful state. I will tell you when I reach you. I know you haven't much for us to live on, but I have a little money in the bank that I have saved from my allowance, and I shall follow this note at once. Expect me on the 10:30 a. m. Friday.

ANNABEL.
"And this," said Perceval desperately as he showed the note to Randolph, "is Thursday. What am I going to do with her when she gets here, Randolph?"

Randolph smiled inscrutably. "Find some rooms in a cheap quarter and set up housekeeping."

Perceval's face brightened. "And go out every morning and make her think I've gone to work? You are a genius, Randolph."

It took the two men several hours to find a little furnished apartment that would seem suitable for a young couple with little money. Perceval grumbled disconsolately. "I hate to put my jewel in such a setting," he said.

"Tell her the truth," Randolph again advised, "and you won't have to put up with such cheap things."

But Perceval refused. The next morning he met Annabel at the station, and together they went to the little cheap apartment.

Her account of the trouble at home was somewhat vague, but she was enthusiastic over the thought of her housekeeping.

But Perceval found it anything but lovely. He hated to see her soft white hands in the dishwater. It made him wince to see her bending over the flaming stove, and even the joy of her presence could not take away his sense of infinite guilt.

And so he grew thin and pale and worn.

"You are working too hard," Annabel said one night. And when he shook his head drearily his little wife crept out to the janitor's room and telephoned to some one.

"He is punished enough," was her queer message. "Can't you have him go to his old quarters tonight and have it over?"

The next night Perceval said to Annabel: "I have an engagement with Randolph. You won't mind if I leave you, will you, dear?"

"Of course not," she acquiesced. "I can get along just this one time."

Randolph told him that he wished to borrow some of Perceval's books. "I knew they were in your rooms, and I thought you wouldn't mind coming over," said he, "so I took the liberty of asking you to desert your wife for one evening."

As the two men entered the luxurious quarters Perceval sighed. "To think of my condemning Annabel to such hideousness as that apartment where she is living!" he said, leaning down to turn on the low electric lamp on his study table.

The light flared up and showed the cozy room, the little fire already lighted in the open grate, the blue flame burning under the brass teakettle.

"Why, what?" Perceval demanded, like the big bear in the fairy tale. "Who has been living in my room?"

From behind a tall screen came a little figure in white.

"Oh, Perceval!" cried Annabel and threw herself in his arms.

And when Randolph had explained that he had taken chances and had written the truth to Perceval's little wife and Annabel had explained that she had known he was going to school and not to work ever since she had come to him, and oh, didn't he know that she would love him if he was rich, Perceval drew a long breath of happiness.

"I don't deserve it," he confessed, with his eyes shining, "and we can't live in these rooms, Annabel. But I am going to take my chances with dad, and when he sees what a dear little, queer little thing you are he will give in, and if he doesn't I can earn my living like a man now that I am square with you, sweetheart."

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

The Scalp and the Hair.
The hair is provided with oil by the sebaceous glands that lie at its roots. Regular and vigorous brushing of the hair increases the flow of oil and keeps the hair glossy. The hair is fed by the blood vessels that enter the inner layer of skin in which the hair root is embedded. A good nervous system which promotes a good circulation is one of the essentials in producing a healthy growth of hair. It is as necessary for the scalp to be kept clean as for the surface of any other portion of the skin to be kept clean. The hair should be thoroughly brushed to remove dust. It should be left loose and free at night to allow the moisture to evaporate and to permit air to pass through it freely. The scalp should be thoroughly rubbed at least once a week. This promotes a good circulation and thus gives the hair a vigorous growth. The hair should be washed at least once a month. Soft water, mild soap and thorough rinsing in clear water are essential to successful washing.

LIST OF PRIZES AT COUNTY FAIR

The Records Received from the Crow Wing County Agricultural Society of Pequot

F. G. SOHRADER, SECRETARY

Brainerd People took Many Prizes—

Wm. Guida, Winner N. P. Ry. Silver Trophy

A complete list of the prizes awarded at the Crow Wing County Agricultural society fair at Pequot Sept. 16, 17 and 18 will be published day by day by the Dispatch, the list having been secured from the secretary, F. G. Schrader, and this installment being a continuation of the prize list:

Lot 212, table cucumbers, first No. 6371, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 5621, $1, Bert Sabin, Mission. Third, No. 4735, 50 cents, J. P. Bakken, Pequot.

Lot 213, pickling cucumbers, first No. 6375, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 5174, $1, Mrs. McHavig, Pequot. Third, No. 4736, 50 cents, J. P. Bakken, Pequot.

Lot 215, egg plant, first, No. 4833, $1.50, Mads C. Anderson, Pequot.

Lot 214, citron, first, No. 6678, $1.50, Edward Seidel, Pequot. Second, No. 4666, $1, J. Crin Ressler, Jenkins. Third, No. 5665, 50 cents, Ludwig Anderson, Pequot.

Lot 216, endive, first, No. 5590, $1.50, J. Ackerman, Pine River. Second, No. 6861, $1, W. A. M. Johnston, Brainerd.

Lot 217, kohlrabi, first, No. 4834, $1.50, Mads C. Anderson, Pequot. Second, No. 6377, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Third, No. 4566, 50 cents, A. T. Kimball, Pequot.

Lot 218, kale, first, No. 4845, $1.50, Mads C. Anderson, Pequot. Second, No. 6873, $1, P. E. Countrymen, Grant. Third, No. 5281, 50 cents, John D. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 219, onions white, first, No. 4772, $1.50, John Pascheit, Pequot. Second, No. 5546, $1, Clem Mitchell, Pine River. Third, No. 6782, 50 cents, L. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 221, onions yellow, first, No. 4568, $1.50, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Second, No. 4929, $1, C. E. Roden, Jenkins. Third, No. 6788, 50 cents, L. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 220, onions red, first, No. 4928, $1.50, C. E. Roden, Jenkins. Second, No. 6379, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Third, No. 5515, 50 cents, A. A. Sampson, Pequot.

Lot 222, pickling onion, first, No. 5519, $1.50, no name given. Second, No. 4737, $1, J. P. Bakken, Pequot. Third, No. 6971, 50 cents, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

Lot 223, parsnips, first, No. 4538, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 5126, $1, John Nelson, Grant. Third, No. 6934, 50 cents, W. A. M. Johnston, Brainerd.

Lot 224, parsley, first, No. 6735, $1.50, Christ Olsen, Pequot. Second, No. 224, $1, no name. Third, No. 5282, 50 cents, John D. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 225, peppers green, first No. 5623, $1.50, Bert Sabin, Mission. Second, No. 6706, $1, E. J. Wheeler, Pequot. Third, No. 6863, 50 cents, W. A. M. Johnston, Brainerd.

Lot 226, red peppers, first No. 6196, $1.50, F. M. Hall, Pequot.

Lot 227, Early Ohio potatoes, first, No. 4873, $3, Bert Olds, Pequot. Second, No. 5263, $2, Grover C. Dixon, Pequot. Third, No. 6383, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

Lot 228, Early Rose potatoes, no exhibit.

Lot 229, any other variety, first, No. 5624, $3, Bert Sabin, Mission. Second, No. 6876, $2, P. E. Countrymen, Grant. Third, No. 4674, $1, E. W. Marshall, Pequot.

Lot 230, Burbanks, first, No. 5127, John Nelson, Grant. Second, No. 4492, $2, R. Wermer, Pequot.

Lot 231, Carmen potatoes, first, No. 6667, $3, Peter Halvorsen, Nisewa. Second, No. 4607, $2, J. Crin Ressler, Jenkins. Third, No. 6669, $1, A. A. Sampson, Pequot.

Lot 232, Triumph potatoes, first No. 5625, $3, Bert Sabin, Mission.

Lot 233, Rough Rider potatoes, first No. 5550, $3, Claud Mitchell, Pine River. Second, No. 5076, $2, Omar Nelson, Jenkins. Third, No. 6786, $1, L. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 234, any other late potatoes, none worthy of first. Second, No. 6218, $2, Ole Brunen, Pequot. Third, No. 6850, $1, Claud Ruter, Pine River.

Lot 235, pie pumpkin long, first, No. 6338, Jacob Reich, Pequot. Second, No. 6930, $1, W. A. M. Johnston, Brainerd.

Lot 237, pie pumpkin, round specimen, first, No. 4739, $1.50, J. P. Bakken, Pequot. Second, No. 4571, $1, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Third, No. 6194, 50 cents, Bert Olds, Pequot.

Lot 238, rhubarb, first, No. 6917,

$1.50, Wm. Eisner, Pequot. Second, No. 4966, $1, Wm. Guida, Pequot. Third, No. 5612, 50 cents, A. Johnston, Pequot.

Lot 239, rutabagas for table use, first, No. 6386, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 5552, $1, Claud Mitchell, Pine River. Third, No. 5287, 50 cents, John D. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 240, Hubbard squash, first, No. 5077, $1.50, Omar Nelson, Jenkins. Second, No. 4573, $1, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Third, No. 5097, 50 cents, W. H. Kramp, Pequot.

Lot 241, squash, white bush, summer, 1 specimen, first, No. 4574, $1.50, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Second, No. 6387, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

Lot 242, squash, any other variety, No. 6787, $1.50, L. Nelson, Pequot. Second, No. 5031, $1, Ole Brunen, Pequot. Third, No. 5554, 50 cents, Claud Mitchell, Pine River.

Lot 243, squash, summer crook-neck, first, No. 6416, $1.50, Henry Goldsboro, Pequot. Second, No. 6388, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Third, No. 4576, 50 cents, A. T. Kimball, Pequot.

Lot 250, turnip, purple top, No. 6391, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 6878, $1, P. E. Countrymen, Grant. Third, No. 6937, 50 cents, L. G. Pollick, Jenkins.

Lot 251, white turnips, first, No. 4494, $1.50, R. Wermer, Pequot. Second, No. 5654, $1, R. Wermer, Pequot. Third, No. 6392, 50 cents, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

Lot 252, watermelon, first, No. 5477, $1.50, L. H. Martin, Pequot. Second, No. 4580, $1, A. T. Kimball, Third, No. 5079, 50 cents, Omar Nelson, Jenkins.

Lot 253, muskmelon, none.

Lot 254, sugar beets, first, No. 5105, $1.50, W. H. Kramp, Pequot. Second, No. 5560, $1, Claud Mitchell, Pine River. Third, No. 6676, 50 cents, Mrs. Edward Seidel, Pequot.

Lot 255, beets mammoth long red, first, No. 5561, $1.50, Claud Mitchell, Pine River. Second, No. 4581, $1, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Third, No. 4744, 50 cents, J. P. Bakken, Pequot.

Lot 256, beets, any other variety, first, No. 4537, $1.50, Anton Pederson.

Lot 257, muskmelons, first, No. 5632, $1.50, Bert Sabin, Mission. Second, No. 6970, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Third, No. 5478, 50 cents, L. H. Martin, Pequot.

Lot 257, stock carrots, first, none.

Lot 258, field pumpkin, first, No. 5131, $1.50, John Nelson, Grant. Second, No. 6701, $1, A. A. Sampson, Pequot. Third, No. 6972, 50 cents, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

WOMAN'S REALM

SUCCESSFUL AS HOTEL CLERK

Miss Irene Heath, Pretty and Petite, Clerk at the Iron Exchange Hotel in City

FORMER NEWSPAPER WOMAN

Was Solicitor Many Years on Sioux City, Iowa, News, and Later Society Page

That a newspaper man or newspaper woman succeeds in varied positions is generally the rule and this is exemplified in the career of Miss Irene Heath, who for four years was connected with the Sioux City, Iowa, News and later had charge of the society page.

Miss Heath is now the hotel clerk at the Iron Exchange hotel and her charming and affable manner gains many friends. Miss Heath comes from one of the leading hotels of Kansas City, Mo.

At the Iron Exchange hotel guests suit cases are never mislaid or lost and thanks to her energy and business ability guests are made to feel at home. She has a faculty of remembering names and faces, which from the newspaper experiences gained, serves her well in the hotel business.

Surprise Party Given

A surprise party was given Miss Ethel Stanley at her home on Saturday evening. The evening was spent in games and music. A vocal solo was given by Miss Florence Zabel and piano solos rendered by the following: Earl Zabel, Paul Sartwell, Miss Nellie Swanson, Miss Mildred Land, Miss Florence Zabel and Miss Ona Stanley. All reported having spent a very pleasant evening. A dainty luncheon was served.

Catholic Forester Aid

The Catholic Forester Aid society will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Marco.

First Congregational Aid

The Ladies Aid society of the First Congregational church will be entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. R. K. Whiteley and Miss May Whiteley.

Supper and Sale

The Norwegian-Danish Ladies Aid society will give a supper and sale on Thursday evening, Oct. 15 at Walker hall. A large number of tickets have been sold.

Peoples Congregational Aid

The Ladies Aid society of the Peoples Congregational church will meet with Mrs. Ray L. Long, 509 Fourth avenue, Northeast, on Wednesday afternoon. An invitation is extended to all.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS"

Salts, Calomel and Pills act on Liver and Bowels like pepper acts in Nostrils—Danger!

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.—Advt.

Hopeless Lung Trouble Cured

Many recoveries from lung troubles are due to Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It strengthens the lungs, checks the cough and gives relief at once.—Mr. W. S. Wilkins, Gates, N. C., writes: "I used Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey and it effected a complete cure." Get a bottle of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. If your cough is dry and hacking let it trickle down the throat, you will surely get relief. Only 25c at your druggist. H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Advt.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. O. E. Peterson is visiting friends in Deerwood.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. LaBar have returned from their trip to the coast.

Mrs. Della Lyons, of Motley, the guest of Mrs. L. O. Kelsven, returned this noon to her home.

Mrs. Anna Martin, of Brainerd, Minn., who has been spending the summer in Duluth with relatives, returned home yesterday.—Duluth Herald.

Miss Amelia Rothaus, of Worcester, Ohio, is the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rothaus.

Mrs. Earl Frazier and son, Sam, returned today to Verndale after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Parker.

Mrs. D. Cleland and daughter, Miss Edna Cleland and Miss Agnes Ross, guests of Mrs. C. M. Richardson, returned today to their home in St. Paul after a pleasant visit in Brainerd.

In the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune notes of the Johnson school of music, mention is made of Bertha Maude Pratt, a pupil of Maude Moore, who gave a program of readings for the Merriam Park Study club's opening meeting Wednesday afternoon. She will give a miscellaneous program in Brainerd on Thursday evening, Oct. 15.

In notes headed "At the Studio," the Sunday Minneapolis Tribune refers to two teachers well known in Brainerd. Frederick Southwick has returned from his second season of study with Isidore Braggotti in Florence, Italy, and has re-opened his studio in the Metropolitan Music building. H. Ray Palmer has returned from his season of piano study in Florence, Italy, and has also re-opened his studio in the same building.

Young Peoples Alliance

The Young Peoples Alliance of the Northeast Evangelical church will give a basket social on Friday evening in the basement of the church. Young and old are invited.

LOOKING AT A PHOTOGRAPH.

Better Effects Are Obtained When Only One Eye Is Used.

Photographs should be looked at with only one eye to appear best, says F. W. Marlow in an article on "How to Look at a Photograph" in the Photo Era.

"Most photographs, particularly small ones of landscapes, street scenes and interiors, fail to produce their full effect or to be estimated at their true value because they are not looked at in the most effective way," the author says. "Take as an example a print resulting from a camera with a five inch focus lens. Such a print is usually looked at with both eyes open and held at a distance of twelve inches or more. Now a camera is essentially a one eyed instrument, or, at any rate, it views the object to be reproduced from a single point, the optical center of the lens. The object must be looked at, therefore, with one eye only and from a point corresponding as nearly as possible to the optical center of the lens if its characteristics as it is to be reproduced in the camera are to be appreciated.

"Let it be remembered that when a print is looked at with both eyes open binocular vision emphasizes the flatness of the card, and this tends to offset the illusion of greater or less distance produced by the light and shade and perspective of the print. By using one eye the impression of flatness is greatly diminished. If at the same time the eye be placed at the right distance everything is seen under its natural angle or perspective, and the picture unfolds itself, the different objects receding to their proper relative distances, making details very obvious which may be unnoticed if looked at in the ordinary way.

"As a sort of corollary to the above use one eye alone to decide whether a landscape or other scene is worth taking. If with one eye the scene looks flat it will not make a satisfactory photograph."

Place Names in England.

England can boast that no other country possesses so many Scriptural place names as it does. The name of Jericho occurs six times on the ordnance maps, Paradise five times and Nineveh, Mount Zion, Mount Ararat and Mount Ephraim three times each. In Bedfordshire there is a Calvary wood and in Dorsetshire a Jordan hill.

Travels of the Blood.

All the blood in a man's body passes through his heart once in every two minutes.

Amateur Strategy

It Managed to Clear Away the Clouds.

By TEMPLE BAILEY.

Perceval's den in Berkeley hall was hung with the usual conglomerate collection of trifles on which college youths pride themselves. Strangely enough, however, though otherwise complete, it lacked one of the essentials—indeed, a vital essential—of a student's room decorations. There were no photographs.

The other fellows had pictures of girls in evening gowns, girls in street costume, girls in golf garb, girls on horseback, girls afoot—always girls. But not a girl's picture adorned Perceval's den except one lonely small miniature, and that stood far withdrawn, hidden on the back of his desk.

Randolph Chase hailed it out on one occasion before Perceval could reach him with a detaining hand.

"What a queer little girl!" Randolph said.

"Put it back," Perceval said shortly, his face aflame.

But the other fellows crowded behind Randolph and looked at the picture over his shoulder.

"Such a mop of hair and such a little face!" said one of them.

"Put it back!" Perceval's tone rasped with irritation. "Put it back, Randolph!"

Randolph, after one glance at the younger man's countenance, set the miniature back on the desk hastily.

But the next night when he was alone with Perceval he said: "I don't want to be inquisitive, but I was awfully interested in that girl's face. Who is she?"

"That," said Perceval without looking around—"that girl, as you call her, is Mrs. Perceval Moore."

"What?" Randolph's tone expressed extreme incredulity. "You surely don't mean—"

Perceval whirled around. "That I am married? Yes."

Randolph whistled. "Well, of all things!" he said. And after that there was silence.

Then Perceval came over and flung himself into a chair opposite Randolph.

"I've simply got to tell somebody, Chase," he said. "I'm in an awful fix, and she's the dearest and truest and best little thing in the world. I've deceived her. She doesn't know that I am in college. She thinks I am earning a good salary in business."

"Well, son," said Randolph Chase. "It seems to me that sort of deception is a kind that a girl can forgive easily enough. I guess she won't be wildly indignant when she finds that next year it is next year that you come of age, isn't it?—you'll have a big pile of money coming to you. Any girl would be tickled to death to find that."

Perceval shook his head. "Not Annabel," he declared. "Isn't her name dear and old fashioned, Chase?"

"Yes," Randolph agreed. "But why will she object to a million, Perceval?"

"Because she will say that I lied to her," Perceval said slowly. "And Annabel can forgive anything but a lie."

"Out with it!" Randolph probed. "Tell me the whole story. It must be a queer one, and if you don't mind my saying so, old man, she must be a queer girl."

"That's just what she is," said Perceval. "I met her last year at the beach. She was such a quaint, queer little thing that she attracted me. She always wore white, and I would find her sitting on the sand singing little songs to herself. There was an old sea captain to whom she talked a good deal, and I got him to introduce us."

"Well, she had read a lot of books on social equality, and she just simply didn't have any use for the gilded youth with money. What Annabel wanted was a man who worked, preferably with his hands, but, failing that, one who lived in the thick of the fight for existence. And she meant it too. And that is where I fell."

"I was head over heels in love with her," continued Perceval forlornly. "and I simply wouldn't let her go. So I let her believe that I was working my way up in business. The first lie was simple enough and looked like one of those things that could be squared easily enough afterward. But, oh, Chase! I had to back that lie up with details on details until I had lied to her at least ten lies to the hour. Well, we were married before I left the fall. I wasn't of age, and she wasn't, and she wouldn't leave home until I could support her without hampering my business career."

"I knew I had to come back to college or get dad down on me, so I told her to stay," groaned Perceval. "But I made her marry me for fear something might come between us, and I couldn't stand that, Randolph. But think how I'll appear to her, for I've lied in every letter, telling her how business was, and all that."

"The young fellow's voice broke. Randolph held out a sympathetic hand.

"She'll forgive you, all right," he said. "But you sit right down tonight and confess, old man. It's not only the right thing, but the best policy, to be perfectly frank with her, and if she's in love with you she'll forgive you."

But Perceval shook his head. "I don't dare," he said huskily. "I am so afraid I'll lose her, Randolph, and she is the dearest thing in the world."

"You have said that before," Randolph remarked patiently. "I think you are making an awful mistake, but it will have to work itself out if you won't take any advice."

Then he went to his own room and smoked another pipe on it, and after that he wrote a letter.

And in three days came a letter to Perceval:

Dear Boy—I must come to you at once. Things at home are in a dreadful state. I will tell you when I reach you. I know you haven't much for us to live on, but I have a little money in the bank that I have saved from my allowance, and I shall follow this note at once. Expect me on the 10:30 a. m. Friday.

ANNABEL.

"And this," said Perceval desperately as he showed the note to Randolph, "is Thursday. What am I going to do with her when she gets here, Randolph?"

Randolph smiled inscrutably. "Find some rooms in a cheap quarter and set up housekeeping."

Perceval's face brightened. "And go out every morning and make her think I've gone to work? You are a genius, Randolph."

It took the two men several hours to find a little furnished apartment that would seem suitable for a young couple with little money. Perceval crumpled disconsolately. "I hate to put my jewel in such a setting," he said.

"Tell her the truth," Randolph again advised, "and you won't have to put up with such cheap things."

But Perceval refused. The next morning he met Annabel at the station, and together they went to the little cheap apartment.

Her account of the trouble at home was somewhat vague, but she was enthusiastic over the thought of her housekeeping.

But Perceval found it anything but lovely. He hated to see her soft white hands in the dishwater. It made him wince to see her bending over the flaming stove, and even the joy of her presence could not take away his sense of infinite guilt.

And so he grew thin and pale and worn.

"You are working too hard," Annabel said one night. And when he shook his head drearily his little wife crept out to the janitor's room and telephoned to some one.

"He is punished enough," was her queer message. "Can't you have him go to his old quarters tonight and have it over?"

The next night Perceval said to Annabel: "I have an engagement with Randolph. You won't mind if I leave you, will you, dear?"

"Of course not," she acquiesced. "I can get along just this one time."

Randolph told him that he wished to borrow some of Perceval's books. "I knew they were in your rooms, and I thought you wouldn't mind coming over," said he. "So I took the liberty of asking you to desert your wife for one evening."

As the two men entered the luxurious quarters Perceval sighed. "To think of my condemning Annabel to such hideousness as that apartment we are living in!" he said, leaning down to turn on the low electric lamp on his study table.

The light flared up and showed the cozy room, the little fire already lighted in the open grate, the blue flame burning under the brass teakettle.

"Why, what?" Perceval demanded, like the big bear in the fairy tale "Who has been living in my room?"

From behind a tall screen came a little figure in white.

"Oh, Perceval!" cried Annabel and threw herself in his arms.

And when Randolph had explained that he had taken chances and had written the truth to Perceval's little wife and Annabel had explained that she had known he was going to school and not to work ever since she had come to him, and oh, didn't he know that she would love him if he was rich, Perceval drew a long breath of happiness.

"I don't deserve it," he confessed, with his eyes shining, "and we can't live in these rooms, Annabel. But I am going to take my chances with dad, and when he sees what a dear little, queer little thing you are he will give in, and if he doesn't I can earn my living like a man now that I am square with you, sweetheart."

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

The Scalp and the Hair.

The hair is provided with oil by the sebaceous glands that lie at its roots. Regular and vigorous brushing of the hair increases the flow of oil and keeps the hair glossy. The hair is fed by the blood vessels that enter the inner layer of skin in which the hair root is embedded. A good nervous system which promotes a good circulation is one of the essentials in producing a healthy growth of hair. It is as necessary for the scalp to be kept clean as for the surface of any other portion of the skin to be kept clean. The hair should be thoroughly brushed to remove dust. It should be left loose and free at night to allow the moisture to evaporate and to permit air to pass through it freely. The scalp should be thoroughly rubbed at least once a week. This promotes a good circulation and thus gives the hair a vigorous growth. The hair should be washed at least once a month. Soft water, mild soap and thorough rinsing in clear water are essential to successful washing.

LIST OF PRIZES AT COUNTY FAIR

The Records Received from the Crow Wing County Agricultural Society of Pequot

F. G. SCHRADER, SECRETARY

Brainerd People took Many Prizes—Wm. Guida, Winner N. P. Ry.

Silver Trophy

A complete list of the prizes awarded at the Crow Wing County Agricultural society fair at Pequot Sept. 16, 17 and 18 will be published day by day by the Dispatch, the list having been secured from the secretary, F. G. Schrader, and this installment being a continuation of the prize list:

Lot 212, table cucumbers, first No. 6371, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 5621, $1, Bert Sabin, Mission. Third, No. 4735, 50 cents, J. P. Bakken, Pequot.

Lot 213, pickling cucumbers, first No. 6375, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 5174, $1, Mrs. McHavig, Pequot. Third, No. 4736, 50 cents, J. P. Bakken, Pequot.

Lot 215, egg plant, first, No. 4833, $1.50, Mads C. Anderson, Pequot.

Lot 214, onion, first, No. 6678, $1.50, Edward Seidel, Pequot. Second, No. 4666, $1, J. Crin Ressler, Jenkins. Third, No. 5665, 50 cents, Ludwig Anderson, Pequot.

Lot 216, endive, first, No. 5590, $1.50, J. Askerman, Pine River. Second, No. 6861, $1, W. A. M. Johnston, Brainerd.

Lot 217, kohlrabi, first, No. 4834, $1.50, Mads C. Anderson, Pequot. Second, No. 6377, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Third, No. 4566, 50 cents, A. T. Kimball, Pequot.

Lot 218, kale, first, No. 4845, $1.50, Mads C. Anderson, Pequot. Second, No. 6873, $1, P. E. Countrymen, Grant. Third, No. 5281, 50 cents, John D. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 219, onions white, first, No. 4772, $1.50, John Paschett, Pequot. Second, No. 5546, $1, Clem Mitchell, Pine River. Third, No. 6782, 50 cents, L. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 221, onions yellow, first, No. 4568, $1.50, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Second, No. 4929, $1, C. E. Roden, Jenkins. Third, No. 6788, 50 cents, L. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 220, onions red, first, No. 4928, $1.50, C. E. Roden, Jenkins. Second, No. 6379, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Third, No. 5515, 50 cents, A. A. Sampson, Pequot.

Lot 222, pickling onion, first, No. 5519, $1.50, no name given. Second, No. 4737, $1, J. P. Bakken, Pequot. Third, No. 6971, 50 cents, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

Lot 223, parsnips, first, No. 4380, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 5126, $1, John Nelson, Grant. Third, No. 6934, 50 cents, W. A. M. Johnston, Brainerd.

Lot 224, parsley, first, No. 6735, $1.50, Christ Olsen, Pequot. Second, No. 224 $1, no name. Third, No. 5282, 50 cents, John D. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 225, peppers green, first No. 5623, $1.50, Bert Sabin, Mission. Second, No. 6706, $1, E. J. Wheeler, Pequot. Third, No. 6863, 50 cents, W. A. M. Johnston, Brainerd.

Lot 226, red peppers, first No. 6196, $1.50, F. M. Hall, Pequot.

Lot 227, Early Ohio potatoes, first, No. 4873, $3, Bert Olds, Pequot. Second, No. 5363, $2, Grover C. Dixon, Pequot. Third, No. 6383, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

Lot 228, Early Rose potatoes, no exhibit.

Lot 229, any other variety, first No. 5624, $3, Bert Sabin, Mission. Second, No. 6876, $2, P. E. Countrymen, Grant. Third, No. 4674, $1, E. W. Maeshall, Pequot.

Lot 230, Burbanks, first, No. 5127, John Nelson, Grant. Second, No. 4492, $2, R. Wermer, Pequot.

Lot 231, Carmen potatoes, first, No. 6667, $3, Peter Halvorson, Nisswa. Second, No. 4607, $2, J. Crin Ressler, Jenkins. Third, No. 6669, $1, A. A. Sampson, Pequot.

Lot 232, Triumph potatoes, first No. 5625, $3, Bert Sabin, Mission.

Lot 233, Rough Rider potatoes, first No. 5550, $3, Claud Mitchell, Pine River. Second, No. 5076, $2, Omar Nelson, Jenkins. Third, No. 6786, $1, L. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 234, any other late potatoes, none worthy of first. Second, No. 6218, $2, Ole Brunes, Pequot. Third, No. 6350, $1, Claud Ruter, Pine River.

Lot 235, pie pumpkin long, first, No. 6338, Jacob Reich, Pequot. Second, No. 6930, $1, W. A. M. Johnston, Brainerd.

Lot 237, pie pumpkin, round specimen, first, No. 4739, $1.50, J. P. Bakken, Pequot. Second, No. 4571, $1, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Third, No. 6194, 50 cents, Bert Olds, Pequot.

Lot 238, rhubarb, first, No. 6917,

$1.50, Wm. Eisner, Pequot. Second, No. 4906, $1, Wm. Guida, Pequot. Third, No. 5612, 50 cents, A. Johnston, Pequot.

Lot 239, rutabagas for table use, first, No. 6386, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 5552, $1, Claud Mitchell, Pine River. Third, No. 5287, 50 cents, John D. Nelson, Pequot.

Lot 240, Hubbard squash, first, No. 5077, $1.50, Omar Nelson, Jenkins. Second, No. 4573, $1, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Third, No. 5097, 50 cents, W. H. Kramp, Pequot.

Lot 241, squash, white bush, summer, 1 specimen, first, No. 4574, $1.50, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Second, No. 6387, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

Lot 242, squash, any other variety, No. 6787, $1.50, L. Nelson, Pequot. Second, No. 5031, $1, Ole Brunes, Pequot. Third, No. 5551, 50 cents, Claud Mitchell, Pine River.

Lot 243, squash, summer crook-neck, first, No. 6416, $1.50, Henry Goldsboro, Pequot. Second, No. 6388, $1, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Third, No. 4576, 50 cents, A. T. Kimball, Pequot.

Lot 250, turnip, purple top, No. 6391, $1.50, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot. Second, No. 6878, $1, P. E. Countrymen, Grant. Third, No. 6937, 50 cents, L. G. Pollock, Jenkins.

Lot 251, white turnips, first, No. 4494, $1.50, R. Wermer, Pequot. Second, No. 5654, $1, R. Wermer, Pequot. Third, No. 6392, 50 cents, Wm. Haselhurst, Pequot.

Lot 252, watermelon, first, No. 5477, $1.50, L. H. Martin, Pequot. Second, No. 4580, $1, A. T. Kimball, Third, No. 5079, 50 cents, Omar Nelson, Jenkins.

Lot 253, muskmelon, none.

Lot 254, sugar beets, first, No. 5105, $1.50, W. H. Kramp, Pequot. Second, No. 5560, $1, Claud Mitchell, Pine River. Third, No. 6676, 50 cents, Mes. Edward Seidel, Pequot.

Lot 255, beets mammoth long red, first, No. 5561, $1.50, Claud Mitchell, Pine River. Second, No. 4581, $1, A. T. Kimball, Pequot. Third, No. 4744, 50 cents, J. P. Bakken, Pequot.

Lot 256, beets, any other variety, first, No. 4537, $1.50, Anton Pederson.

Lot 253, muskmelons, first, No. 5632, $1.50, Bert Sabin, Mission. Second, No. 6970, $

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

By Ingersoll & Wieland

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
 One Month..... Forty Cents
 One Year, strictly in advance Four Dollars
 Office in Dispatch Building on 6th St.
 Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1914

THE FUNERAL EXERCISES

Every element of the republican party stood solidly together against the hundred-million dollar tax which President Wilson ordered on the people to make up for the extravagance of his party in congress. Orders from the White House were to rush the bill through the House, so to prevent discussion the "gag rule" was employed and the valiant body of republicans, standing shoulder to shoulder, went down fighting against the overwhelming odds of the democratic majority.

"We are gagged and bound, but we can protest," shouted Minority Leader James R. Mann, in closing the republican debate, "and yet I am glad to be here at the funeral exercises of the democratic party."

WOULD EXCLUDE CIVIL SERVICE

The breaking up of the civil service, under which merit and not political reward has been the basis of appointment for years, has become almost a national scandal. This has been done by a democratic congress with the knowledge and approval of President Wilson. Republican senators and representatives are astonished at the complacency with which Mr. Wilson is permitting the disruption of the merit system, built up through successive administrations regardless of politics. A statement by Senator Jones, of the state of Washington, expresses the situation: "This administration came into power upon a positive pledge to observe and maintain the civil service," said the senator. "It has attacked that system at every opportunity by express legislative enactment, deputy marshals, deputy collectors, income tax collectors, commercial attaches and other officers have been taken out from under the civil service and have become a part of the spoils of politics."

"This has been done with the consent and approval of the president. Attempts were made to put all post-office employees and the employees of the new currency system under the spoils system and these attempts were frustrated only by republican opposition. In the light of their legislative acts and efforts the democratic profession of devotion to the civil service in the conduct of the business of the government is a farce and a sham."

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS AT DOOR

Minnesota some day can be made the paradise of the tourist, the Switzerland of the United States. The scenic beauties of the north woods, the bracing summer climate, the sky blue waters and the abundant supply of fish and game are unsurpassed. All that is necessary is to develop what we have, and amendment No. 9 for state forests, to be submitted to vote Nov. 3rd, will help to do this. The Adirondacks in New York obtain $18,000,000 a year from the tourist trade; the Maine woods $12,000,000 annually, and one-third of the people of Switzerland are supported by summer vacationists. There is no reason why Minnesota should not be as popular. Our scenery is as attractive as that of New York or Maine. We have the natural advantages of tourist desires and by the development of the opportunities that are ours, the state can be made the mecca of thousands of tourists. They should flock to Minnesota as the recreation-seekers do to Switzerland. By the development of tourist trade the whole state will reap the rewards. The farmer, the merchant, the hotel keeper, each will reap his share. Already hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent in Minnesota by pleasure-seekers from St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, Chicago and other cities of the Mississippi valley. This sum can be multiplied into the millions. We are already gaining the reputation as the playground of the middle west and our state is known to contain more game than any other state east of the Rocky mountains. But in order to retain our natural attractions, we must take care of our forests. They are going fast and with their passing, the game is disappearing as well. The solution lies in the establishment of permanent forests as provided in the ninth amendment. This will not only perpetuate the forests, but they will also serve as refuges for our wild forest life. The state forests amendment is the cornerstone for a policy of this kind. Amendment No. 9 providing for state forests stands for good business. Not to vote at all is to vote against it. Remember this Nov. 3rd.

There will be a great demand for American steel after the European war is ended and the repair work is commenced. In many places the work will be from the foundation as there will be nothing left to repair.

Iowa papers report the return of many of their farmers who went to Canada with great anticipations that have not been realized, and they bring stories of those who went but are unable to finance the return trip, much as they desire to come back.

The republicans will have to recover 72 congressional districts at the coming election now represented by democrats to have a majority in the national house of representatives. It is conceded that gains will be made by the republicans but to what extent has not been guessed at yet by the politicians.

Russian caviar does not all come from Russia. The greater part of imported caviar is sent from America to Russia and is packed and sent back with "Made in Russia" stamped on it and the price raised for five cents worth of fish eggs to from 75 cents and a dollar. The "Swiss" cheese that comes from Michigan and Indiana and many other luxuries that look good to people when they see "imported" on the label can just as well be "made in America."

The people will not be fooled by the name the democrats are trying to give to the hundred-million-dollar democratic deficit tax which we will have to go down into our pockets and pay. The war in Europe offered democratic campaign managers a fine excuse for the tax so they seized it and are using every effort to impress on the people that it is a "war tax." The truth of the whole business is that money had to be provided to meet the democratic deficit due to the wilful extravagance of their own congress and the utter failure of their own tariff law to bring in enough revenue.

Frank Eddy in the Sauk Center Herald hands out the following to Congressman Lindbergh, on the occasion of his recent political speech at Bemidji:

The sixth district member plainly intimates that he could settle all the great public questions, if he could get anyone to agree with him. As an evidence of monumental self-conceit that renders him valueless as a public servant, this address is without a parallel in Minnesota political literature. We might expect such a dissertation from Eugene V. Debs or Emma Goldman, but nothing was ever heard like this before from a public official claiming to be a republican and asking republican votes.

There is more catarrh in the section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 1 drop to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sol. by Druggists. 75c. Hall's Catarrh Pills for constipation.

TROOPS TO QUIT COLORADO

State Will Be in Charge of Strike Zone in November.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 13.—"I expect the federal troops will leave Colorado by the middle of November and if the strike is not settled by that time the state will be prepared to take charge of the situation."

"The militia probably will not be increased above its normal numbers."

Governor Ammons of Colorado, who is here attending the International Dry Farming congress, thus summarized the mine strike situation in his state.

NEW KING IS GIVEN OATH

Prince Ferdinand Takes Throne of Roumania.

London, Oct. 13.—King Ferdinand of Roumania, in the presence of the royal family, the diplomatic corps and other notables, took the oath of office in succession to his uncle, the late King Charles, according to a dispatch from Bucharest, via Amsterdam to the Central News Agency.

The new king announced the intention of directing his labors to the development of the state.

RURAL VOTE TO ELECT WM. E. LEE

Responsibility of Republican Success in Minnesota Rests on Shoulders of Country Voter.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 12.—It is the country vote of Minnesota that decides state elections, but if the country vote does not turn out, the cities exercise more than their proper share of influence. The democrats and their allies, the state brewery machine, are centering tremendous efforts in the three large cities of the state. The vote is sure to come out in the cities, and if the cities should control the coming election, William E. Lee might be defeated. If the farmers and the dwellers in small cities and villages turn out well on Nov. 3, there will be "nothing to it." With this in mind the republican state committee is making every effort bend now toward getting the vote out. They have nothing to fear from a full and free expression of the choice of Minnesota voters.

William E. Lee is strong with the farmers and rural dwellers of Minnesota. In the primaries he carried the state outside of Hennepin, Ramsey and St. Louis counties by 20,000. He lost those three counties by nearly 4,000. He carried Hennepin by 2,538 votes, but lost St. Louis by 2,440, which nearly offset Hennepin, and he lost Ramsey by 3,991 votes. Outside the three counties the vote stood: Eberhart, 55,794; Lee, 76,172.

The three large counties in the general election of 1912 cast 81 per cent of the total vote. Democrats are stronger in the cities than they are in the country. In the primary of June 16 there were 195,222 republican votes cast for governor, and of these 58,643, or 30 per cent, were in the three large counties. These counties cast 15,272 of the total democratic vote of 42,775, or 36 per cent. It is also worth noting that of the 2,874 progressive party votes cast in the primary, 1,223 or 46 per cent were cast in the three large counties.

It is evident that Lee's greatest strength, and the republican party strength in general, lies in the country and it behooves Mr. Lee's friends in the country districts of the state to get their neighbors out to vote. Lee is pretty sure to carry Hennepin county again, but the democrats are fighting hard for it, and Ramsey is likely to go for Hammond by a good margin.

Mr. Lee has developed splendidly in the qualities of an aggressive campaigner. He is inspired by the justice of his cause and has warmed to his task splendidly. He came back with a stunner of a reply to Mr. Hammond's Red Wing speech. Mr. Lee's speech at Buffalo put Mr. Hammond right where he belongs, in the limelight as the brewers' apologist and as their candidate. He will be kept right there till the close of the campaign. The issue is very clearly presented now to the voters. Nobody will have any excuse for misunderstanding it.

Mr. Lee, at Buffalo, showed clearly that the democrats were the political backbone of the brewery political machine, but he did not deny that republicans have had a hand in it, too. Some of the brewery-retained men in the republican party are known to be working their heads off now to elect Mr. Hammond. They are doing it secretly, of course, but they are lining up strikers and hangers-on, distributing money to them and teaching them stories to be repeated by word of mouth, stirring up prejudice against Lee in every conceivable way.

Fred B. Lynch, democratic patronage boss of Minnesota, and the man who made Mr. Hammond a candidate for governor, knows that his prestige in Minnesota and at Washington will suffer by Hammond's defeat. He has been in Washington calling for help, and sent back word that he had induced President Wilson to write a letter urging the election of Hammond and of democratic candidates for congress.

Mr. Lynch also announced that William J. Bryan will come to the Twin Cities to speak on Oct. 27. Now there is a lot of speculation as to what Mr. Bryan will say about Hammond, if anything at all. In the first place, Mr. Bryan's strong views on county option are well known. Because Mayor Jim Dahlgren, of Omaha, who was nominated for governor by the democrats of Nebraska, came out against county option, Mr. Bryan openly bolted in 1910. Now that Mr. Hammond has taken the same position as Dahlgren, how can Bryan advocate his election, is the query.

Minnesota democrats also remember the terrific scoring Wm. J. Bryan gave Hammond when he followed Hammond on the program of the big democratic dinner in St. Paul on June 1, 1911. Mr. Bryan had been denouncing the democratic leaders in the house for not putting raw wool on the free list. On arrival in St. Paul he gave out an interview terming Oscar Underwood and the other members of the ways and means committee protectionists. Mr. Hammond also arrived and gave out an interview defending his committee's action. When called on at the dinner Mr. Hammond avoided the subject carefully. With an appeal for harmony he adroitly passed the tip to Bryan to keep off the troublesome topic. This only aroused the Commoner, and he waded right in, denouncing the democratic leaders for perpetuating "the backbone of the protective system."

"Talk about harmony," shouted Bryan, with flashing eyes, fixing Hammond with his gaze. "You can't have harmony under that kind of leadership unless you betray party principles."

Bryan is not a man to compromise or recant his views. If he comes to Minnesota, it is pretty certain that his speeches will deal in generalities and in extolling the Wilson administration.

If Fred B. Lynch loses out on Hammond and fails to send any democrats to congress from Minnesota, he may lose his grip on federal patronage. "We should worry," say the anti-Lynch democrats.—Republican.

FLAK ITEMS

There was an error in one of the former papers. Sunday school is held every Sunday morning at the home of Mr. Wm. Lewis, instead of Wm. Love.

School commenced in Dist. 23 with Miss Irene Harris as teacher. Miss Laura Nelson, Miss Annie Sincocks and Miss Irene Harris attended the teachers convention in Brainerd.

Mr. George Love returned home from Church Ferry, N. D., where he has been working this fall.

Mr. Chas. Fleischer arrived from La Crosse, Wis., to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Elsie Howard. An auction was held at Mr. M. F. Driver's farm last Wednesday.

Services were held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Wm. Lewis last Wednesday evening.

The threshers have been busy in this community during the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleischer and Mrs. Martha Larkin who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Wm. Love, went to Minneapolis last Saturday.

Mr. Huseby, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Avery, and Mr. Rau attended the board meeting in Brainerd.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Bring back its gloss, lustre, charm and get rid of dandruff—Try the moist cloth

To be possessed of a head of heavy beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Advt.

LOSSES SINCE WAR BEGAN

Prussian Casualty Lists Account for 211,000 Men.

London, Oct. 13.—The forty-four lists of losses in the Prussian army, which have been published, contain a total of 211,000 killed, wounded and missing, according to a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam.

The lists do not include losses among the Bavarians, Saxons and Wurttembergians.

ALLIES GAIN GROUND AT SEVERAL POINTS.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The following official statement was given out:

"There is nothing in particular to report."

"Violent attacks have occurred along the front. We have gained ground at some points and we have not lost any place."

ILLINOIS OFFICIAL ENDS LIFE

Secretary of State Harry Woods Shoots Himself.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13.—Harry Woods, secretary of state for Illinois, committed suicide by shooting. In connection with his death it is recalled that a subordinate recently resigned in the secretary's office, alleging that he found it impossible to carry out his superior's erratic orders.

A Hot One.

He—Girls are queer creatures; they marry the first fool who asks them, as a rule. I suppose you'd do the same, wouldn't you? She—Suppose you ask me and find out.—Boston Transcript.

Tommy's Share.

"Well, Tommy, what part of the chicken will you have?" "Why, paw, you know I always take the back when there's company."—St. Louis Republic.

Got Them All.

Golfer (playing his second round in the day)—Into this beastly bunker again, caddie! Caddie—No, sir. This is the one you missed this morning.—London Punch.

RICHES BY MEANS OF ENDLESS CHAIN

Combining Conservative Investment With Speculation.

SAFE BONDS AS FOUNDATION

Preferred, Dividend Paying Common and Speculative Stocks Accumulated in Systematic Order—Banker Tells How Anybody Able to Save Money Can Start on the Road to Success.

A New York man who had saved a little money and wanted to invest it sought advice from the manager of his bank, says the New York Times. "I want to put this money where it will be absolutely safe," he explained. "I want something in the line of securities, something that won't require any attention from me, something that I won't have to worry about, that will bring me in an income and that at the same time will combine the security of an investment with the excitement of a speculation."

"That is a rather large order," commented the banker. "You seem to want to eat your bread and keep it too. It can't be done. If you buy stocks or bonds you've got to be either an investor or a speculator. There is no safe middle ground where you can be both investor and speculator."

"Now, my friend, let me tell you a true story. It may do you some good. It's about a man I know, now a solid citizen of this neighborhood, who twenty years ago was in very much the same situation as you are at this minute. He had saved a little money and wanted to invest it. He wanted both an investment and a speculation, but he concluded that they wouldn't mix any more than oil and water, so he decided to confine himself to investment. Safety first—that was his idea, and it was a mighty good one."

"He had about $1,000, and with that he bought a good, safe railroad bond that brought him in 5 per cent on the amount invested. Next year he saved another $1,000 and bought another bond—not of the same issue, because he didn't want to put all his eggs in the same basket."

"Every year since then he has saved $1,000 and bought a bond."

"The income from his bonds he has invested each year in good, safe, dividend paying preferred stock, something that would bring him in an average of between 6 and 7 per cent on the amount invested. For instance, the first year of his career as a bondholder he received something like $50 in interest. He put that in the savings bank, where in the course of the next year it earned him $2. The second year he had, of course, two bonds, and the interest amounted to something like $100. With that and a little more from his savings he bought his first share of preferred stock."

"He has followed the same plan ever since. As soon as he gets the interest from his bonds into his hands he buys preferred stock—buys it outright. "All these years, of course, our friend has been receiving an income from his preferred stock. At first all he had was one share, and that brought him in only about $7 a year. But gradually as he has increased his holdings of preferred stock, his income from that source has grown, and now it is considerable. All that his preferred stock has brought him in he has invested in dividend paying common stock."

"His common stock brings him in a little more than 8 per cent. Investing in common stock, of course, is more or less of a speculation under almost any circumstances, but it wasn't enough of a speculation to satisfy the latent gambling fever in this man—the fever that he had smothered all these years—so when he began to get an income from common stock he cut loose. Every cent his common stock has brought in he has invested in purely speculative ventures."

"Today, as a result of his systematic saving and investment of $1,000 a year for twenty years, this man has from his first class investments bonds worth $20,000 or more, from his second preferred stock worth easily $12,500 and from his third common stock that in any normal market he could sell for, say, $6,000, all together bringing him in a liberal and steady income. In addition, he has his purely speculative investments, and they are worth perhaps all told $20,000. Thus our friend is worth nearly $60,000 in income bringing securities."

"Even if his speculative purchases had resulted in a total loss he would still have bonds and stocks bringing him in a comfortable return. He would have gratified his craving for speculation without anything approaching complete disaster."

"Now he's started a new cycle—a second series. He's canny. All the money he gets from his fourth line of investments—mining stocks and so forth—he puts into bonds. Otherwise, he hasn't changed his plan a particle. Bonds yield him preferred stock, that in turn dividend paying common stock, that in its turn speculative nondividend paying securities, and those, when they begin to pay, more bonds. It's an endless chain, an unbeatable system. Anybody who can save money can make it produce, and it isn't necessary to have $1,000 to start."

"Buy me $1,000 worth," said the investor. "I'll start an endless chain."

WHITLOCK WON'T BE GERMAN MESSENGER

Refuses to Forward Antwerp Bombardment Notification.

Washington, Oct. 13.—An official report received here describes the efforts of German military authorities at Brussels to send word through the American legation to the people of Antwerp of the intended bombardment of that city.

German officials asked Minister Whitlock to transmit the notification, which, under article 26 of The Hague convention, an invading force is obliged to give to the people of a city about to be bombarded.

Mr. Whitlock refused, however, desiring, in accordance with the strict neutrality of the United States, not to be the bearer of military messages. The Germans insisted that all other means of communication had failed.

The Spanish minister, who was in conference with Mr. Whitlock when the representations were made, decided to send the Spanish naval attaché to Antwerp with the notification.

SITUATION IS FAVORABLE

How Berlin Official Statement Regards Events.

London, Oct. 13.—The following official statement has been received from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company:

"Enormous quantities of provisions of all kinds were captured in Antwerp. The garrison of the northern forts and 13,000 English fled to Holland, where they were disarmed. The English themselves are said to have blown up ten Antwerp forts. The Belgians estimate they lost 20,000 men as prisoners. When the fall of Antwerp was made known to the allies the French cavalry was withdrawn in the direction of Arras."

"The interrupted artillery engagement in the Woerpe region was resumed. At the same time the German right wing and center resumed the bombardment of Rheims."

"On the whole the situation for the Germans is favorable. "Before his departure for the front Emperor William promoted Prince Joachim (youngest son of the emperor) to the rank of cavalry captain."

"It is reported that a Russian fleet of eight large vessels and ten small ships was sighted Saturday near Kustendje (a seaport of Roumania on the Black sea), steaming in a southerly direction."

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH

THE DISPATCH

Covers the news of the entire Cuyuna range and to get this information subscribe now.

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE ICEMAN WARMS UP TO THE GOOD JUDGE

JUST because you want tobacco satisfaction is no reason why you need to put a big wad in your cheek, and then have to grind on it. A small chew of "Right-Cut" satisfies you. It's the Real Tobacco Chew. The glad news spreads from friend to friend.

Very likely you yourself have already started several of your friends on "Right-Cut."

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shreds so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

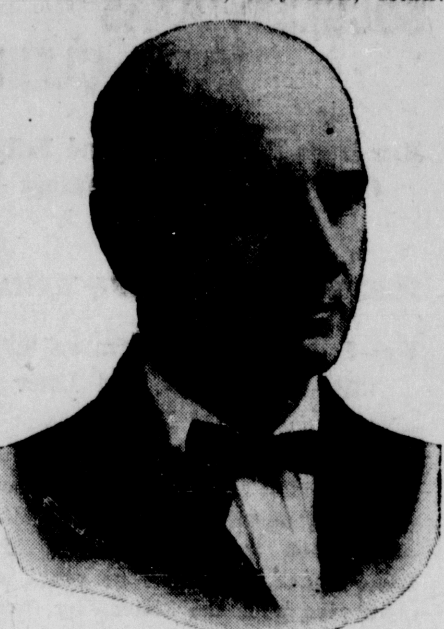

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
 50 Union Square, New York

BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND 10¢ STAMPS TO US.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

This advertisement costing $8.10 is authorized by and paid for by Charles W. Bouck, Royalton, Minn.

CHARLES W. BOUCK

Non-Partisan Candidate for Representative at large Fifty-third Legislative District comprising Crow Wing and Morrison Counties.

Election November 3, 1914.

Typewriters
 STANDARD REBUILT
 Visible Typewriters. Latest Models at Half Price.
 Guaranteed. You Can RENT One at $2 a Month.
 Write Today for Illustrated Booklet to
 K. B. MILLARD, LITTLE FALLS, MINN.

You May Have Beautiful Hair

The secret is a clean, healthy scalp. Don't wash the scalp with soap—it parches the scalp and leaves the hair dull, listless and brittle—without life.
MASON'S Magic Shampoo
 makes a clean, healthy scalp, by the tonic action of its sweet vegetable oils and antiseptics, from which an abundance of lustrous, beautiful hair will grow. Leaves hair soft, fluffy and easy to do up. 50 days' use proves it.
 Best Druggists Everywhere, 25c, 50c.
 For sale by H. P. Dunn's drug store.

Little Falls BUSINESS COLLEGE

IT'S THE SCHOOL FOR YOU. Write today for catalogue and particulars.

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

By Ingersoll & Wieland

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One Month.....Forty Cents
One Year, strictly in advance Four Dollars

Office in Dispatch Building on 6th St.

Entered at the post office at Brainerd, Minn., as second class matter.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1914

THE FUNERAL EXERCISES

Every element of the republican party stood solidly together against the hundred-million dollar tax which President Wilson ordered on the people to make up for the extravagance of his party in congress. Orders from the White House were to rush the bill through the House, so to prevent discussion the "gag rule" was employed and the valiant body of republicans, standing shoulder to shoulder, went down fighting against the overwhelming odds of the democratic majority.

"We are gagged and bound, but we can protest," shouted Minority Leader James R. Mann, in closing the republican debate, "and yet I am glad to be here at the funeral exercises of the democratic party."

WOULD EXCLUDE CIVIL SERVICE

The breaking up of the civil service, under which merit and not political reward has been the basis of appointment for years, has become almost a national scandal. This has been done by a democratic congress with the knowledge and approval of President Wilson. Republican senators and representatives are astonished at the complacency with which Mr. Wilson is permitting the disruption of the merit system, built up through successive administrations regardless of politics. A statement by Senator Jones, of the state of Washington, expresses the situation:

"This administration came into power upon a positive pledge to observe and maintain the civil service," said the senator. "It has attacked that system at every opportunity by express legislative enactment, deputy marshals, deputy collectors, income tax collectors, commercial attaches and other officers have been taken out from under the civil service and have become a part of the spoils of politics."

"This has been done with the consent and approval of the president. Attempts were made to put all post-office employees and the employees of the new currency system under the spoils system and these attempts were frustrated only by republican opposition. In the light of their legislative acts and efforts the democratic profession of devotion to the civil service in the conduct of the business of the government is a farce and a sham."

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS AT DOOR

Minnesota some day can be made the paradise of the tourist, the Switzerland of the United States. The scenic beauties of the north woods, the bracing summer climate, the sky blue waters and the abundant supply of fish and game are unsurpassed. All that is necessary is to develop what we have, and amendment No. 9 for state forests, to be submitted to vote Nov. 3rd, will help to do this. The Adirondacks in New York obtain $18,000,000 a year from the tourist trade; the Maine woods $12,000,000 annually, and one-third of the people of Switzerland are supported by summer vacationists. There is no reason why Minnesota should not be as popular. Our scenery is as attractive as that of New York or Maine. We have the natural advantages of tourist desires and by the development of the opportunities that are ours, the state can be made the mecca of thousands of tourists. They should flock to Minnesota as the recreation-seekers do to Switzerland. By the development of tourist trade the whole state will reap the rewards. The farmer, the merchant, the hotel keeper, each will reap his share. Already hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent in Minnesota by pleasure-seekers from St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, Chicago and other cities of the Mississippi valley. This sum can be multiplied into the millions. We are already gaining the reputation as the playground of the middle west and our state is known to contain more game than any other state east of the Rocky mountains. But in order to retain our natural attractions, we must take care of our forests. They are going fast and with their passing, the game is disappearing as well. The solution lies in the establishment of permanent forests as provided in the ninth amendment. This will not only perpetuate the forests, but they will also serve as refuges for our wild forest life. The state forests amendment is the cornerstone for a policy of this kind. Amendment No. 9 providing for state forests stands for good business. Not to vote at all is to vote against it. Remember this Nov. 3rd.

There will be a great demand for American steel after the European war is ended and the repair work is commenced. In many places the work will be from the foundation as there will be nothing left to repair.

Iowa papers report the return of many of their farmers who went to Canada with great anticipations that have not been realized, and they bring stories of those who went but are unable to finance the return trip, much as they desire to come back.

The republicans will have to recover 72 congressional districts at the coming election now represented by democrats to have a majority in the national house of representatives. It is conceded that gains will be made by the republicans but to what extent has not been guessed at yet by the politicians.

Russian caviar does not all come from Russia. The greater part of imported caviar is sent from America to Russia and is packed and sent back with "Made in Russia" stamped on it and the price raised for five cents worth of fish eggs to from 75 cents and a dollar. The "Swiss" cheese that comes from Michigan and Indiana and many other luxuries that loop good to people when they see "imported" on the label can just as well be "made in America."

The people will not be fooled by the name the democrats are trying to give to the hundred-million-dollar democratic deficit tax which we will have to go down into our pockets and pay. The war in Europe offered democratic campaign managers a fine excuse for the tax so they seized it and are using every effort to impress on the people that it is a "war tax." The truth of the whole business is that money had to be provided to meet the democratic deficit due to the wilful extravagance of their own congress and the utter failure of their own tariff law to bring in enough revenue.

Frank Eddy in the Sault Center Herald hands out the following to Congressman Lindbergh, on the occasion of his recent political speech at Bemidji:

The sixth district member plainly intimates that he could settle all the great public questions, if he could get anyone to agree with him. As an evidence of monumental self-conceit that renders him valueless as a public servant, this address is without a parallel in Minnesota political literature. We might expect such a dissertation from Eugene V. Debs or Emma Goldman, but nothing was ever heard like this before from a public official claiming to be a republican and asking republican votes.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together. And until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 1 drop to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
Sole Dispensers, 25c
Hall's Catarrh Pills for constipation.

TROOPS TO QUIT COLORADO

State Will Be in Charge of Strike Zone in November.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 13.—"I expect the federal troops will leave Colorado by the middle of November and if the strike is not settled by that time the state will be prepared to take charge of the situation."

"The militia probably will not be increased above its normal numbers." Governor Ammons of Colorado, who is here attending the International Dry Farming congress, thus summarized the mine strike situation in his state.

NEW KING IS GIVEN OATH

Prince Ferdinand Takes Throne of Roumania.

London, Oct. 13.—King Ferdinand of Roumania, in the presence of the royal family, the diplomatic corps and other notables, took the oath of office in succession to his uncle, the late King Charles, according to a dispatch from Bucharest, via Amsterdam to the Central News' agency.

The new king announced the intention of directing his labors to the development of the state.

RURAL VOTE TO ELECT WM. E. LEE

Responsibility of Republican Success in Minnesota Rests on Shoulders of Country Voter.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 12.—It is the country vote of Minnesota that decides state elections, but if the country vote does not turn out, the cities exercise more than their proper share of influence. The democrats and their allies, the state brewery machine, are centering tremendous efforts in the three large cities of the state, and if the cities should control the coming election, William E. Lee might be defeated. If the farmers and the dwellers in small cities and villages turn out well on Nov. 3, there will be "nothing to it." With this in mind the republican state committee is making every effort bend now toward getting the vote out. They have nothing to fear from a full and free expression of the choice of Minnesota voters.

William E. Lee is strong with the farmers and rural dwellers of Minnesota. In the primaries he carried the state outside of Hennepin, Ramsey and St. Louis counties by 20,000. He lost those three counties by nearly 4,000. He carried Hennepin by 2,536 votes, but lost St. Louis by 2,440, which nearly offset Hennepin, and he lost Ramsey by 3,991 votes. Outside the three counties the vote stood: Eberhart, 55,794; Lee, 76,172.

The three large counties in the general election of 1912 cast 31 per cent of the total vote. Democrats are stronger in the cities than they are in the country. In the primary of June 16 there were 195,222 republican votes cast for governor, and of these 58,543, or 30 per cent, were in the three large counties. These counties cast 15,272 of the total democratic vote of 42,775, or 35 per cent. It is also worth noting that of the 2,874 progressive party votes cast in the primary, 1,223 or 46 per cent were cast in the three large counties.

It is evident that Lee's greatest strength, and the republican party strength in general, lies in the country and it behooves Mr. Lee's friends in the country districts of the state to get their neighbors out to vote. Lee is pretty sure to carry Hennepin county again, but the democrats are fighting hard for it, and Ramsey is likely to go for Hammond by a good margin.

Mr. Lee has developed splendidly in the qualities of an aggressive campaigner. He is inspired by the justice of his cause and has warmed to his task splendidly. He came back with a stunner of a reply to Mr. Hammond's Red Wing speech. Mr. Lee's speech at Buffalo put Mr. Hammond right where he belongs, in the limelight as the brewers' apologist and as their candidate. He will be kept right there till the close of the campaign. The issue is very clearly presented now to the voters. Nobody will have any excuse for misunderstanding it.

Mr. Lee, at Buffalo, showed clearly that democrats were the political backbone of the brewery political machine, but he did not deny that republicans have had a hand in it, too. Some of the brewery-retained men in the republican party are known to be working their heads off now to elect Mr. Hammond. They are doing it secretly, of course, but they are lining up strikers and hangers-on, distributing brewery money to them and teaching them stories to be repeated by word of mouth, stirring up prejudice against Lee in every conceivable way.

Fred B. Lynch, democratic patronage boss of Minnesota, and the man who made Mr. Hammond a candidate for governor, knows that his prestige in Minnesota and at Washington will suffer by Hammond's defeat. He has been in Washington calling for help, and sent back word that he had induced President Wilson to write a letter urging the election of Hammond and of democratic candidates for congress.

Mr. Lynch also announced that William J. Bryan will come to the Twin Cities to speak on Oct. 27. Now there is a lot of speculation as to what Mr. Bryan will say about Hammond, if anything at all. In the first place, Mr. Bryan's strong views on county option are well known. Because Mayor Jim Dahlman, of Omaha, who was nominated for governor by the democrats of Nebraska, came out against county option, Mr. Bryan openly bolted in 1910. Now that Mr. Hammond has taken the same position as Dahlman, how can Bryan advocate his election, is the query.

Minnesota democrats also remember the terrific scoring Wm. J. Bryan gave Hammond when he followed Hammond on the program of the big democratic dinner in St. Paul on June 1, 1911. Mr. Bryan had been denouncing the democratic leaders in the house for not putting ray von on the free list. On arrival in St. Paul he gave out an interview terming Oscar Underwood and the other members of the ways and means committee protectionists. Mr. Hammond also arrived and gave out an interview defending his committee's action. When called on at the dinner Mr. Hammond avoided the subject carefully. With an appeal for harmony he adroitly passed the tip to Bryan to keep off the troublesome topic. This only aroused the Commoner, and he waded right in, denouncing the democratic leaders for perpetuating "the backbone of the protective system."

"Talk about harmony," shouted Bryan, with flashing eyes, fixing Hammond with his gaze. "You can't have harmony under that kind of leadership unless you betray party principles."

Bryan is not a man to compromise or recant his views. If he comes to Minnesota, it is pretty certain that his speeches will deal in generalities and in extolling the Wilson administration. If Fred B. Lynch loses out on Hammond and fails to send any democrats to congress from Minnesota, he may lose his grip on federal patronage. "We should worry," say the anti-Lynch democrats—Republicans.

FLAK ITEMS

There was an error in one of the former papers. Sunday school is held every Sunday morning at the home of Mr. Wm. Lewis, instead of Wm. Love.

School commenced in Dist. 23 with Miss Irene Harris as teacher. Miss Laura Nelson, Miss Annie Sincocks and Miss Irene Harris attended the teachers convention in Brainerd.

Mr. George Love returned home from Churches Ferry, N. D., where he has been working this fall.

Mr. Chas. Fleischer arrived from La Crosse, Wis., to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Elsie Howard.

An auction was held at Mr. M. F. Driver's farm last Wednesday.

Services were held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Wm. Lewis last Wednesday evening.

The threshers have been busy in this community during the last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleischer and Mrs. Martha Larkin who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Wm. Love, went to Minneapolis last Saturday.

Mr. Huseby, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Avery, and Mr. Rau attended the board meeting in Brainerd.

GIRLS! THICKEN AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Bring back its gloss, lustre, charm and get rid of dandruff—Try the moist cloth

To be possessed of a head of heavy beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Adv't.

LOSSES SINCE WAR BEGAN

Prussian Casualty Lists Account for 211,000 Men.

London, Oct. 13.—The forty-four lists of losses in the Prussian army, which have been published, contain a total of 211,000 killed, wounded and missing, according to a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam.

The lists do not include losses among the Bavarians, Saxons and Wurttembergians.

ALLIES GAIN GROUND AT SEVERAL POINTS.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The following official statement was given out:

"There is nothing in particular to report. Violent attacks have occurred along the front. We have gained ground at some points and we have not lost any place."

ILLINOIS OFFICIAL ENDS LIFE

Secretary of State Harry Woods Shoots Himself.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13.—Harry Woods, secretary of state for Illinois, committed suicide by shooting. In connection with his death it is recalled that a subordinate recently resigned in the secretary's office, alleging that he found it impossible to carry out his superior's erratic orders.

A Hot One. He—Girls are queer creatures; they marry the first fool who asks them, as a rule. I suppose you'd do the same, wouldn't you? She—Suppose you ask me and find out.—Boston Transcript.

Tommy's Share. "Well, Tommy, what part of the chicken will you have?"

"Why, paw, you know I always take the back when there's company."—St. Louis Republic.

Got Them All. Golfer (playing his second round in the day)—Into this beastly bunker again, caddy! Caddy—No, sir. This is the one you missed this morning.—London Punch.

RICHES BY MEANS OF ENDLESS CHAIN

Combining Conservative Investment With Speculation.

SAFE BONDS AS FOUNDATION

Preferred, Dividend Paying Common and Speculative Stocks Accumulated in Systematic Order—Banker Tells How Anybody Able to Save Money Can Start on the Road to Success.

A New York man who had saved a little money and wanted to invest it sought advice from the manager of his bank, says the New York Times. "I want to put this money where it will be absolutely safe," he explained. "I want something in the line of securities, something that won't require any attention from me, something that I won't have to worry about, that will bring me in an income and that at the same time will combine the security of an investment with the excitement of a speculation."

"That is a rather large order," commented the banker. "You seem to want to eat your bread and keep it too. It can't be done. If you buy stocks or bonds you've got to be either an investor or a speculator. There is no safe middle ground where you can be both investor and speculator."

"Now, my friend, let me tell you a true story. It may do you some good. It's about a man I know, now a solid citizen of this neighborhood, who twenty years ago was in very much the same situation as you are at this minute. He had saved a little money and wanted to invest it. He wanted both an investment and a speculation, but he concluded that they wouldn't mix any more than oil and water, so he decided to confine himself to investment. Safety first—that was his idea, and it was a mighty good one."

"He had about $1,000, and with that he bought a good, safe railroad bond that brought him in 5 per cent on the amount invested. Next year he saved another $1,000 and bought another bond—not of the same issue, because he didn't want to put all his eggs in the same basket."

"Every year since then he has saved $1,000 and bought a bond."

"The income from his bonds he has invested each year in good, safe, dividend paying preferred stock, something that would bring him in an average of between 6 and 7 per cent on the amount invested. For instance, the first year of his career as a bondholder he received something like $50 in interest. He put that in the savings bank, where in the course of the next year he earned him $2. The second year he had, of course, two bonds, and the interest amounted to something like $100. With that and a little more from his savings he bought his first share of preferred stock."

"He has followed the same plan ever since. As soon as he gets the interest from his bonds into his hands he buys preferred stock—buys it outright."

"All these years, of course, our friend has been receiving an income from his preferred stock. At first all he had was one share, and that brought him in only about $7 a year. But gradually as he has increased his holdings of preferred stock, his income from that source has grown, and now it is considerable. All that his preferred stock has brought him in he has invested in dividend paying common stock."

"His common stock brings him in a little more than 8 per cent. Investing in common stock, of course, is more or less of a speculation under almost any circumstances, but it wasn't enough of a speculation to satisfy the latent gambling fever in this man—the fever that he had smothered all these years—so when he began to get an income from common stock he cut loose. Every cent his common stock has brought in he has invested in purely speculative ventures."

"Today, as a result of his systematic saving and investment of $1,000 a year for twenty years, this man has from his first class investments bonds worth $20,000 or more, from his second preferred stock worth easily $12,500 and from his third common stock that in any normal market he could sell for, say, $6,000, all together bringing him in a liberal and steady income. In addition, he has his purely speculative investments, and they are worth perhaps all told $20,000. Thus our friend is worth nearly $60,000 in income bringing securities."

"Even if his speculative purchases had resulted in a total loss he would still have bonds and stocks bringing him in a comfortable return. He would have gratified his craving for speculation without anything approaching complete disaster."

"Now he's started a new cycle—a second series. He's canny. All the money he gets from his fourth line of investments—mining stocks and so forth—he puts into bonds. Otherwise, he hasn't changed his plan a particle. Bonds yield him preferred stock, that in its turn speculative nondividend paying securities, and those, when they begin to pay, more bonds. It's an endless chain, an unbeatable system. Anybody who can save money can make it produce, and it isn't necessary to have $1,000 to start."

"Buy me $1,000 worth," said the investor. "I'll start an endless chain."

WHITLOCK WON'T BE GERMAN MESSENGER

Refuses to Forward Antwerp Bombardment Notification.

Washington, Oct. 13.—An official report received here describes the efforts of German military authorities at Brussels to send word through the American legation to the people of Antwerp of the intended bombardment of that city.

German officials asked Minister Whitlock to transmit the notification, which, under article 26 of The Hague convention, an invading force is obliged to give to the people of a city about to be bombarded.

Mr. Whitlock refused, however, desiring, in accordance with the strict neutrality of the United States, not to be the bearer of military messages. The Germans insisted that all other means of communication had failed.

The Spanish minister, who was in conference with Mr. Whitlock when the representations were made, decided to send the Spanish naval attaché to Antwerp with the notification.

SITUATION IS FAVORABLE

How Berlin Official Statement Regards Events.

London, Oct. 13.—The following official statement has been received from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph company:

"Enormous quantities of provisions of all kinds were captured in Antwerp. The garrison of the northern forts and 13,000 English fled to Holland, where they were disarmed. The English themselves are said to have blown up ten Antwerp forts. The Belgians estimate they lost 20,000 men as prisoners. When the fall of Antwerp was made known to the allies the French cavalry was withdrawn in the direction of Arras."

"The interrupted artillery engagement in the Woerwe region was resumed. At the same time the German right wing and center resumed the bombardment of Rheims."

"On the whole the situation for the Germans is favorable."

"Before his departure for the front Emperor William promoted Prince Joachim (youngest son of the emperor) to the rank of cavalry captain."

"It is reported that a Russian fleet of eight large vessels and ten small ships was sighted Saturday near Kustendje (a seaport of Roumania on the Black sea), steaming in a southerly direction."

THE BRAINERD DISPATCH

THE DISPATCH

Covers the news of the entire Cuyuna range and to get this information subscribe now.

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

THE ICEMAN WARMS UP TO THE GOOD JUDGE

JUST because you want tobacco satisfaction is no reason why you need to put a big wad in your cheek, and then have to grind on it. A small chew of "Right-Cut" satisfies you. It's the Real Tobacco Chew. The glad news spreads from friend to friend.

Very likely you yourself have already started several of your friends on "Right-Cut."

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short and so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licience. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

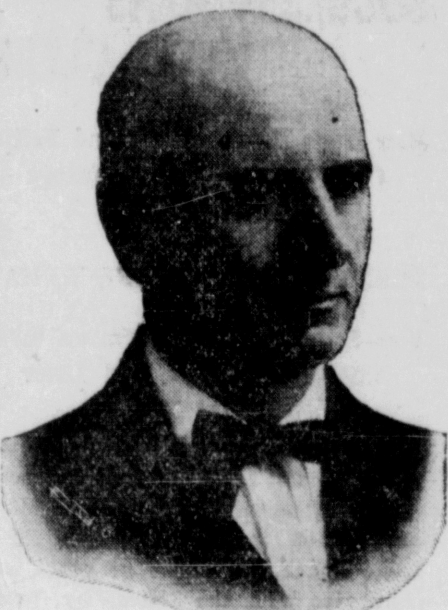

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY
50 Union Square, New York

BUY FROM DEALER OR SEND 10¢ STAMPS TO US

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

This advertisement costing $8.10 is authorized by and paid for by Charles W. Bouck, Roylton, Minn.

CHARLES W. BOUCK

Non-Partisan Candidate for Representative at large Fifty-third Legislative District comprising Crow Wing and Morrison Counties.

Election November 3, 1914.

Typewriters
STANDARD REBUILD
Visiting Typewriters. Latest Models at Half Price. Guaranteed. You Can RENT One at $2 a Month. Write Today for Illustrated Booklet to R. B. MILLARD, LITTLE FALLS, MINN.

You May Have Beautiful Hair
The secret is a clean, healthy scalp. Don't wash the scalp with soap—it parches the scalp and leaves the hair dull, lusterless and brittle—without life.
MASON'S Magic Shampoo
makes a clean, healthy scalp, by the tonic action of its sweet vegetable oil and antiseptic, from which an abundance of lustrous, beautiful hair will grow. Leaves hair soft, fluffy and easy to do up. 10 days' use proves it.
Best Druggists Everywhere, 25c, 50c. For sale by H. P. Dunn's drug store.

Little Falls BUSINESS COLLEGE
IT'S THE SCHOOL FOR YOU. Write today for catalogue and particulars.

LES. BUSH GREAT EVEN IN DEFEAT

Pitched a Magnificent Game and Deserved to Win is the General Consensus of Opinion

BRAINERD'S TAR BARRELS

"We Feel Just as Good Over it as if Leslie Had Won," Said Wm. Wood Yesterday

Brainerd is proud of Leslie Joe Bullet Bush and his mound performance in the memorable twelve-inning game.

In Brainerd Monday night reposed tar barrels, boxes and kindling ready to set off in one grand magnificent blaze when the winning run trotted in. At the bulletin boards Brainerd gasped and held its breath 12 innings as victory surged back and forth.

"We don't care if the Athletics lose the series, but we want Bush to win his game." That was the general expression in town and up the Minnesota & International railway territory, where John W. Bush, Leslie's father, was taking his train on its regular run.

At home was his mother breathing a prayer that Les would win. And when it was all over, his friends who have boosted for Bush when he was not so famous, cheered him by sending reams of telegrams.

William Wood, father of the renowned "Fatty" Wood, first trainer of Bush, almost shed tears and his voice broke as he said: "We feel just as good over Les as if he had won." "You did your level best, Leslie. No man could do more," wired John A. Hoffbauer.

Wiring their congratulations for his magnificent work were Wm. Wood, Tom McIntyre, C. D. Peacock, George Warner, C. D. Johnson, John Willis, Fatty Wood, E. L. Orth, Ralph Quinn and G. H. Warner.

"Gowdy's home run punch in the tenth robbed Bush of a well earned victory," said Fred C. Cook.

"Bush looms up just as great in this series as he did when he first pitched in last year's series," said another fan. "He showed his gameness and his staying power."

The Duluth Herald, always a steady booster of Bush, printed Bush's picture on the front page and the uniform he wore then was the grand, old Brainerd suit with the big white "B" on it.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press, one of the best boosters in the entire Northwest for Bush, days ago loaned the Brainerd Dispatch the fine picture of Bush drawn by Ripley which was run in Monday's Brainerd Dispatch. The Pioneer Press and the St. Paul Dispatch have always featured Bush whenever he did commendable work and their predictions of the series this year took into account Bush.

What some termed a wild throw to left field in the twelfth must have been a peg to third by Bush to force a runner.

When Gowdy cracked his home run in the tenth on about the first ball pitched, it was enough to shake the confidence of the stoutest pitcher. And Bush mastered that and still held out two innings more.

Stallings switched in James and took out Tyler. Stallings put in fresh runners.

HE PAID FOR THE TURKEY

W. H. Onstine Denies That he Was Haled Before Judge J. J. Crowell's Justice Court

Game Warden W. H. Onstine has issued a statement wherein he denies that he was ever haled before J. J. Crowell's justice court for shooting a turkey and that he ever paid any fine in that court.

Mr. Onstine says he settled with the original owner of the turkey, thus compensating him for the untimely demise of the bird.

Bad Fire at Elk River

Elk River village, which has had a large portion of its business block burned two or three times in the past few years, was visited by another serious fire on Saturday night, in which the big cement building occupied by the Daley Hardware company, was completely gutted. A man occupying the upper story had a narrow escape and his face and hands were badly burned. The loss is estimated to be $20,000. Elk River has no water works and the engine was attached to an artesian well, and the supply was very limited. It is understood the loss was partly covered with insurance. The fire was so hot that the glass in the First National bank windows across the street were badly cracked.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

BOSTON BRAVES COP THE WHOLE SERIES

Phil. -----000 010 000--1 7 0
Boston -----000 120 00x--3 6 0
Boston, Oct. 13.—Boston won the fourth game of the world's series, 3 to 1, making it four straight against the Mackmen.

The batteries were Shawkey, Pennock and Schang for the Athletics, and Rudolph and Gowdy for the Boston Braves.

Boston made its first run in the fourth inning when Shawkey lost control, pitching everywhere but over the pan.

In the fifth inning Boston scored twice when Rudolph singled to center on the first ball. Moran doubled to left center. Rudolph reaching third. Evers singled to center, scoring Rudolph and Moran.

Pennock went into the box for Philadelphia in the sixth inning.

VOTERS SHOULD BE POSTED

On Tuesday, November 3d, the People of This City and County Will be Called Upon

TO VOTE FOR THIRTY OFFICERS
Wide Range Covered by State Constitutional Amendments to be Voted For at Election

Eleven constitutional amendments will be voted for at the coming election on November 3d in addition to 30 officers, state, district and county, and it behooves the voters to study the matter thoroughly that they may be familiar with the proposition confronting them.

The state officers to be elected are: governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general, one associate justice of the supreme court, clerk of the supreme court, one railroad and warehouse commissioner; district officers: congressional representative from the sixth district, one senator and two representatives. The county officers to be elected are: auditor, treasurer, register of deeds, sheriff, judge of probate court, attorney, surveyor, court commissioner, coroner and commissioners from the 2d and 4th commissioners districts.

The list of amendments to be submitted for approval or rejection are: First—A provisions for direct legislation by the people through the initiative and referendum.

Second—Increasing the number of associate justices of the supreme court from four to six and providing that no statute shall be held unconstitutional by less than five judges; the clerk to be appointed by the court.

Third—Setting apart a revolving fund from the school and swamp land funds to be used in constructing roads, ditches and fire breaks in and around unsold school and swamp lands.

Fourth—Repealing that section providing for the publication in a St. Paul newspaper annually the report of the state auditor.

Fifth—Authorizing the investment of school funds in improved farm land within the state.

Sixth—Providing for the extension of the term of office of probate judge to four years.

Seventh—Relating to the number of members of the senate and house of representatives, and the basis of their apportionment.

Eighth—Relating to the payment of tree bounties by the state to encourage reforestation.

Ninth—Authorizing the designation of certain of the state's lands as forests.

Tenth—Providing for the recall of public officials.

Eleventh—Requiring the taxation of dogs and from the fund derived from such tax, authorizing payment of the damages sustained by the owners of other domestic animals by reason of injuries caused by dogs.

Voters will have their last opportunity to register on Oct. 24.

TO ROTATE NAMES

Names on County Ballots to be Rotated the Same as Done in the Past, Says County Auditor

Names on the ballots referring to county offices will be rotated the same as in past years, said County Auditor J. F. Smart, whose province it is to prepare the ballots for the printers.

This relieves the apprehension on the part of many people that the names were not to be rotated this year.

WHAT ABOUT COUNTY TAXES?

Stated that Practically No Assessment Will be Made of the Range by Tax Commission

WILL HOLD GOOD TWO YEARS

Range Towns Thus Assured of Little Income for Schools, County also Not Benefited

John H. Hill, a mining man of the Cuyuna range, said that practically no assessment was to be made of the range by the Minnesota State Tax commission. D. B. McAlpine, village attorney of Ironton, voiced a protest and urged taxation. It is said a hearing has been set for October 26. As matters stand, it is said, that only a few mines at low tonnage and low valuations are assessed, and this valuation will stand for two years to come.

The villages of Ironton, Crosby, Riverton and Cuyuna will have practically no income for schools and other public institutions. At Ironton the first built school is so crowded that it has been necessary to rent a vacant store building and use of it will have to stop when cold weather sets in, because the room has no heating or ventilating facilities.

The Pennington pit mine shipped 100,000 tons of ore and has paid small taxes commensurate with its holdings, said Mr. Hill. It is assessed at a valuation of $37.50 an acre, said Mr. Hill.

The Barrows mine shipped 10,000 tons in 1913 and 20,000 tons in 1914 and paid very little taxes.

Stockpiles are subject to personal property taxes, but ore in the usual cases is shipped before May 1. It is said a producing mine within the Ironton jurisdiction at one time paid less personal property tax than two Finlanders who had a general store on the main street.

The range villages are not the only ones to feel the loss of taxes accruing from mining operations not taxed at mining figures, but it affects the county as a whole.

If no taxes can be gained from mineral land taxation then the range villages will be compelled, said Mr. Hill, to devise some plan to make the fee owners pay taxes.

Brainerd is interested in this phase of taxation just as much as the range villages and Mr. Hill said the Chamber of Commerce should take up the matter.

It seemed strange that St. Louis county can collect its mineral taxes while Crow Wing county cannot.

THE RECALL AMENDMENT

A. Leslie Robertson of Brainerd High School Wins Second Prize in State Essay Contest

A. Leslie Robertson, of the Brainerd high school, is showing his ability as a prize winner in essay contests and recently won second prize in a state-wide contest.

Early last summer, Rome G. Brown, of Minneapolis, chairman of the American Bar association committee to oppose judicial recall, instituted two prize contests for the best argument against the recall amendment proposed by the last legislature, to be voted on at the general election this fall.

In one contest $100 was to be divided into prizes for arguments written by undergraduate students who were enrolled in Minnesota high schools on April 1, 1914.

Another contest was for the best argument enrolled by undergraduate students enrolled in any Minnesota law school on April 1, 1914. The arguments were required to be submitted on or before Sept. 1. By that date a large number of competitors had entered as contestants. Since then the arguments in the two contests have been passed upon by three judges, whose decision was made without knowledge of the identity of the writers, as each contestant wrote under an assumed name. Mr. Brown himself acted as one of the judges and the other two were Lee Byrd and L. Longbrake, two well-known Minneapolis attorneys. There was great unanimity in the decision.

First prize, $40, went to Arthur O. Lee of the Madison high school, Madison.

Second prize, $25, went to A. Leslie Robertson, of the Brainerd high school, Brainerd.

Notice M. B. A.

M. B. A. members are requested to attend the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, Oct. 13. Initiation lunch.—Adv. 11112

TRANSIENTS SHOOT AND HOLD UP MAN

Little Falls, Minn., Oct. 13.—Transients shot and held up Frank Wachlarowitz on the west side in Little Falls at 7 o'clock Monday evening.

Two arrests, transients, were made and this morning Pete Zorich confessed to having shot Wachlarowitz in the shoulder while his companion, Joe Sibella help up and searched the man.

PROSPERITY WAVE DUE IN THE EAST

Mining Expert, Following Trip, Declares that 1915 Will be the Banner Year

FURNACES AND DRILLS BUSY

American Railways Cannot Longer Put Off Adding to Their Equipment, Says J. S. Lutes

J. S. Lutes, general superintendent for the Biwabik Mining company at Biwabik and the Tod-Stambaugh company, operating mines near Ironton and Buhl, has returned from an eastern trip, says a special to the Duluth News Tribune.

Lutes says that the financiers by whom he is employed have it figured that the American railways cannot longer put off adding to their equipment, and that other enterprises will have to buy. The result will be, it is figured, that with American orders every furnace and mill will be busy during the entire year of 1915. This is exclusive of possible orders from Europe.

Throughout the eastern business circles, Lutes says, the people are more hopeful. They believe that the country is due for years of unusual prosperity.

THE PRIZE ESSAY

A. Leslie Robertson, High School Contestant, Writes on "Fire Prevention"

To stimulate interest in fire prevention and to commemorate also the day which Governor A. O. Eberhart set apart as "Fire Prevention Day," John H. Krekelberg, a real estate and insurance man of Brainerd offered high school students, juniors and seniors, two prizes, $4 and $2 each, for the best essays on the subject of "Fire Prevention."

The judges decided that A. Leslie Robertson, a senior, was the winner of the first prize and his essay is herewith reproduced in full:

"Fire—a mighty word with which to conjure! With the ancients, fire was one of the four great elements that made up this little world of ours. They stood in awe of fire—indeed, they worshipped it. Every nation had its God and its demon, who presided over the passions of fire. To them fire was sacred, was not to be spoken of lightly, that would be profanation.

Today, we people of modern times entertain radically different conceptions of the nature and powers of fire—opinions in keeping with modern thought and the enlightenment of the present age. But with our more advanced knowledge, we have lost, too, that feeling which the ancients had—that fire was not to be tampered with. We do not ask that you bow down to brazen images—that you worship the god, Fire, but we do plead with you to realize its power for evil when treated as a mere plaything. Fire is not a plaything. The terrible tragedies, which blacken the history of all nations, furnish a powerful argument in proof of this. Yes, and—shame to our nation—our record is the blackest of all. You ask, what is the cause of so great a fire loss, both in our own country and in foreign nations? Is it lack of protection? Are our fire departments inadequate? To such questions, my answer would be yes and no. Fire-protection is important, but infinitely more so is fire prevention. We are all familiar with the old proverb "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." But, in this particular, how few of us put it into practice.

The aim of students of medicine was formerly to find cure for diseases; now the higher aim is to seek means of prevention. This is also true of our efforts to stamp out fire. For years we have spent great sums of money in equipping fire teams, in purchasing powerful hoses etc. Now we are to turn our attention to the prevention of fire.

New York state learned the lesson at a bitter cost; she increased her fire-fighting forces but the fires increased. Disaster after disaster occurred of which the burning of the Asch building, where 147 lives were

Let Us Show You

We believe that we have the quality and the style of a coat you will want at a price which will more than please you. We ask the pleasure of showing you this splendid assortment. We have an excellent showing at $9.75 to $30.00 with a very large selection from $12.50 to $20.00. Let us show you.

"MICHAEL'S"

"MICHAEL'S"

Just Remember Royal Worcester

Good corseting is a matter of choosing your model wisely, and seeing to it that the brand is Royal Worcester, and no matter what your figure may be, you can improve it with a Royal Worcester.

If your figure is slender or average size, ask for a Royal Worcester Corset; if you are well-developed and wish to appear with slender outlines, then you need a Royal Worcester Corset to reduce hips abdomen 1 to 5 inches.

With the proper model, of Royal Worcester you will walk, stand or sit gracefully and easily, and present a modish appearance.

"MICHAEL'S"

"MICHAEL'S"

Oh! You Ford Sterling

TONIGHT AND TUESDAY

AT THE NEW GRAND

THE TREY O' HEARTS

Fifth Installment—two reels
Entitled

"SUNSET TIDE"

The "Trey O' Hearts" has taken Brainerd by storm—every installment is more wonderful than the one before. In this part Barcus and Rose are tied to a rock in the ocean while the tide comes in—the ocean views are marvelous of photography. You'll want to see how Alan escapes from Judith's gang and rescues Rose.

For those who enjoy a hearty laugh

FORD STERLING

in
"At 3 O'clock"

When his girl turns against him, Ford decides to die and hires a professional "killer" to do the trick. Three o'clock is set for the deed. Then Ford's girl makes up with him, and Ford suddenly finds that life is very sweet. But the "killer" is determined to carry out his part of the bargain. It's a scream from start to finish.

For Wednesday and Thursday

Barbara Trennant and O. A. C. Lund in

"ALLAH 3311"

Eclair three reel drama

A story of original intrigue—gripping action—unique situations—magnificent acting and photos

WE SHOW ONLY THE VERY HIGHEST QUALITY OF PICTURES—LATEST RELEASES

A Dollar Bill For 10c

LES. BUSH GREAT EVEN IN DEFEAT

Pitched a Magnificent Game and Deserved to Win is the General Consensus of Opinion

BRAINERD'S TAR BARRELS

"We Feel Just as Good Over it as if Leslie Had Won," Said Wm. Wood Yesterday

Brainerd is proud of Leslie Joe Bush and his mound performance in the memorable twelve-inning game.

In Brainerd Monday night reposed tar barrels, boxes and kindling ready to set off in one grand magnificent blaze when the winning run trotted in. At the bulletin boards Brainerd gasped and held its breath 12 innings as victory surged back and forth.

"We don't care if the Athletics lose the series, but we want Bush to win his game." That was the general expression in town and up the Minnesota & International railway territory, where John W. Bush, Leslie's father, was taking his train on its regular run.

At home was his mother breathing a prayer that Les would win. And when it was all over, his friends who have boosted for Bush when he was not so famous, cheered him by sending reams of telegrams.

William Wood, father of the renowned "Patty" Wood, first trainer of Bush, almost shed tears and his voice broke as he said: "We feel just as good over Les as if he had won." "You did your level best, Leslie. No man could do more," wired John A. Hoffbauer.

Wiring their congratulations for his magnificent work were Wm. Wood, Tom McIntyre, C. D. Peacock, George Warner, C. D. Johnson, John Willis, Fatty Wood, E. L. Orth, Ralph Quinn and G. H. Warner.

"Gowdy's home run punch in the tenth robbed Bush of a well earned victory," said Fred C. Cook. "Bush looms up just as great in this series as he did when he first pitched in last year's series," said another fan. "He showed his gameness and his staying power."

The Duluth Herald, always a steady booster of Bush, printed Bush's picture on the front page and the uniform he wore then was the grand old Brainerd suit with the big white "B" on it.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press, one of the best boosters in the entire Northwest for Bush, days ago loaned the Brainerd Dispatch the fine picture of Bush drawn by Ripley which was run in Monday's Brainerd Dispatch. The Pioneer Press and the St. Paul Dispatch have always featured Bush whenever he did commendable work and their predictions of the series this year took into account Bush.

What some termed a wild throw to left field in the twelfth must have been a peg to third by Bush to force a runner.

When Gowdy cracked his home run in the tenth on about the first ball pitched, it was enough to shake the confidence of the stoutest pitcher. And Bush mastered that and still held out two innings more.

Stallings switched in James and took out Tyler. Stallings put in fresh runners.

HE PAID FOR THE TURKEY

W. H. Onstine Denies That he Was Haled Before Judge J. J. Crowell's Justice Court

Game Warden W. H. Onstine has issued a statement wherein he denies that he was ever haled before J. J. Crowell's justice court for shooting a turkey and that he ever paid any fine in that court.

Mr. Onstine says he settled with the original owner of the turkey, thus compensating him for the untimely demise of the bird.

Bad Fire at Elk River

Elk River village, which has had a large portion of its business block burned two or three times in the past few years, was visited by another serious fire on Saturday night, in which the big cement building occupied by the Daley Hardware company, was completely gutted. A man occupying the upper story had a narrow escape and his face and hands were badly burned. The loss is estimated to be $20,000. Elk River has no water works and the engine was attached to an artesian well, and the supply was very limited. It is understood the loss was partly covered with insurance. The fire was so hot that the glass in the First National bank windows across the street were badly cracked.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

BOSTON BRAVES COP THE WHOLE SERIES

Phil. -----000 010 000--1 7 0
Boston -----000 120 00x--3 6 0

Boston, Oct. 13.—Boston won the fourth game of the world's series, 3 to 1, making it four straight against the Mackmen.

The batteries were Shawkey, Pennock and Schang for the Athletics, and Rudolph and Gowdy for the Boston Braves.

Boston made its first run in the fourth inning when Shawkey lost control, pitching everywhere but over the pan.

In the fifth inning Boston scored twice when Rudolph singled to center on the first ball. Moran doubled to left center. Rudolph reaching third. Evers singled to center, scoring Rudolph and Moran.

Pennock went into the box for Philadelphia in the sixth inning.

VOTERS SHOULD BE POSTED

On Tuesday, November 3d, the People of This City and County Will be Called Upon

TO VOTE FOR THIRTY OFFICERS

Wide Range Covered by State Constitutional Amendments to be Voted For at Election

Eleven constitutional amendments will be voted for at the coming election on November 3d in addition to 30 officers, state, district and county, and it behooves the voters to study the matter thoroughly that they may be familiar with the proposition confronting them.

The state officers to be elected are: governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general, one associate justice of the supreme court, clerk of the supreme court, one railroad and warehouse commissioner; district officers: congressional representative from the sixth district, one senator and two representatives. The county officers to be elected are: auditor, treasurer, register of deeds, sheriff, judge of probate court, attorney, surveyor, court commissioner, coroner and commissioners from the 2d and 4th commissioners districts.

The list of amendments to be submitted for approval or rejection are: First—A provisions for direct legislation by the people through the initiative and referendum.

Second—Increasing the number of associate justices of the supreme court from four to six and providing that no statute shall be held unconstitutional by less than five judges; the clerk to be appointed by the court.

Third—Setting apart a revolving fund from the school and swamp land funds to be used in constructing roads, ditches and fire breaks in and around unsold school and swamp lands.

Fourth—Repealing that section providing for the publication in a St. Paul newspaper annually the report of the state auditor.

Fifth—Authorizing the investment of school funds in improved farm land within the state.

Sixth—Providing for the extension of the term of office of probate judge to four years.

Seventh—Relating to the number of members of the senate and house of representatives, and the basis of their apportionment.

Eighth—Relating to the payment of tree bounties by the state to encourage reforestation.

Ninth—Authorizing the designation of certain of the state's lands as forests.

Tenth—Providing for the recall of public officials.

Eleventh—Requiring the taxation of dogs and from the fund derived from such tax, authorizing payment of the damages sustained by the owners of other domestic animals by reason of injuries caused by dogs.

Voters will have their last opportunity to register on Oct. 24.

TO ROTATE NAMES

Names on County Ballots to be Rotated the Same as Done in the Past, Says County Auditor

Names on the ballots referring to county offices will be rotated the same as in past years, said County Auditor J. F. Smart, whose province it is to prepare the ballots for the printers. This relieves the apprehension on the part of many people that the names were not to be rotated this year.

WHAT ABOUT COUNTY TAXES?

Stated that Practically No Assessment Will be Made of the Range by Tax Commission

WILL HOLD GOOD TWO YEARS

Range Towns Thus Assured of Little Income for Schools, County also Not Benefited

John H. Hill, a mining man of the Cuyuna range, said that practically no assessment was to be made of the range by the Minnesota State Tax commission. D. B. McAlpine, village attorney of Ironton, voiced a protest and urged taxation. It is said a hearing has been set for October 26. As matters stand, it is said, that only a few mines at low tonnage and low valuations are assessed, and this valuation will stand for two years to come.

The villages of Ironton, Crosby, Riverton and Cuyuna will have practically no income for schools and other public institutions. At Ironton the first built school is so crowded that it has been necessary to rent a vacant store building and use of it will have to stop when cold weather sets in, because the room has no heating or ventilating facilities.

The Pennington pit mine shipped 100,000 tons of ore and has paid small taxes commensurate with its holdings, said Mr. Hill. It is assessed at a valuation of $37.50 an acre, said Mr. Hill.

The Barrows mine shipped 10,000 tons in 1913 and 20,000 tons in 1914 and paid very little taxes.

Stockpiles are subject to personal property taxes, but ore in the usual cases is shipped before May 1. It is said a producing mine within the Ironton jurisdiction at one time paid less personal property tax than two Finlanders who had a general store on the main street.

The range villages are not the only ones to feel the loss of taxes accruing from mining operations not taxed at mining figures, but it affects the county as a whole.

If no taxes can be gained from mineral land taxation then the range villages will be compelled, said Mr. Hill, to devise some plan to make the fee owners pay taxes.

Brainerd is interested in this phase of taxation just as much as the range villages and Mr. Hill said the Chamber of Commerce should take up the matter.

It seemed strange that St. Louis county can collect its mineral taxes while Crow Wing county cannot.

THE RECALL AMENDMENT

A. Leslie Robertson of Brainerd High School Wins Second Prize in State Essay Contest

A. Leslie Robertson, of the Brainerd high school, is showing his ability as a prize winner in essay contests and recently won second prize in a state-wide contest.

Early last summer, Rome G. Brown, of Minneapolis, chairman of the American Bar association committee to oppose judicial recall, instituted two prize contests for the best argument against the recall amendment proposed by the last legislature, to be voted on at the general election this fall.

In one contest $100 was to be divided into prizes for arguments written by undergraduate students who were enrolled in Minnesota high schools on April 1, 1914. Another contest was for the best argument enrolled by undergraduate students enrolled in any Minnesota law school on April 1, 1914. The arguments were required to be submitted on or before Sept. 1. By that date a large number of competitors had entered as contestants. Since then the arguments in the two contests have been passed upon by three judges, whose decision was made without knowledge of the identity of the writers, as each contestant wrote under an assumed name. Mr. Brown himself acted as one of the judges and the other two were Lee Byard and L. Longbrake, two well-known Minneapolis attorneys. There was great unanimity in the decision.

First prize, $40, went to Arthur O. Lee of the Madison high school, Madison.

Second prize, $25, went to A. Leslie Robertson, of the Brainerd high school, Brainerd.

Notice M. B. A.

M. B. A. members are requested to attend the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, Oct. 13. Initiation lunch.—Adv.

TRANSIENTS SHOOT AND HOLD UP MAN

Little Falls, Minn., Oct. 13.—Transients shot and held up Frank Wachlarowitz on the west side in Little Falls at 7 o'clock Monday evening.

Two arrests, transients, were made and this morning Pete Zorich confessed to having shot Wachlarowitz in the shoulder while his companion, Joe Sibsella help up and searched the man.

PROSPERITY WAVE DUE IN THE EAST

Mining Expert, Following Trip, Declares that 1915 Will be the Banner Year

FURNACES AND DRILLS BUSY

American Railways Cannot Longer Put Off Adding to Their Equipment, Says J. S. Lutes

J. S. Lutes, general superintendent for the Biwabik Mining company at Biwabik and the Tod-Stambaugh company, operating mines near Ironton and Buhl, has returned from an eastern trip, says a special to the Duluth News Tribune.

Lutes says that the financiers by whom he is employed have figured that the American railways cannot longer put off adding to their equipment, and that other enterprises will have to buy. The result will be, it is figured, that with American orders every furnace and mill will be busy during the entire year of 1915. This is exclusive of possible orders from Europe.

Throughout the eastern business circles, Lutes says, the people are more hopeful. They believe that the country is due for years of unusual prosperity.

THE PRIZE ESSAY

A. Leslie Robertson, High School Contestant, Writes on "Fire Prevention"

To stimulate interest in fire prevention and to commemorate also the day which Governor A. O. Eberhart set apart as "Fire Prevention Day," John H. Krekelberg, a real estate and insurance man of Brainerd offered high school students, juniors and seniors, two prizes, $4 and $2 each, for the best essays on the subject of "Fire Prevention."

The judges decided that A. Leslie Robertson, a senior, was the winner of the first prize and his essay is herewith reproduced in full:

"Fire—a mighty word with which to conjure! With the ancients, fire was one of the four great elements that made up this little world of ours. They stood in awe of fire—indeed, they worshipped it. Every nation had its God and its demon, who presided over the passions of fire. To them fire was sacred, was not to be spoken of lightly, that would be profanation.

Today, we people of modern times entertain radically different conceptions of the nature and powers of fire—opinions in keeping with modern thought and the enlightenment of the present age. But with our more advanced knowledge, we have lost, too, that feeling which the ancients had—that fire was not to be tampered with. We do not ask that you bow down to brazen images—that you worship the god, Fire, but we do plead with you to realize its power for evil when treated as a mere plaything. Fire is not a plaything. The terrible tragedies, which blacken the history of all nations, furnish a powerful argument in proof of this. Yes, and—shame to our nation—our record is the blackest of all. You ask, what is the cause of so great a fire loss, both in our own country and in foreign nations? Is it lack of protection? Are our fire departments inadequate? To such questions, my answer would be yes and no. Fire-protection is important, but infinitely more so is fire prevention. We are all familiar with the old proverb "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." But, in this particular, how few of us put it into practice.

The aim of students of medicine was formerly to find cure for diseases; now the higher aim is to seek means of prevention. This is also true of our efforts to stamp out fire. For years we have spent great sums of money in equipping fire teams, in purchasing powerful hoses etc. Now we are to turn our attention to the prevention of fire.

New York state learned the lesson at a bitter cost; she increased her fire-fighting forces but the fires increased. Disaster after disaster occurred of which the burning of the Asch building, where 147 lives were

Let Us Show You

We believe that we have the quality and the style of a coat you will want at a price which will more than please you. We ask the pleasure of showing you this splendid assortment. We have an excellent showing at $9.75 to $30.00 with a very large selection from $12.50 to $20.00. Let us show you.

"MICHAEL'S"

"MICHAEL'S"

Just Remember Royal Worcester

Good corseting is a matter of choosing your model wisely, and seeing to it that the brand is Royal Worcester, and no matter what your figure may be, you can improve it with a Royal Worcester.

If your figure is slender or average size, ask for a Royal Worcester Corset; if you are well-developed and wish to appear with slender outlines, then you need a Royal Worcester Corset to reduce hips abdomen 1 to 5 inches.

With the proper model, of Royal Worcester you will walk, stand or sit gracefully and easily, and present a modish appearance.

"MICHAEL'S"

"MICHAEL'S"

Oh! You Ford Sterling

TONIGHT AND TUESDAY

AT THE NEW GRAND

THE TREY O' HEARTS

Fifth Installment—two reels
Entitled

"SUNSET

TIDE"

The "Trey O' Hearts" has taken Brainerd by storm—every installment is more wonderful than the one before. In this part Barcus and Rose are tied to a rock in the ocean while the tide comes in—the ocean views are marvels of photography. You'll want to see how Alan escapes from Judith's gang and rescues Rose.

For those who enjoy a hearty laugh

FORD STERLING

in

"At 3 O'clock"

When his girl turns against him, Ford decides to die and hires a professional "killer" to do the trick. Three o'clock is set for the deed. Then Ford's girl makes up with him, and Ford suddenly finds that life is very sweet. But the "killer" is determined to carry out his part of the bargain. It's a scream from start to finish.

For Wednesday and Thursday

Barbara Trennant and O. A. C. Lund in

"ALLAH 3311"

Eclair three reel drama

A story of original intrigue—gripping action—unique situations—magnificent acting and photos

WE SHOW ONLY THE VERY HIGHEST QUALITY OF PICTURES—LATEST RELEASES

A Dollar Bill For 10c

The Trey O' Hearts

A Novelized Version of the Motion Picture Drama of the Same Name
Produced by the Universal Film Co.

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

Author of "The Fortune Hunter," "The Brain Trust," "The Black Bag," etc.

Illustrated with Photographs from the Picture Production

Copyright, 1914, by Louis Joseph Vance

(Continued)

CHAPTER XVIII.

Stranded.

Mr. Thomas Barcus picked himself up from the bottom of the lifeboat, where he had been violently precipitated by the impact of grounding, blinked and wiped tears of pain from his eyes, solicitously tested his nose and seemed to derive little if any comfort from the discovery that it was not broken, opened his mouth . . . and remembered the presence of a lady.

"Poor Mr. Barcus!" she said gently. "I'm so sorry. Do forget I'm here—and say it out loud!"

Mr. Barcus dropped his hands and dropped his head at the same time.

"It can't be did," he complained in embittered resignation; "the words have never been invented."

In the bows Mr. Law (who had barely saved himself a headlong plunge overboard when the shoal took fast hold of the keel) felt tenderly of his excoriated shins, then, rising, compassed the sea, sky and shore with an anxious gaze.

In the offing there was nothing but the flat, limitless expanse of the night-bound tide, near at hand vaguely silvered with the moonlight, in the distances blending into shadows; never a light or shadow, stealing sail in that quarter to indicate pursuit.

"Where are we?" he wondered aloud.

"Ask me an easy one," Barcus replied; "somewhere on the south shore of the cape—unless somebody's been tampering with the lay of this land. That's a lighthouse over yonder."

Alan took soundings from the bows. "Barely two feet," he announced, withdrawing the oar from the water, "and eel-grass no end."

"Oh!" Barcus ejaculated with the accent of enlightenment; and leaving the motor, turned to the stern, over which he draped himself in highly undecorative fashion while groping under water for the propeller.

"That's the answer," he repeated; "there's a young bale of the seal eelgrass wrapped round the wheel. Which, I suppose, means I've got to go overboard and clear it away."

Like Mr. Law, he wore neither shoes nor other garments that could be more damaged by salt water than they had been—but only shirt, trousers and a belt.

"If you've nothing better to do, my critical friend," he observed as he stooped to hack and tear at the mass of weed embarrassing the propeller, "you might step out and give us a trial shove. Don't strain yourself—just see if you can move her."

The boat budged not an inch—but Mr. Law's feet did, slipping on the treacherous mud bottom with the upshot of his downfall; with a mighty splash he disappeared momentarily beneath the surface—and left his temper behind him when he emerged.

As for Mr. Barcus, he suffered like loss within five minutes; when, with much pains and patience having freed the wheel, he climbed aboard and sought to restart the motor. After a few affecting coughs it relapsed into stubborn silence.

Stodious examination at length brought out the fact that the gasoline tank was empty.

"Not so much as a smell left," Barcus reported.

Dug Into His Money Belt.

"It's no use," he conceded at length. "We're here for keeps."

"Why not wade ashore?" Rose Trine suggested mildly from the place she had taken in the stern in order to lighten the bows. "It isn't far—and what's one more wetting?"

"That's the only sensible remark that's been uttered by any party to this lunatic enterprise since you have within earshot of me, Mr. Law," said Mr. Barcus. "Respectfully submitted."

"The verdict of the lower court stands approved," Alan responded gravely.

"But there's no sense in Miss Trine wading," Barcus suggested. "We're web-footed as it is, and she's too tired."

"Well, what then?"

"We can carry her, can't we?"

CHAPTER XIX.

"Gee!" he grunted frankly, when after a toilsome progress from the boat, Rose at length slipped from the seat formed by the clasped hands of the two men. "And it was me who suggested this!"

The girl responded with a quiet laugh of the most natural effect imaginable—until it ended in a sigh, and without the least warning she crumpled upon herself, and would have fallen heavily, in a dead faint, but for Alan's quickness.

(Continued)

This Serial Story Now Running at the Grand Theatre

HEALTH AND WEDLOCK.

Conditions That Should Be Studied Before It Is Too Late.

Marriage, from any point of view, is of course a serious proposition, as it may bless or wreck two human lives. If not more. Not the least important of these points of view is that of the health of both parties to the contract. The health commissioner of Pennsylvania in an official bulletin gives the following advice to those about to marry:

"First, a man should not marry unless into a family with a history of reasonable longevity, free from hereditary disease. He should not marry a woman advanced in life, delicate, feeble or afflicted with any inherited deformity. The age most proper for women in this climate is nineteen or twenty years and for men twenty-four or twenty-five years. Women of a nervous temperament, those who are extremely irritable, hysterical, subject to convulsions or to epilepsy from organic disease, ought to avoid matrimony."

"In this country marriages before the ages of twenty-five and nineteen respectively are contraindicated, because as a rule, previous to these periods of life the body is not fully developed, the different functions are not perfect, and any offspring developed by them in their immature condition must be deficient in vital power."

"CAMEL'S HAIR" BRUSHES.

The Very Best of Them Are Made From Squirrels' Tails.

It may sound rather strange, but it is nevertheless true that no brushes are ever made of camel's hair, yet they are asked for daily and sold as such.

There are very many kinds of hair used in the making of "camel's hair" brushes, such as bear, fox, rabbit, squirrel, etc., and, indeed, one authority states that over 150 sorts of brushes are known as "camel's hair" brushes, but there is only one definition accepted by the British board of trade—i. e., "camel's hair" brushes made from squirrel tails, these being the best and most expensive.

Real camel's hair is absolutely useless for making brushes and resembles soft tow of a yellow-brownish color. The mane of a camel is the only part which could be used, and possibly a dozen brushes could be made from one mane.

As a matter of fact, there are only two specimens of brushes made from the actual hair of a camel in existence. The reason for the term "camel's hair" is the fact that a man named Camel was the first one to make these finer kinds of brushes, and they became generally known as "real camel's hair brushes."—London Answers.

EFFERVESCENT DRINKS.

They Alay Thirst Quickly, but the Effect Is Not Lasting.

The reason why we like effervescent drinks is that the slight stinging or pricking of the palate that follows on drinking liquids charged with carbonic acid gas produces immediately an increased flow of saliva and thus diminishes for the moment the sensation of thirst.

But the relief they bring is only temporary and is followed by a reaction in which the thirst is actually increased. The salivary glands are no more susceptible to perpetual stimulation than any other, and after each period of excitement one of depression supervenes. Young soldiers on route marches quickly come to understand this and to discover that the more water they drink the more thirsty they get and that it is best, therefore, to limit the quantity of liquid swallowed. Moreover, the saliva contains matters of great importance for the digestion of food, particularly of starchy foods, and if it all be washed down the throat into the bowels as soon as it is secreted a great part of its usefulness is lost.

It would therefore seem that a less wasteful way, physiologically, of promoting the flow of saliva might be adopted with profit. The consumption of fruit containing subacid juices is about the most excellent way.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

SCENE OF BATTLE OF THE AISNE LIKE COUNTRY TORN BY CYCLONE

Striking Descriptive Story Tells How One Town Was Razed by Shells.

Daring Exploit of a French Air Man—Remarkable Incidents at the Front.

A REMARKABLE pen picture of the Aisne firing line and the destruction wrought in the greatest battle of the world's history is given in a dispatch to the New York Times:

Going over the battlefield of the Marne we found the battle had followed much the same tactics as a cyclone, in that in some places nothing, not even the haystacks, had been disturbed, while in others everything, the villages, roads and fields had been utterly devastated by shells.

As we drove carelessly over the brow of a hill, where the road dipped down a valley into the town, we were in direct line with the German fire, as great holes in the ground and fallen trees testified. On the way in we noticed a church steeple shot completely off, so after finding an inn, where the proprietor came from the cellar and offered to guard our car and prepare luncheon, we decided first to examine the church. The innkeeper explained that we had come during a lull in the bombardment, but the silent, deserted place lulled all sense of danger. The verger showed us over the church, and we were walking through the ruined nave when suddenly we heard a sound like the shrill whistling of the wind.

"It begins again," our conductor said simply. As the speech ended we heard a loud boom and the sound of falling masonry as a shell struck the far end of the building. We hurried to the hotel, the shells screaming overhead. We saw the buildings tumbling into ruins, glass falling in fine powder and remnants of furniture hanging grotesquely from scraps of masonry.

Sensation Under Fire.

All my life I had wondered what would be the sensation if I ever were under fire—would I be afraid? To my intense relief I suddenly became fatalistic. I was under fire with a vengeance, but instead of being afraid I kept saying to myself, "Being afraid won't help matters; besides, nothing will happen if we just keep close to the walls and away from the middle street."

On the way we met two men in English uniform, who later denounced us as spies. We halted them, and they replied that they had been cut off from their regiment and were now fighting with the French. Just as luncheon was announced eight soldiers filed into the hotel, arrested us and marched us before the commandant, who saw that our papers were all right, but suggested that on account of the dangerous position we leave as soon as possible.

During the episode of arrest there was another lull in the bombardment, which began again as we were seated at luncheon. All through the meal the shells whistled and screamed overhead, and the dishes rattled constantly on the table.

When the meal was over the proprietor called us to witness what had happened to the far wing of the hotel. It was completely demolished. "Alert!" had just been sounded, and the soldiers were running through the streets. We ran out in time to see a building falling half a block away, completely filling the street by which we had entered the town an hour earlier.

Airship In a Hail of Shells.

In a few minutes we heard the sharp crackle of infantry fire about half a mile away, and we had a sudden desire to get away before the automobile retreat was cut off. Just then we heard the sound of an aero engine overhead. It was flying so low that through a glass we could easily see the whirling propeller. The machine was mounted with a rapid fire gun which was trying to locate the German gunners, who immediately abandoned the destruction of the town in an attempt to bring it down. For ten minutes we saw shells bursting all about it. At times it was lost in smoke, but when the smoke cleared there was the monoplane still blazing away, always mounting to a higher level, and finally disappearing toward the French lines.

We passed the night at a village where considerable execution had been done by German shells. We saw one curious effect of them. In a historic building near the city hall there was a shell imbedded in the wall, with a plate affixed beneath it, showing it struck there in the year 1814. Just next to it was an unexploded shell of a hundred years after sticking in the wall.

We again struck out toward the battle line, but when we were within sound of the firing the authorities decided we had seen enough of war and detained us for two days as guests of a regimental staff which was quartered in a cow yard. There we were privileged to see how the French soldiers lived. We ate with them and slept with them in the straw until finally orders came to send us to Paris.

A Story of Heroism.

French soldiers were walking into German ambush. French and English who tried to signal them were picked off by sharpshooters. Only way to intercept them was over open land raked by German guns. Two English cyclists were shot down trying to ride it. A third made it through an inferno of bullets. The French commander of the halted column advanced and pinned the medal to the breast of the British cyclist. "It was given me for saving one life," he explained. "I have the honor of giving it to you for saving hundreds."

Convicts Eager to Fight.

Convicts in nearly every prison in England are voluntarily working three hours overtime daily to provide army requisites. Most first offenders are begging to go to the front. A burglar spokesman pleaded to be permitted to "work out the rest of our time on the firing line, if it is only digging trenches."

Added to such names as Alsace Lorraine Jones appear the following on the London insurance register, showing the effect of the war on newcomers in the world: Kitchener Barry, John Jellicoe Walker, George Bank Holiday Smith and Only Fancy Henry White.

A woman of Raon l'Etape during the German bombardment spent four days and nights in the same cellar where in 1870 she took refuge from the Germans.

Tricking Enemy's Air Men.

A correspondent of the London Chronicle sends a description of the crafty way in which the French sappers construct trenches so that they are hidden from the eyes of German aviators.

"I watched them at their task," he says, "and they made it a work of art, covering the trenches most craftily with grass and leaves, so that even German aviators flying low would never perceive these pits along the way-side whence French riflemen would pour withering fire upon the enemy's battalions."

Eats as Legs Are Cut Off.

The immediate amputation of an Austrian officer's legs was necessary. When this information was conveyed to him he said:

"All right, but first give me some food."

The food was furnished and the officer ate all through the operation, which was performed without the administration of an anaesthetic.

Give Up Gems For Guns.

According to reports received in Rome a committee of women has been formed to induce all the women of Germany to give up their gold ornaments to be turned into a fund to buy arms.

Several million marks have thus been gathered. Each woman receives in exchange an iron ring inscribed, "I gave gold for this."

The Merciless Censor.

The strictness of the censorship may be judged from an article in the Echo de Paris, which begins:

"There is no danger of my being indiscreet. I know no more than anybody. But I believe that without saying too much I can say"—

Then followed six lines of blankness. The censor evidently was of opposite opinion to that of the writer.

SECOND LARGEST HARBOR.

That at Rockport, Mass., Will Rank Next to Cherbourg, France.

At Rockport, Mass., close to the tip of the shores of Cape Ann, a breakwater is being built which is one of the most notable examples of marine engineering on record. It was commenced in 1885, when it was estimated that ten years' labor and $5,000,000 would construct it. The completion is not yet in sight, however, the delay having been occasioned by the smallness and infrequency of appropriations which have never been above $200,000. There have been years, indeed, when no stone was laid.

The breakwater, which, in the form of an oblique angle, will shut off Sandy bay from the ocean proper, is, at its angle, two miles out from Rockport and when completed will inclose an area of water of 1,664 acres, making Sandy bay the second largest harbor in the world—that of Cherbourg, France, standing first.

The harbor under construction will have two entrances, one at the north and another at the south, so that, in any wind, it will be an easy matter to make one or the other of the openings.

Smith-Lever Act Is Educational. Many letters are being received by the United States department of agriculture, which indicate that farm women in various sections believe the government is about to assist them with grants of money. This mistake appears to have arisen through a misunderstanding of the Smith-Lever act, under which funds contributed both by the federal and state governments are made available for practical demonstration work in agriculture and home economics. The purposes of the act are thus entirely educational, and there are no provisions whatever for direct financial assistance.

A HISTORIC TRIANGLE.

Famous Battlefields of the Plains of Hesbaye, in Belgium.

Describing the road from Brussels to Liege, which skirts the plains of Hesbaye, Baedeker quotes the old proverb, "Qui passe dans le Hesbains est combattu lendemain"—"He who enters the Hesbaye is defeated the next day." Such was the reputation of the Hesbains for strength and bravery.

The ancient province of Hesbaye is indicated on the maps as a triangle, some fifty miles from its base to its apex. Liege. The river Meuse, from Namur to Liege, forms its southern side; the railways from Liege through Tirlemont and Louvain to Brussels its northern side. A line from Namur north to Brussels is its base.

This triangle contains many famous battlefields. Besides Waterloo, there is Neerwinden, where Marshal Luxembourg defeated the allies under William II. of England in 1693 and where a century later the Austrians, under the Prince of Coburg, uncle of the late King Leopold of Belgium, defeated the French, led by Dumouriez and Louis Philippe.

Then there is Quatre Bras, where Ney's division fought part of the British army and its German and Belgian allies in 1815. There had been a battle the day before at Sombrefe, and on that June night the Prussians accomplished their unparalleled retreat from Ligny. Fleurus, near by, won fame in 1622 and 1690 and again in 1794.—Newark News.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Palpitation of the Heart.

Palpitation of the heart is usually of nervous origin. The people who suffer from it are of a nervous temperament, and the attacks generally appear at critical times in life's journey or when the sufferer is weakened by illness or depressed by grief or worry or anaemic from confining work.

Intense fear will bring on palpitation of the heart in almost any one. In some people also it is a symptom of indigestion. Those who are subject to palpitation should avoid overstimulating and straining the nervous system. Tea and coffee are stimulants that do harm in many cases, and alcohol and tobacco are sure to be hurtful. The term "smoker's heart" describes the form of palpitation that tobacco causes.

Palpitation of the heart causes distress not only because the beat is so alarmingly rapid, but also because of the irregularity and the thumping force of it. The symptoms vary all the way from a simple feeling of weakness and a fluttering round the heart to a rapid pounding that almost makes the victim fear that the heart is trying to escape from the body. There is also a pronounced throbbing of the arteries. The sufferer must learn that palpitation, although unpleasant, is not dangerous and must be willing to go slowly for a time, to take only moderate exercise and to avoid stimulants and all articles of food that tend to cause flatulent dyspepsia.

Deep Doings.

"What's ailing Mr. Trout?" "He suffers from sunstroke." "Go on! Whoever heard of a fish with a sunstroke?" "Well, you see, it was a sunfish that bumped into him."—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Stubborn labor conquers everything.—Virgil.

"Blue" Feeling

When you feel discouraged and all the world seems to be against you—that's your system's way of telegraphing you that something is WRONG and needs HELP.

It may be that your liver is tired and refuses to work, or your digestive organs have had too much to do and need care. Perhaps you have been eating the wrong kind of food, and your blood is too rich or impoverished. What you need is a tonic.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

will give the required aid. Tones the entire system. The weak stomach is made strong. The liver vibrates with new life. The blood is cleansed of all impurities and carries renewed health to every vein and nerve and muscle and organ of the body. No more attacks of the "blues." Life becomes worth while again, and hope takes place of despair.

Insist on getting Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Sold by dealers in medicines.

President, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Studebaker and White

Automobiles and Trucks

Cars on hand for immediate delivery. Bargains on used cars.

C. A. OLSON, Agent

513 South 7th St.

Telephone 236 J

THOUGH YOU ESCAPE WITH YOUR LIFE

if fire occurs at your place, you will not find it sweet if the flames leave you penniless. All your remaining days will be filled with regret that you hadn't taken out insurance when you could. Fire is just as likely to happen to you as to anybody else. Be wise and have us insure you today. Then fire will not spell ruin for you.

J. R. SMITH, Agent
Telephone 174 Sleeper

Hunting Season is Here

We have still a complete stock of guns and ammunition to select from. We will either sell you a gun or you can RENT it. Complete stock of flashlights for the dark night coming home. No trouble to show you. Open Nights.

RANSFORD BILLIARD PARLOR

S. P. Coffrain Open Nights GEO. W. HESS

Once More

The Hunting Season Is Here

WHITE BROS.

Have a larger and better stock of Guns and Ammunition than we ever had before. 125,000 loaded shells. A complete line of shells of all sizes.

Over 300 Guns

Come where you have the largest and most complete line of sporting goods north of the cities to pick from.

Telephone 57.

616 Laurel St.

Railroad Time Table And Business Directory

RESTAURANT & LUNCH COUNTER

At Earl Hotel. Conducted by Mrs. Joe Belliveau. All home cooking. Prompt Service

78-1mo

THE MYHRA MUSIC HOUSE

Pianos, Organs, Sheet Music, Etc.

Citizens State Bank Bldg.

53-1m

THE ZENITH

Dry Cleaners, dyers and pressers. Furs remodeled and repaired. Alterations of all kinds neatly done.

306 South Broadway Tel 534

$2-1m

L. W. SHERLUND CO.

Plumbing and Heating Waterworks and Sewers

312-314 South Sixth St.

HITCH FUEL & CEMENT CO.

The best of everything in our line. Green Stamps With Cash Sales

Phone 26-W 310 S. 6th St.

MISS EIDAM

From Minneapolis, 18 years experience in dressmaking—All kinds of dresses.

Phone 669-W 1013 Kingwood St.

BRAINERD DISPATCH Time Card

N. P. Railroad Co. Depot Corner 6th and Main Sts.

EAST BOUND Arrive Depart
To Duluth 4:00 a. m. 4:10 a. m.
To Deerwood, Aitkin and Ironston. 8:00 a. m. 8:05 a. m.
To Duluth 2:27 p. m. 2:35 p. m.
Twoon Ports Limited to Duluth. 7:47 p. m. 7:50 p. m.

SOUTH BOUND
To St. Paul 3:10 a. m. 3:40 a. m.
To St. Paul 5:45 a. m.
To St. Paul 11:50 a. m. 1:05 p. m.

WEST BOUND
Staples and West 12:02 a. m. 12:15 a. m.
Staples and West 11:58 a. m. 12:05 p. m.
Twin Ports Limited to Coast. 1:47 p. m. 1:50 p. m.

M. & I. Railroad Co. Depot Corner 6th and Main Sts.

NORTH BOUND
To Int. Falls 12:10 a. m. 12:35 a. m.
To Kellier 1:50 p. m. 2:25 p. m.

K. A. GUSTAFSON Groceries and Confectionery Butter and Eggs Bought AUTO FILLING STATION Groceries Delivered to Any Part of Town 1626 Oak Street Southeast. 77-1m

BRAINERD CAFE One Block from the Depot

QUICK SERVICE Open Day and Night

624 Front Street 71-1m

D. E. WHITNEY FUNDRAISING DIRECTOR

710 Front Street 71-1m

THE BRAINERD LAUNDRY "The Laundry with a Conscience" C. A. BEVIER, Prop.

416 South Sixth St. Tel. 411

31-1m

The Trey O' Hearts

A Novelized Version of the Motion Picture Drama of the Same Name
Produced by the Universal Film Co.

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

Author of "The Fortune Hunter," "The Brain Trust," "The Black Bag," etc.

Illustrated with Photographs from the Picture Production

Copyright, 1914, by Louis Joseph Vance

(Continued)

CHAPTER XVIII.

Stranded.

Mr. Thomas Barcus picked himself up from the bottom of the lifeboat, where he had been violently precipitated by the impact of grounding, blinked and wiped tears of pain from his eyes, solicitously tested his nose and seemed to derive little if any comfort from the discovery that it was not broken, opened his mouth . . . and remembered the presence of a lady.

"Poor Mr. Barcus!" she said gently. "I'm so sorry. Do forget I'm here—and say it out loud!"

Mr. Barcus dropped his hands and dropped his head at the same time. "It can't be did," he complained in embittered resignation; "the words have never been invented . . ."

In the bows Mr. Law (who had barely saved himself a headlong plunge overboard when the boat took fast hold of the keel) felt tenderly of his excoarated shins, then, rising, compassed the sea, sky and shore with an anxious gaze.

In the offing there was nothing but the flat, limitless expanse of the night-bound tide, near at hand vaguely silvered with the moonlight, in the distances bleeding into shadows; never a light or shadow, stealing sail in that quarter to indicate pursuit.

"Where are we?" he wondered aloud.

"Ask me an easy one," Barcus replied; "somewhere on the south shore of the cape—unless somebody's been tampering with the lay of this land. That's a lighthouse over yonder."

Alan took soundings from the bows. "Barely two feet," he announced, withdrawing the oar from the water, "and eel-grass no end."

"Oh!" Barcus ejaculated with the accent of enlightenment; and leaving the motor, turned to the stern, over which he draped himself in highly undecorative fashion while groping under water for the propeller.

"That's the answer," he repeated; "there's a young bale of the said eel-grass wrapped round the wheel. Which, I suppose, means I've got to go overboard and clear it away."

Like Mr. Law, he wore neither shoes nor other garments that could be more damaged by salt water than they had been—but only shirt, trousers and a belt.

"If you've nothing better to do, my critical friend," he observed as he stooped to hack and tear at the mass of weed embarrassing the propeller, "you might step out and give us a trial shove. Don't strain yourself—just see if you can move her."

The boat budged not an inch—but Mr. Law's feet did, slipping on the treacherous mud bottom with the upshot of his downfall; with a mighty splash he disappeared momentarily beneath the surface—and left his temper behind him when he emerged.

As for Mr. Barcus, he suffered like loss within five minutes; when, with much pains and patience having freed the wheel, he climbed aboard and sought to restart the motor. After a few affecting coughs it relapsed into stubborn silence.

Stodious examination at length brought out the fact that the gasoline tank was empty.

"Not so much as a smell left," Barcus reported.

Dug Into His Money Belt.

"It's no use," he conceded at length. "We're here for keeps."

"Why not wade ashore?" Rose Trine suggested mildly from the place she had taken in the stern in order to lighten the bows. "It isn't far—and what's one more wetting?"

"That's the only sensible remark that's been uttered by any party to this lunatic enterprise since you have within earshot of me, Mr. Law," said Mr. Barcus. "Respectfully submitted."

"The verdict of the lower court stands approved," Alan responded gravely.

"But there's no sense in Miss Trine wading," Barcus suggested. "We're web-footed as it is, and she's too tired."

"Well, what then?"

"We can carry her, can't we?"

CHAPTER XIX.

"Geel!" he granted frankly, when after a toilsome progress from the boat, Rose at length slipped from the seat formed by the clasped hands of the two men. "And it was me who suggested this!"

The girl responded with a quiet laugh of the most natural effect imaginable—until it ended in a sigh, and without the least warning she crumpled upon herself, and would have fallen heavily, in a dead faint, but for Alan's quickness.

(Continued)

This Serial Story Now Running at the Grand Theatre

HEALTH AND WEDLOCK.

Conditions That Should Be Studied Before It Is Too Late.

Marriage, from any point of view, is of course a serious proposition, as it may bless or wreck two human lives. If not more. Not the least important of these points of view is that of the health of both parties to the contract. The health commissioner of Pennsylvania in an official bulletin gives the following advice to those about to marry:

"First, a man should not marry unless into a family with a history of reasonable longevity, free from hereditary disease. He should not marry a woman advanced in life, delicate, feeble or afflicted with any inherited deformity. The age most proper for women in this climate is nineteen or twenty years and for men twenty-four or twenty-five years. Women of a nervous temperament, those who are extremely irritable, hysterical, subject to convulsions or to epilepsy from organic disease, ought to avoid matrimony.

"In this country marriages before the ages of twenty-five and nineteen respectively are contraindicated, because as a rule, previous to these periods of life the body is not fully developed, the different functions are not perfect, and any offspring developed by them in their immature condition must be deficient in vital power."

"CAMEL'S HAIR" BRUSHES.

The Very Best of Them Are Made From Squirrels' Tails.

It may sound rather strange, but it is nevertheless true that no brushes are ever made of camel's hair, yet they are asked for daily and sold as such.

There are very many kinds of hair used in the making of "camel's hair" brushes, such as bear, fox, rabbit, squirrel, etc., and, indeed, one authority states that over 150 sorts of brushes are known as "camel's hair" brushes, but there is only one definition accepted by the British board of trade—i. e., "camel's hair" brushes made from squirrel tails, these being the best and most expensive.

Real camel's hair is absolutely useless for making brushes and resembles soft tow of a yellow-brownish color. The mane of a camel is the only part which could be used, and possibly a dozen brushes could be made from one mane.

As a matter of fact, there are only two specimens of brushes made from the actual hair of a camel in existence. The reason for the term "camel's hair" is the fact that a man named Camel was the first one to make these finer kinds of brushes, and they became generally known as "real camel's hair brushes."—London Answers

EFFERVESCENT DRINKS.

They Allay Thirst Quickly, but the Effect Is Not Lasting.

The reason why we like effervescent drinks is that the slight stinging or prickling of the palate that follows on drinking liquids charged with carbonic acid gas produces immediately an increased flow of saliva and thus diminishes for the moment the sensation of thirst.

But the relief they bring is only temporary and is followed by a reaction in which the thirst is actually increased. The salivary glands are no more susceptible to perpetual stimulation than any other, and after each period of excitement one of depression supervenes. Young soldiers on route marches quickly come to understand this and to discover that the more water they drink the more thirsty they get and that it is best, therefore, to limit the quantity of liquid swallowed. Moreover, the saliva contains matters of great importance for the digestion of food, particularly of starchy foods, and if it all be washed down the throat into the bowels as soon as it is secreted a great part of its usefulness is lost. It would therefore seem that a less wasteful way, physiologically, of promoting the flow of saliva might be adopted with profit. The consumption of fruit containing subacid juices is about the most excellent way.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

SCENE OF BATTLE OF THE AISNE LIKE COUNTRY TORN BY CYCLONE

Striking Descriptive Story Tells How One Town Was Razed by Shells.

Daring Exploit of a French Air Man—Remarkable Incidents at the Front.

A REMARKABLE pen picture of the Aisne firing line and the destruction wrought in the greatest battle of the world's history is given in a dispatch to the New York Times:

Going over the battlefield of the Marne we found the battle had followed much the same tactics as a cyclone, in that in some places nothing, not even the haystacks, had been disturbed, while in others everything, the villages, roads and fields had been utterly devastated by shells.

As we drove carelessly over the brow of a hill, where the road dipped down a valley into the town, we were in direct line with the German fire, as great holes in the ground and fallen trees testified. On the way in we noticed a church steeple shot completely off, so after finding an inn, where the proprietor came from the cellar and offered to guard our car and prepare luncheon, we decided first to examine the church. The innkeeper explained that we had come during a lull in the bombardment, but the silent, deserted place lulled all sense of danger. The verger showed us over the church, and we were walking through the ruined nave when suddenly we heard a sound like the shrill whistling of the wind.

"It begins again," our conductor said simply. As the speech ended we heard a loud boom and the sound of falling masonry as a shell struck the far end of the building. We hurried to the hotel, the shells screaming overhead. We saw the buildings tumbling into ruins, glass falling in fine powder and remnants of furniture hanging grotesquely from scraps of masonry.

Sensation Under Fire.

All my life I had wondered what would be the sensation if I ever were under fire—would I be afraid? To my intense relief I suddenly became fatalistic. I was under fire with a vengeance, but instead of being afraid I kept saying to myself, "Being afraid won't help matters; besides, nothing will happen if we just keep close to the walls and away from the middle street."

On the way we met two men in English uniform, who later denounced us as spies. We halted them, and they replied that they had been cut off from their regiment and were now fighting with the French. Just as luncheon was announced eight soldiers filed into the hotel, arrested us and marched us before the commandant, who saw that our papers were all right, but suggested that on account of the dangerous position we leave as soon as possible.

During the episode of arrest there was another lull in the bombardment, which began again as we were seated at luncheon. All through the meal the shells whistled and screamed overhead, and the dishes rattled constantly on the table.

When the meal was over the proprietor called us to witness what had happened to the far wing of the hotel. It was completely demolished. "Alert!" had just been sounded, and the soldiers were running through the streets. We ran out in time to see a building falling half a block away, completely filling the street by which we had entered the town an hour earlier.

Airship In a Hail of Shells.

In a few minutes we heard the sharp crackle of infantry fire about half a mile away, and we had a sudden desire to get away before the automobile retreat was cut off. Just then we heard the sound of an aero engine overhead. It was flying so low that through a glass we could easily see the whirling propeller. The machine was mounted with a rapid fire gun which was trying to locate the German gunners, who immediately abandoned the destruction of the town in an attempt to bring it down. For ten minutes we saw shells bursting all about it. At times it was lost in smoke, but when the smoke cleared there was the monoplane still blazing away, always mounting to a higher level, and finally disappearing toward the French lines.

We passed the night at a village where considerable execution had been done by German shells. We saw one curious effect of them. In a historic building near the city hall there was a shell imbedded in the wall, with a plate affixed beneath it, showing it struck there in the year 1814. Just next to it was an unexploded shell of a hundred years after sticking in the wall.

We again struck out toward the battle line, but when we were within sound of the firing the authorities decided we had seen enough of war and detained us for two days as guests of a regimental staff which was quartered in a cow yard. There we were privileged to see how the French soldiers lived. We ate with them and slept with them in the straw until finally orders came to send us to Paris.

A Story of Heroism.

French soldiers were walking into German ambush. French and English who tried to signal them were picked off by sharpshooters. Only way to intercept them was over open land raked by German guns. Two English cyclists were shot down trying to ride it. A third made it through an inferno of bullets. The French commander of the halted column advanced and pinned his medal to the breast of the British cyclist. "It was given me for saving one life," he explained. "I have the honor of giving it to you for saving hundreds."

Convicts Eager to Fight.

Convicts in nearly every prison in England are voluntarily working three hours overtime daily to provide army requisites. Most first offenders are begging to go to the front. A burglar spokesman pleaded to be permitted to "work out the rest of our time on the firing line, if it is only digging trenches."

Added to such names as Alsace Lorraine Jones appear the following on the London insurance register, showing the effect of the war on newcomers in the world: Kitchener Barry, John Jellicoe Walker, George Bank Holiday Smith and Only Fancy Henry White.

A woman of Raon l'Etape during the German bombardment spent four days and nights in the same cellar where in 1870 she took refuge from the Germans.

Tricking Enemy's Air Men.

A correspondent of the London Chronicle sends a description of the crafty way in which the French supporters construct trenches so that they are hidden from the eyes of German aviators.

"I watched them at their task," he says, "and they made it a work of art, covering the trenches most craftily with grass and leaves, so that even German aviators flying low would never perceive these pits along the wayside whence French riflemen would pour withering fire upon the enemy's battalions."

Eats as Legs Are Cut Off.

The immediate amputation of an Austrian officer's legs was necessary. When this information was conveyed to him he said:

"All right, but first give me some food."

The food was furnished and the officer ate all through the operation, which was performed without the administration of an anaesthetic.

Give Up Gems For Guns.

According to reports received in Rome a committee of women has been formed to induce all the women of Germany to give up their gold ornaments to be turned into a fund to buy arms.

Several million marks have thus been gathered. Each woman receives in exchange an iron ring inscribed, "I gave gold for this."

The Merciless Censor.

The strictness of the censorship may be judged from an article in the Echo de Paris, which begins:

"There is no danger of my being indiscreet. I know no more than anybody. But I believe that without saying too much I can say—"

Then followed six lines of blankness. The censor evidently was of opposite opinion to that of the writer.

SECOND LARGEST HARBOR.

That at Rockport, Mass., Will Rank Next to Cherbourg, France.

At Rockport, Mass., close to the tip of the shores of Cape Ann, a breakwater is being built which is one of the most notable examples of marine engineering on record. It was commenced in 1885, when it was estimated that ten years' labor and $5,000,000 would construct it. The completion is not yet in sight, however, the delay having been occasioned by the smallness and infrequency of appropriations which have never been above $200,000. There have been years, indeed, when no stone was laid.

The breakwater, which, in the form of an oblique angle, will shut off Sandy bay from the ocean proper, is, at its angle, two miles out from Rockport and when completed will inclose an area of water of 1,604 acres, making Sandy bay the second largest harbor in the world—that of Cherbourg, France, standing first.

The harbor under construction will have two entrances, one at the north and another at the south, so that, in any wind, it will be an easy matter to make one or the other of the openings.

Smith-Lever Act Is Educational. Many letters are being received by the United States department of agriculture, which indicate that farm women in various sections believe the government is about to assist them with grants of money. This mistake appears to have arisen through a misunderstanding of the Smith-Lever act, under which funds contributed both by the federal and state governments are made available for practical demonstration work in agriculture and home economics. The purposes of the act are thus entirely educational, and there are no provisions whatever for direct financial assistance.

A HISTORIC TRIANGLE.

Famous Battlefields of the Plains of Hesbaye, in Belgium.

Describing the road from Brussels to Liege, which skirts the plains of Hesbaye, Baedeker quotes the old proverb, "Qui passe dans le Hesbaye est combattu lendemain"—"He who enters the Hesbaye is defeated the next day." Such was the reputation of the Hesbaye for strength and bravery.

The ancient province of Hesbaye is indicated on the maps as a triangle, some fifty miles from its base to its apex. Liege. The river Meuse, from Namur to Liege, forms its southern side; the railways from Liege through Triemont and Louvain to Brussels its northern side. A line from Namur north to Brussels is its base.

This triangle contains many famous battlefields. Besides Waterloo, there is Neerwinden, where Marshal Luxembourg defeated the allies under William II. of England in 1693 and where a century later the Austrians, under the Prince of Coburg, uncle of the late King Leopold of Belgium, defeated the French, led by Dumouriez and Louis Philippe.

Then there is Quatre Bras, where Ney's division fought part of the British army and its German and Belgian allies in 1815. There had been a battle the day before at Sombrefosse, and on that June night the Prussians accomplished their unparalleled retreat from Ligny. Fleurus, near by, won fame in 1622 and 1630 and again in 1794.—Newark News.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Palpitation of the Heart.

Palpitation of the heart is usually of nervous origin. The people who suffer from it are of a nervous temperament, and the attacks generally appear at critical times in life's journey or when the sufferer is weakened by illness or depressed by grief or worry or anaemic from confining work.

Intense fear will bring on palpitation of the heart in almost any one. In some people also it is a symptom of indigestion. Those who are subject to palpitation should avoid overstimulating and straining the nervous system. Tea and coffee are stimulants that do harm in many cases, and alcohol and tobacco are sure to be harmful. The term "smoker's heart" describes the form of palpitation that tobacco causes.

Palpitation of the heart causes distress not only because the heart is so alarmingly rapid, but also because of the irregularity and the thumping force of it. The symptoms vary all the way from a simple feeling of weakness and a fluttering round the heart to a rapid pounding that almost makes the victim fear that the heart is trying to escape from the body. There is also a pronounced throbbing of the arteries. The sufferer must learn that palpitation, although unpleasant, is not dangerous and must be willing to go slowly for a time, to take only moderate exercise and to avoid stimulants and all articles of food that tend to cause flatulent dyspepsia.

Deep Doings.

"What's ailing Mr. Trout?" "He suffers from sunstroke." "Go on! Whoever heard of a fish with a sunstroke?" "Well, you see, it was a sunfish that bumped into him."—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Stubborn labor conquers everything.—Virgil.

"Blue" Feeling

When you feel discouraged and all the world seems to be against you—that's your system's way of telegraphing you that something is WRONG and needs HELP.

It may be that your liver is tired and refuses to work, or your digestive organs have had too much to do and need care. Perhaps you have been eating the wrong kind of food, and your blood is too rich or impoverished. What you need is a tonic.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

will give the required aid. Tones the entire system. The weak stomach is made strong. The liver vibrates with new life. The blood is cleansed of all impurities and carries renewed health to every vein and nerve and muscle and organ of the body. No more attacks of the "blues." Life becomes worth while again, and hope takes place of despair.

Insist on getting Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Sold by dealers in medicines.

President, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Studebaker and White Automobiles and Trucks

Cars on hand for immediate delivery. Bargains on used cars.

C. A. OLSON, Agent

513 South 7th St.

Telephone 236 J

THOUGH YOU ESCAPE WITH YOUR LIFE

If fire occurs at your place, you will not find it sweet if the flames leave you penniless. All your remaining days will be filled with regret that you hadn't taken out insurance when you could. Fire is just as likely to happen to you as to anybody else. Be wise and have us insure you today. Then fire will not spell ruin for you.

J. R. SMITH, Agent
Telephone 174
Sleeper

Hunting Season is Here

We have still a complete stock of guns and ammunition to select from. We will either sell you a gun or you can RENT it. Complete stock of flashlights for the dark night coming home. No trouble to show you. Open Nights.

RANSFORD BILLIARD PARLOR

S. P. Coffrain Open Nights GEO. W. HESS

Once More

The Hunting Season Is Here WHITE BROS.

Have a larger and better stock of Guns and Ammunition than we ever had before. 125,000 loaded shells. A complete line of shells of all sizes.

Over 300 Guns

Come where you have the largest and most complete line of sporting goods north of the cities to pick from.

Telephone 57.

616 Laurel St.

Railroad Time Table And Business Directory

RESTAURANT & LUNCH COUNTER

At Earl Hotel. Conducted by Mrs. Joe Belliveau. All home cooking. Prompt Service

78-1mo

THE MYHRA MUSIC HOUSE

Pianos, Organs, Sheets Music, Etc. Citizens State Bank Bldg.

53-1m

THE ZENITH

Dry Cleaners, dyers and pressers. Furs remodeled and repaired. Alterations of all kinds neatly done. 306 South Broadway Tel 534

52-1m

L. W. SHERIUND CO.

Plumbing and Heating Waterworks and Sewers 312-314 South Sixth St.

HITCH FUEL & CEMENT CO.

The best of everything in our line. Green Stamps With Cash Sales Phone 26-W 310 S. 6th St.

MISS EIDAM

From Minneapolis, 18 years experience in dressmaking—All kinds of dresses. Phone 689-W 1013 Kingwood St.

Brainerd Dispatch Time Card

N. P. Railroad Co.

Depot Corner 6th and Main Sts.

EAST BOUND	Arrive	Depart
To Duluth	4:00 a. m.	4:10 a. m.
To Deerwood, Aitkin and Ironton	8:00 a. m.	8:05 a. m.
To Duluth	2:27 p. m.	2:35 p. m.
Two Ports Limited to Duluth	7:47 p. m.	7:50 p. m.

SOUTH BOUND	To St. Paul	To St. Paul
	3:10 a. m.	3:40 a. m.
	5:45 a. m.
	11:50 a. m.	1:05 p. m.

WEST BOUND	Staples and West	Staples and West	Twin Ports Limited to Coast
	12:02 a. m.	12:15 a. m.
	11:58 a. m.	12:05 p. m.
	1:47 p. m.	1:50 p. m.

M. & I. Railroad Co.

Depot Corner 6th and Main Sts.

NORTH BOUND	To Int. Falls	To Kallier
	12:10 a. m.	12:35 a. m.
	1:50 p. m.	2:25 p. m.

K. A. GUSTAFSON Groceries and Confectionery Enter and Eggs Bought AT THE FILLING STATION Groceries Delivered to Any Part of Town 1626 Oak Street Southeast. 77-1m

BRAINERD CAFE

One Block from the Depot QUICK SERVICE Open Day and Night 624 Front Street 71-1m

D. E. WHITNEY

FUNERAL DIRECTOR 710 Front Street 71-1m